Project AngelBook – Volume X – Parts 1–36

By Ezekiel Redik Yarbrough

This volume is not made up of my own words. There is no original commentary

here, no narrative, no analysis. This is simply me copying and pasting large chunks of text from my bookmarks—pages that were easy to extract, with no

hyperlinks or formatting issues, saved from open tabs and archived corners of the web.

It's messy. It's unfiltered. It's chaotic. But it's valuable.

Each piece inside this volume was bookmarked for a reason. Not always because I agreed with it, but because it felt like a fragment of something larger—an insight, a worldview, a download. This is source material, plain and raw.

Fragmenta Ex Machina isn't about authorship. It's about preservation and system-building. It's about feeding the machine—laying bricks for

Operating System I'm constructing across these books. This is the phase. The memory dump. The zero layer.

Later volumes will be cleaner, more refined, more structured. But this? This is the foundation. The ether stream, bound and frozen before it vanished.

So if you're looking for polished prose, skip this one. But if you're here to explore the roots of something much bigger, this is where the signal begins.

Welcome to the fragments.

those soviet countries may still have these remains who knows, theres a 7 foot 2 skeleton of a woman dating to 2000 BC on display at the ganja state history-ethnography museum in azerbaijan which theres also images of online, the skeleton doesnt look like it has acromegaly in my opinion since the long bones look robustly developed, another reason being the skull and teeth look normally developed and not like that of a person who has acromegaly, although unless there is a study done on it which assesses whether it has acromegaly or not, I cant say for certain. I think this proves that some of the thousands of those old 7-8 foot claim news reports up until the 1950s could very well be real

Index of Cults and Religions

By the Staff of Watchman Fellowship, Inc.

Introduction

This Index contains brief definitions, descriptions or cross references on over 1,200 religious organizations and beliefs, as well as world religions (including Christianity) and related doctrines. Watchman Fellowship is a Christian apologetics and discernment ministry; thus, many references ("Jesus," "Gospel," "Christianity," etc.) contain definitions that reflect the beliefs of Watchman's staff. While Watchman Fellowship does not hold to the beliefs of non-Christian religions and doctrines, we also attempt to describe these beliefs factually, fairly and accurately. Readers are asked to assist in this effort by suggesting corrections or improvements.

This is by no means a complete list of cults and religions. Watchman Fellowship maintains over 10,000 files and a research library of over 25,000 books and periodicals on religions, cults, new religious movements and related teachings. The absence of a religious movement from this index does not mean that Watchman Fellowship endorses the organization.

How To Use This Index

Begin your search by clicking on the highlighted letter below that is the first letter of the term for which you are searching (or, if your browser will do so, perform a word search for the term). If the term is listed, it will be followed by a brief definition. Most of these definitions contain highlighted words that are linked to the definitions for those words; clicking on the highlighted word will take you directly to that definition.

A B C D E F G H I J K L M N O P Q R S T U V W X Y Z

Some Definitions

By using the terms "cult," "occult," and "New Age," Watchman Fellowship is in no way implying that the followers or leaders are necessarily evil or immoral people. It simply means that such groups seem to promote doctrine or practices which may be considered outside the realm of historic Christianity.

Cult

By its primary dictionary definition, the term cult just means a system of religious beliefs or rituals. It is based on a farming term in Latin meaning cultivation. Sociologists and anthropologists sometimes use the term cult to describe religious structure or belief patterns with meanings (usually non-pejorative) unique to their disciplines. In modern usage, the term cult is often used by the general public to describe any religious group they view as strange or dangerous. Thus, cult can describe religious leaders or organizations that employ abusive, manipulative, or illegal control over their followers' lives. In addition to these usages, Christians generally have a doctrinal component to their use of the word. Cult in this sense, is a counterfeit or serious deviation from the doctrines of classical Christianity. Watchman Fellowship usually uses the term cult with a Christian or doctrinal definition in mind. In most cases the group claims to be Christian, but because of their aberrant beliefs on central doctrines of the faith (God, Jesus, and salvation), the organization is not considered by Watchman Fellowship to be part of orthodox, biblical Christianity. Research material and Profile are available.

Occult

The term, "occult" comes from the Latin occultus or "hidden."

Generally the word is used of secret or mysterious supernatural powers or magical, religious rituals. The word "occult" in this publication is used to describe any attempt to gain supernatural power or knowledge apart from the God of the Bible. Generally it refers to witchcraft, satanism, neo-paganism, or various forms of Psychic discernment (astrology, seances, palm reading, etc.). Research material available.

New Age

New Age is a recent and developing belief system in North America encompassing thousands of autonomous (and sometime contradictory) beliefs, organizations, and events. Generally the New Age borrows its theology from pantheistic Eastern religions and its practices from 19th century Western occultism. The term "New Age" is used herein as an umbrella term to describe organizations which seem to exhibit one or more of the following beliefs: (1) All is one, all reality is part of the whole; (2) Everything is God and God is everything; (3) Man is God or a part of God; (4) Man never dies, but continues to live through reincarnation; (5) Man can create his own reality and/or values through transformed consciousness or altered states of consciousness. Research material and Profile are available.

7 Habits of Highly Effective People: A book by Stephen Covey.

Aaronic Order, Maurice Glendenning, Murry, UT: Splinter group from The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (LDS), founded in 1942 by Glendenning after he was excommunicated by the LDS Church for receiving and publishing revelations later known as the Levitical Writings.

Abaddon: (Hebrew for "The Destroyer"; in Greek, Apollyon) A demon described in the Bible as "the angel of the bottomless pit" (Revelation 9:11).

Abbey of Thelema, Old Greenwich, CT: Esoteric magic, teachings of Aleister Crowley.

Abode of the Message, Pir Vilayat Inayat Khan, New Lebanon, NY: Sufism, alchemy, dowsing, meditation to lead to "inner attunement," Native American spirituality, sweat lodge.

Academy for Guided Imagery, Martin L. Rossman & David E. Bresler, Mill Valley, CA: Healing by altered states of consciousness, imagery training (i.e., visualization), hypnosis and magic.

Academy of Religion and Psychical Research, Evanston, IL: Organization founded in 1956 to explore psychic occurrences and metaphysical experiences while evaluating the growing interest in occult phenomena in Christian churches. See Spiritual Frontiers Fellowship, Spiritualism, Divination.

Actualism: New Age teaching based on panentheism, according to which all human beings possess the divine Christ-consciousness and are united with the Mother-Father-Creator God.

Acupressure: See Acupuncture.

Acupuncture: Chinese system of healing using needles or hand pressure (acupressure) applied to certain points on the body, traditionally believed to balance the yin and yang energies in the body by opening blocked meridians (apexes in the pathways). Once the chakras (key points or intersections) are open, the chi, or energy, supposedly can then flow through the body bringing all things into harmony. While some limited physical effects (mostly anesthetic) can be attributed to this practice, these effects have scientific, physiological explanations totally unrelated to the mystical explanation, which derives from Taoism. See Holistic Health. Profile available.

Adams, Dennis, Mt. Shasta, CA: New Age, man is God.

Adelphi Organization, Dallas, TX: New Age teachings on Atlantis, karma, seven planes of existence. See Stelle Group.

Adeptco, Chuck McDonald, Omaha, NE: Yoga, crystals, reincarnation, karma and Kabbalah teachings.

Advanced Organization of Los Angeles (AOLA): Promotes Scientology philosophy.

Advanced Systems, Inc.: See Zen Master Rama.

Adventism: Widespread trans-denominational movement inspired by William Miller's prediction that Jesus' "advent" (return) would take place in 1844. Even after the Great Disappointment (the date's failure), many people in the movement continued to believe. Some suggested revised chronologies and new dates, eventually forming groups such as the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society. Others, notably Hiram Edson and Ellen G. White, suggested that the 1844 date was accurate but that a heavenly (thus invisible) event had taken place. Their teachings became the basis of Seventh-day Adventism, which eventually spawned its own offshoots, including Armstrongism and the Branch Davidians.

Aesthetic Realism Foundation, Eli Seigel, New York: Happiness can be achieved through the harmony of opposites, e.g., realizing and accepting that the world is both beautiful and horrific (see Taoism). Educators have criticized the Foundation after public school teachers in New York introduced the philosophy into high school English, biology, and art courses.

Aetherius Society, Sir George King: Clairvoyance, karma, reincarnation, psychometry, Great White Brotherhood, UFOs, alchemy, occult secrets of Jesus, mantras.

Affective Education: Also called value-free, or non-directive, education. Influenced by the philosophy of Carl Rogers, affective education programs attempt to facilitate the emotional development of children in order to enhance the learning process, particularly focusing on self-esteem. This contrasts with traditional educational paradigms that focus on cognitive, or intellectual, practices such as reading, writing, and arithmetic. Affective education has become particularly influential in drug awareness programs for youth.

Agasha Temple of Wisdom, William Eisen, Los Angeles, CA: Universal consciousness of god, reincarnation, occult pyramidology, Ascended Masters.

Agnosticism: The claim (denied by Romans 1:18–20) that one has no knowledge of God or the origin of the universe. Some agnostics make the claim on a personal level, while allowing that such knowledge may exist but has never been known by themselves. Others assert that such knowledge cannot be had by anyone. Agnostics avoid the charge of dogmatic atheism by acknowledging the theoretical possibility of God's existence. Yet virtually all live as if the non-existence of God was an established fact, and are thus practical atheists.

Agon Buddhism: Sect of Buddhism. Uses the Agon Sutras as scriptures.

Agyeman, Jaramogi Abebe: See Pan African Orthodox Christian Church.

Ahabah Asah Prophetic Ministries: See Gatekeepers.

Ahmadiyya Movement: Sect of Islam following the teachings of Ahmad (1835-1908), an Indian Muslim; most followers in the US are black, Indian, or Pakistani.

AION: Magic, runes, goddess worship.

Akashic Records: Term used in theosophy designating an alleged library that exists on the astral plane containing all the thoughts, actions, and events of mankind. Mystics, through altered states of consciousness, tune into this library for information.

Alamo Christian Foundation: Tony Alamo, leader of this group, has been imprisoned by authorities for alleged illegal activities. Teaches traditional Christianity is dead. Former followers have reported deplorable living conditions, mind control, and slave labor. Operates Music Square Church in TN, Holiness Tabernacle in Dyer, AR, and End Times Book is the publishing arm.

Alan Shawn Feinstein Association, Cranston, RI: UFOs, contactee.

Alchemy: In its original, literal meaning, theories and experiments involving the transmutation (dissolving and combining) of base metals to form gold through chemical and/or supernatural processes. Today, it carries the meaning of a mystical transformation in New Age consciousness through various mystical techniques.

Aleph: New name adopted by Japanese doomsday-cult Aum Shinri Kyo January 18, 2000.

Aleph: Alliance for Jewish Renewal, Rabbi Zalman Schachter-Shalomi, Philadelphia, PA: Combines Chassidic Judaism, Native American spirituality, Eastern mysticism, A Course in Miracles, and New Age practices. Emphasizes combining syncretistic spirituality and psychology.

Aletheia Psycho-Physical Foundation, Jack Schwarz, Ashland, OR: New Age seminars on the inner-self, paraconsciousness, meditation and visualization.

All-One-God-Faith, Emanuel H. Bronner, Escondido, CA: Sells Dr. Bronner's Magic Soap, which claims to clean both body and soul. The soap is widely available in health-food stores. Teaches (like Process Theology) that God is continually recreating Himself. God desires all nations and religions to unite in an "All-One-God-Faith" on Spaceship Earth. This unification will come about through following 13 precepts and 20 directives revealed to Bronner by God.

All Souls Unitarian Church, John Wolf, Tulsa, OK: See Unitarian-Universalist Association for similar theological perspective.

All Ways Free, Madison, WI: New Age periodical.

Allegro, John: Wrote The Sacred Mushroom and the Cross.

Alphabiotic New Life Center, Dallas, TX: New Age seminars on one's divine being, Ramtha, yoga and channeling.

Alphasonic International, Los Angeles, CA: Company specializing in tapes with subliminal messages.

Altered States of Consciousness: Trances entered through hypnosis, meditation, drugs (including hallucinogenics), visualization, etc. State of being in which one allows the subconscious to take control and guide. May heighten one's vulnerability to suggestion or susceptibility to deception.

Alternative Medicine: See Holistic Health.

Amalgamated Flying Saucer Clubs of America: See Mon-Ka Retreat...

Ambassador University, Big Sandy, TX: Now defunct Liberal arts and religious institution founded by Herbert Armstrong. See Armstrongism.

Ambassadors For Christ, Tustin, CA: See Watchtower Bible and Tract Society for similar theological perspective.

Ameba, San Francisco, CA: Paganism, promotes the teachings of Aleister Crowley, Celtic rituals.

American Academy of Dissident Sciences, Culver City, CA: Studying a wide array of conspiracy theories, the Academy focuses on UFOs and the Illuminati.

American Association of Ayurvedic Medicine, Fairfield, IA: Holistic health association founded by Deepak Chopra while he followed the Maharishi Mahesh Yogi (see Ayurvedic medicine; Transcendental Meditation).

American Atheists, Inc., Madalyn Murray-O'Hair, Austin, TX: Advocates strict separation of church and state, and actively opposes Christian influence on society. O'Hair and two children disappeared in 1994 with a sizeable portion of the organization's assets. It is now believed they were murdered. Publishes American Atheist magazine.

American Babaji Yoga Sangam, New York, NY: Hinduism-based philosophy, yoga.

American Constitution Committee: Political organization of the Unification Church.

American Fellowship Services: Splinter group of The Way International.

American Foundation for the Science of Creative Intelligence: A branch of Transcendental Meditation.

American Gnostic Church, Daeva Ares Animo: Paganism, Kabbalah rituals, Egyptian magic, Satanism rituals of Anton LaVey, Gnostic Mass.

American Holistic Nurses Association, Amherst, MA: Trains medical nurses to use therapeutic touch and meditation with patients.

American Imagery Institute, Milwaukee, WI: New Age teachings on visualization, astral projection.

American Leadership College, Inc. Osceola, IA: New Age/occult teachings on trance healings, mediumship, self-realization dreams.

American Pie and the Armageddon Bible Prophecy Home Page: The pop song American Pie, which prophesies the destruction of America, was foretold in the Song of Moses in Deuteronomy 32. See Apocalypse.

American Society for Psychical Research, Simon Newcomb, New York, NY: ESP, out-of-body experiences, mediums, parapsychology, psychokinesis.

American Study Group, UT: Defunct splinter group from The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (LDS) that used the Book of Mormon and the teachings of LDS leaders to speculate on end-time events.

American Temple, Michael Whitney, Portland, OR: A "fourth wave" esoteric and mystical order led by "Patriarch" Michael Whitney reviving the doctrines of the now defunct Holy Order of MANS.

American West Publishers, Tehachapi, CA: UFOs, cosmic laws of balance. Publishes the Phoenix Journal.

American Zen Center: Zen Buddhism, shamanism, Sufism.

AMOM: See Ancient Mystic Order of Malchizedek.

AMOOKOS: Occult, magic, some Hinduism, man is already a master.

AMORC: See Rosicrucian Order.

Ananda Marga, Denver, CO: Philosophy and deities of Hinduism, teaches meditation and yoga.

Anchor of Golden Light, Dorothy and Henry Leon, Grants Pass, OR: UFOs, Ascended Masters, Kabbalah mysticism, alchemy, numerology. Publishes the Anchor of Golden Light newsletter.

Ancient Mystic Order of Malchizedek, Malachi Z. York, Eatonton, GA: Also known as AMOM, Nuwaubians, the Nubian Nation of Moors, Right Knowledge. A UFO group whose leader, (a.k.a. Dwight York) claims to be from the 19th galaxy, called Illyuwn. A 1993 FBI report calls the group a "front for a wide range of criminal activity, including arson, welfare fraud and extortion." York's group has also operated under other names and organizations including the Nubian Islaamic [sic] Hebrew Mission, the Ansaaru Allah Community, (an Islamic sect with doctrines similar to Nation of Islam), and the Original Tents of Kedar.

Ancient Wisdom Connection, N. Myrtle Beach, SC: New Age channeling, numerology and belief in "Lord Sananda," who is an incarnation of Jesus.

Angels: Supernatural, non-human beings created by God. Angels worship God and serve as His messengers. The angels who followed Satan and rebelled against God are called demons.

Anglo-Israelism: See British Israelism.

Animal Magnetism: See Mesmerism.

Animism: The idea that all things in the universe are inherently invested with a life force, soul, or mind. This belief is an important component of many primitive religions, the occult, and spiritism.

Annihilationism: Taught by most Adventist groups, including the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, this doctrine denies the conscious, eternal punishment of the lost. Instead, humans who do not receive eternal life will be destroyed and cease to exist.

Anointed Class: See Little Flock.

Answers Research and Education, Bud Cocherell, San Jose, CA: Man's destiny is to become a God, keep Old Testament festivals.

Anthropomancy: A form of divination based on psychic readings of the entrails of a human who has been ritualistically sacrificed.

Anthroposophic Society, Rudolf Steiner, Hudson, NY: Similar to the Chicago organization (below), possibly affiliated.

Anthroposophical Society, Rudolf Steiner, Chicago, IL: Occult, related to Theosophy; teachings on karma, meditation, Atlantis and reincarnation.

Apocalypse: Also called Armageddon. From the Greek word apokalypsis, meaning "revelation, disclosure, or unveiling," the term apocalypse refers in the Bible to the summation of human history through God's direct judgment upon the world. Central in biblical apocalyptic literature is the Revelation to John (sometimes called The Apocalypse). A common feature of many pseudo-Christian groups is their attempts to predict the date of the apocalypse. For examples of groups that have falsely predicted the apocalypse, see Church of the Living Stone Mission for the Coming Days, Adventism, Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

Apostasy: From the Greek word apostasis, meaning "rebellion," and the Latin word apostasia, meaning "abandonment," the term apostasy refers to a renunciation of the Christian faith. The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society applies the label apostate to former Jehovah's Witnesses, who are then shunned by all Witnesses in good standing.

Apostle: From the Greek word apostolos, meaning "messenger," the term apostle refers to those leaders of the early Christian church who were chosen by Jesus. The criteria for being an apostle was 1) the individual was personally chosen by Christ; and 2) the individual must have personally seen Christ. Members of the top two quorums of leadership in The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints claim the title today.

Apostolic Churches: A branch of Pentecostalism including several denominations as well as independent churches with the name "Apostolic"; many (but not all) Apostolic churches adhere to Oneness Pentecostalism.

Apostolic Overcoming Holiness of God, Inc., Birmingham, AL: Pentecostal church, stresses the oneness of God while accepting the Triune Being of the Godhead. Salvation depends upon baptism, tarrying to receive the Holy Spirit, and holiness. Publishes The People's Mouthpiece magazine.

Apostolic United Brethren: See Corporation of the Presiding Elder of the Apostolic United Brethren.

Applewhite, Marshall: See Heaven's Gate.

Applied Kinesiology: New Age diagnostic technique sometimes called "muscle testing." Often patients hold health care products (vitamins, herbs, etc) in their hand while the practitioner pulls or "tests" the reciprocal strength in the finger, arm, etc. to determine the effectiveness or dosage of the remedy. See Holistic Health.

Aquarian Academy, Robert E. Birdsong, Eureka, CA: Jesus only an avatar of the Cosmic Christ, of the Great White Brotherhood of Light. Man's purpose is to reach the transcendental plane, release from the wheel of fate, astral projection, meditation, cosmic truths.

Aquarian Age Teaching, Ruby Focus, Sedona, AZ: Discover the God within, the Father-Mother god, Atlantis, Christ-consciousness.

Aquarian Church of Universal Service, Paul Shockley, Portland, OR: Teaches cosmic awareness but with no specific doctrine. Similar to Unitarian-Universalist.

The Aquarian Conspiracy, Marilyn Ferguson: A book documenting and advocating the widespread growth of the New Age movement.

Aquarian Educational Group, Torkom Saraydarian, Sedona, AZ: Astrology, moon

Aquarian Foundation, Keith Milton Rhinehart, Seattle, WA: Universalism, yoga, spiritism, Theosophy-based philosophy.

Aquarian Gospel of Jesus Christ: Book written by Levi H. Dowling, a New Age, apocryphal story supposedly based on the Akashic Records.

Aquarian Minyan, Berkeley, CA: Jewish group, yoga, mysticism.

Aquarian Perspectives Inter Planetary Mission, Montgomery, AL: UFO group, receives messages from Futron and the Rainbow Star Legionnaires.

Aquarian Tabernacle Church, Index, WA: Paganism, worship of Mother Earth, goddess worship, sun and moon festival, magic. Publishes the Panegyria newsletter.

Arcana Workshop, Manhattan Beach, CA: Meditation, Great Invocation, moon festivals. Based on the teachings of Alice Bailey (see Arcane School). Publishes the Thoughtline newsletter.

Arcane School, Alice Bailey: Occult, esoteric teachings, connected with Lucis Trust, formerly Lucifer Trust. Similar to Theosophy.

Arefu: Company created and owned by Japanese doomsday-cult Aum Shinri Kyo for real estate brokering, financing and seminars. On January 18, 2000, the cult announced it was also changing its own name to Arefu (Aleph, in English).

Arete Truth Center, Paul Lachlan Peck, Las Vegas, NV: New Age, metaphysics, teaches balancing the body, mind and spirit.

Arguelles, Jose: New Ager who staged the Harmonic Convergence.

Arizona Light, Phoenix, AZ: New Age periodical.

Arizona Metaphysical Society, Frank Alper, Phoenix, AZ: New Age seminars on rebirthing, astral projection, channeling, karma, reincarnation, and crystals.

Arizona Network News, Scottsdale, AZ: New Age periodical.

Arm of the Lord, Warren, OH: Teaches that it is a satanic idea to invite Jesus into "one's life."

Armageddon Time Ark Base Operation, O.T. Nodrog, Weslaco, TX: UFO group, channels messages from outer dimensional forces.

Armstrong, Garner Ted: Son of Herbert W. Armstrong who formed his own rival Armstrongism splinter group, the Garner Ted Armstrong Evangelistic Association. See Church of God, International.

Armstrong, Herbert W.: See Armstrongism, Worldwide Church of God.

Armstrongism: The doctrines and religious movement originating with Herbert W. Armstrong (1892-1986), who founded the Worldwide Church of God (WCG). Armstrong rejected such essential doctrines of evangelical Christianity as the Trinity, the full deity of Jesus Christ, and the personality of the Holy Spirit. Armstrong taught British Israelism and believed that worthy humans could eventually "become God as God is God." Teaches salvation by works predicated on Sabbatarianism, tithing (20-30%), and keeping the Old Testament feast days and dietary laws. Under the leadership of Armstrong's successors, Joseph W. Tkach and his son Joe Tkach, the WCG has undergone a radical doctrinal transformation. Scores of splinter groups, such as the Global Church of God and the United Church of God, continue to teach various forms of Armstrongism.

Arn Draiocht Fein, P.E.I. Bonewits, Nyack, NY: Paganism, Druids, polytheism, nature worship. Publishes News from the Mother Grove newsletter.

Aromatherapy: Holistic health practice of seeking to heal certain diseases or illnesses by inhaling scented steam or fragrances.

Aromatherapy Seminars, Los Angeles, CA: Holistic Healing therapy, oils healing the psyche. See Aromatherapy.

Arunachala Ashram, Bhagavan Sri Ramana: Hinduism-based philosophy, also called Maharshi Center, Inc.

Aryan Nations Church, Hayden Lake, ID: A neo-Nazi paramilitary organization in the Christian Identity movement that preaches against all non-Caucasian groups. The Order, an Aryan Nations break-off group, killed Alan Berg, a Jewish radio personality in Denver, in 1984. The Aryan Nations received national notice in 1992 when the wife of member Randy Weaver was killed in a shootout with the FBI in Ruby Ridge, ID.

As It Is: See Process Church of the Final Judgement.

Asatru Free Assembly, Denair, CA: Paganism, worships Odin as Father-god, Frigga as Mother-god and Nerthus as Mother-Earth. Publishes The Runestone newsletter.

Ascended Master Teaching Foundation, Mt. Shasta, CA: Occult, part of the I AM movement, Great White Brotherhood, similar to Theosophy.

Ascended Masters: Sometimes called the Great White Brotherhood. Occult, New Age belief in alleged teachers or masters who live on an astral plane as non-physical entities beyond time and space. They can supposedly communicate spiritual truths to humans through channeling or other occult techniques. Membership includes Jesus, Buddha, St. Germain (see I AM movement), Ramtha (see Knight, J. Z.), Mafu (see Torres, Penny), Seth (see Roberts, Jane), and others.

Ascended Masters School of Light, Toni Moltzan, Carrollton, TX: New Age, channeling, Ascended Masters including Jesus, universal consciousness.

Ascension Week Enterprises, Santa Fe, NM: New Age, Channeling, reaching out to children with New Age programs.

ASCENT Foundation, Larry Jensen, Sedona, AZ: New Age enlightenment, similar to Silva Mind Control, est, and Lifespring.

Asheville Meditation Center, Asheville, NC: New Age, achieving man's divine nature, transcendence.

Assemblies of the Called Out Ones of "Yah," Sam Surratt, Milan, TX: Sacred Name movement.

Assemblies of Yahweh (7th day), Cisco, TX: See Sacred Name movement.

Assembly of Scientific Astrologers, George Cardinal, LeGrosoplin, MO: Esoteric astrology, karma and reincarnation.

Assembly of Yahweh, Holt, MI: Founded in 1930, perhaps the oldest of the Sacred Name groups in America. Sabbatarianism. Publishes The Faith.

Assembly of YHW Yoshua, Pueblo, CO: Sacred Name movement.

Associated Readers of Tarot International, Carbondale, IL: Tarot form of divination, Celtic rituals.

Associates for Scriptural Knowledge, Ernest L. Martin, Portland, OR: Anti-denominational group whose Associates study doctrine through a Home Study Course. Teaches universalism, i.e., that all people will be saved (although not all will experience the first resurrection and live in Christ's millennial kingdom), and the Sacred Name doctrine (Martin claims that the name Yahweh was removed from the Bible by Jerome). Martin was fired by the Foundation for Biblical Research (an Armstrongism splinter group in Alhambra, CA) in 1984 for espousing these doctrines. Publishes a "restored" Bible called The Manuscript Version of the Bible, and The ASK Communicator.

Association for Christian Development, Kenneth Westby Auburn, WA: Armstrongism splinter group.

Association for Past-Life Research and Therapies, Inc. Riverside, CA: New Age, reincarnation and astrology.

Association for Research and Enlightenment (A.R.E.), Edgar Cayce, Virginia Beach, VA: Pantheism, trance medium (or channeling), life readings, reincarnation.

Association for the Understanding of Man, Austin, TX: New Age, channeling, psychic reading, altered states of consciousness.

Association of Unity Churches: The denominational structure affiliated with the Unity School of Christianity.

Association Sananda & Sanat Kumara, Mt. Shasta, CA: New Age, channeling Christ-consciousness teachings.

Astara, Robert & Evelyn Chaney: New Age, spiritism, yoga. Publishes Voice of Astara.

Astral Projection: New Age/occult doctrine teaching methods to induce an out of body experience (OBE), in which one's soul (i.e., astral body) departs the physical body, travels to various parts of the universe, then re-enters the body. Usually a "cord" is said to connect the soul and body at all times. Also called astral travel.

Astro Computing Services, San Diego, CA: Astrology.

Astrology: An ancient fatalistic system of divination using the position of the planets, moon and sun in the twelve Zodiac positions at the moment of one's birth to gain occult or hidden knowledge of the future. Profile available.

Astrology and Psychic News, N. Hollywood, CA: New Age periodical.

Atheism: The assertion, to be taken on faith, that there is no God. Some atheists, such as Madalyn Murray-O'Hair, have fought to prevent any recognition of God in public life. See American Atheists, Inc.

Atlantic Pagan Council: Association of East Coast pagan covens, magic, moon festivals, paganism. Publishes the Atlantic Pagan Council Amateur Publishers' Association newsletter.

Atlantis: A mythical island/continent said to have sunk beneath the ocean. Purported to have been a highly advanced civilization. New Agers often claim to have recovered lost mystical wisdom and knowledge from Atlantis, sometimes through channeling.

Atman: A term used in Hinduism referring to the eternal or real self and sometimes referring to the principle of life in all things.

At-one-ment: Term used by several Mind Science or New Thought religions (such as Christian Science) referring to the supposed metaphysical unity or "oneness" of human beings and God as demonstrated by Christ. Contrast the Christian term "atonement," which refers to Christ's death on the cross as the means by which he reconciled sinful human beings to God.

Aum Shinri Kyo, Shoko Asahara, Tokyo, Japan: Aum (a mantra) Shinri Kyo (Supreme Truth) is the apocalyptic Buddhist sect suspected in the 1995 subway nerve gas murders in Japan. Police raiding cult compounds discovered stockpiles of nerve gas and the basic ingredients of biological warfare. Sect leaders have been charged with abduction and "murder preparation." Aum leader, Chizuo Matsumoto (now called Shoko Asahara), predicted the end of the world between 1997 and 2000. The Dalai Lama, the leader of Tibetan Buddhism, has denied Aum claims that Asahara was ever his disciple. The sect has about $29 million in assets and 10,000 disciples in Japan and 30,000 in Russia. The sect has followers in other countries including the U.S. and Australia. On January 18, 2000, the cult announced it was changing its name to Arefu (Aleph, in English). Profile available.

Aum Supreme Truth: See Aum Shinri Kyo.

Aura: A subtle light or energy field said to surround people or objects. Mystics explain that from the color of the aura, a person's emotional and intellectual moods can be determined.

Bahá'í Faith, The, Bahá'u'lláh: A sect of Islam evolving into a major independent religion with approximately five million believers worldwide. Buddha, Jesus, Muhammad, Bahá'u'lláh and others are viewed as a succession of divine messengers. A 19th century Persian teacher, the Báb, (or "Gate") predicted Bahá'u'lláh's coming. Bahá'í-advocates a new global order of sexual equality, a one-world economic system to eliminate poverty, and a one-world religion. Profile available.

Bailey, Alice: Founder of the Arcane School. Profile available.

Baphomet: The Goat God, also called the Sabbath Goat, the Great God Pan, Abraxas, Thanateros, or the Horned God. Often used as a symbol of Satan, especially in Satanism, and depicted as a Goat's Head symbol, an upside down five-pointed star (cf. pentagram), or a man with horns and goat-legs.

Baptism for the Dead: Practice of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (LDS) whereby living members are baptized by proxy for people who have died without knowing the LDS Gospel. If these dead persons then accept the LDS gospel while in Spirit Prison, they can potentially attain full salvation or godhood (exaltation). This ceremony is performed only in an LDS Temple. See Baptismal Regeneration.

Baptismal Regeneration: The belief that regeneration (i.e., the new birth), and therefore salvation or eternal life, is conditioned upon water baptism. Most groups teaching this doctrine also add that proper mode (immersion or sprinkling) and/or proper minister (one authorized by the organization) is necessary. All Christians should be baptized (Matthew 28:19). The teaching that baptism is a prerequisite for salvation, however, is considered by many evangelicals to be a heretical compromise of the biblical gospel of salvation by grace alone (Ephesians 2:8-10). The extreme version of baptismal regeneration, which denies the salvation even of baptized Christians outside some particular church group, is clearly heretical. See Salvation by Works, Salvation by Grace, Gospel.

Bear Tribe Medicine Society, Spokane, WA: Native American spirituality, Mother Earth, medicine wheel, moon ceremonies.

The Beatles: A highly influential rock-and-roll group from the 1960s. In 1966 they became involved in Transcendental Meditation; later both John Lennon and George Harrison repudiated TM. Harrison then became a devotee of ISKCON and recorded his hit single "My Sweet Lord" as a devotion to Lord Krishna. The Beatles are widely credited with increasing the popularity of Eastern religions in the United States.

Believers International, Tucson, AZ: Compiling a compendium of all of William Branham's teachings. Publishes Believer's News.

Bell, Art: Popular late-night radio talk show host. While his Coast to Coast weeknight broadcast and Dreamland weekend broadcast focus on a wide array of New Age and occult issues, as well as many conspiracy theories, one of the most common subjects discussed by guests on the program is UFOs.

Beltane: Occult, Celtic holiday, also called Walpurgisnacht, celebrated on the night of April 30. Celts are alleged to have conducted fertility rituals and human sacrifice.

Bermuda Triangle: Geographically, the Triangle composes the southwestern quadrant of the North Atlantic, with apexes in Bermuda, Puerto Rico, and in the Gulf of Mexico west of Florida. Some people involved in the occult and UFO studies believe the Triangle is a supernaturally dangerous area, with many ships and airplanes disappearing in the Triangle in the 20th century.

Bernard, David: A well-known Oneness Pentecostal writer and speaker.

Besant, Annie: Successor to Madame Blavatsky (founder of Theosophy) who proclaimed Krishnamurti as the Messiah. (Krishnamurti later renounced that role).

Bet Hashem – The House of YHWH, New Haven, IN: Sacred Name, man is the offspring of light, conversion is the union with the light.

Beth El Shaddai, Dick Amos, Plano, TX: Dual Covenant doctrine, denies Jesus is God.

Beth HaShem, Jacob Hawkins, Odessa, TX: Sacred name, Sabbatarianism, keeps Old Testament feasts and laws for salvation. Publishes The Prophetic Watchman newsletter.

Bhagavad-Gita: Meaning "Song of the Lord," this scripture is used in Hinduism and ISKCON.

Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh: Though this Indian guru is deceased, many followers still practice his unique form of Hindu philosophy and sexual yoga system to gain enlightenment.

Bhakti Yoga: Type of yoga or spiritual exercise involving devotion to a guru.

Bible: Considered scripture by Christianity. Consists of the Jewish scriptures (Old Testament) and the Christian scriptures (New Testament).

Bible Believers, Inc.: See Branham, William.

Bible Code, Michael Drosnin: Bestselling 1997 book teaches that prophecies are hidden in a complex network of letters and words within the Old Testament. Drosnin claims that he attempted to warn Israeli leader Yitzak Rabin of his impending assassination based on a prediction in the biblical code. The theory is a form of numerology and has some associations with the Jewish occultism of the Kabbalah.

Bible Speaks, The: Former name of Greater Grace World Outreach.

Bible Students: Various semiautonomous groups that broke away from the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society after Joseph Rutherford took control of the organization. Reprints the early writings of Watchtower founder Charles Taze Russell including Divine Plan of the Ages. Groups across the country go under various names (e.g., Fort Worth Bible Students, Chicago Bible Students, etc.).

Bible Talks: Home and campus group studies sponsored by the International Churches of Christ.

Bioenergy: New Age practice of healing. Balances the life-energy by opening blocked meridians (see acupuncture).

BioEnergetic Synchronization Techniques: New Age method using the body's life force to heal itself.

Biofeedback: The use of EEG (electroencephalographic) feedback instruments to monitor brain waves and skin resistance with the goal of modification of brain waves. Participants can learn to control heart rates or generate brain wave activity (alpha, beta, and delta) at will to induce altered states of consciousness. Enhances the capacity for relaxation and/or inducing meditative states and physiological control similar to that in yoga and Zen.

Biointegration, Ross Argelo, Dallas, TX: New Age, body alignment, yoga, reflexology, rebirthing.

BioPsciences Institute, Minneapolis, MN: Astrology.

Black Mass: A ritual in Satanism that attempts to negate or profane the Catholic Mass. Black candles are used and Catholic prayers recited backwards. Allegedly, the communion is occasionally performed using human blood and flesh.

Black Muslim: Generic term referring to Nation of Islam and related groups.

Black Christian Nationalist Movement: See Pan African Orthodox Christian Church.

Blavatsky, Madame Helena Petrovna: Founder of Theosophy.

Blessed Be: A common greeting used among Wiccans to invoke or wish happiness and well-being.

Blood Atonement Doctrine: The belief, taught by the second Mormon Prophet, Brigham Young, that for certain sins the blood of Christ will not atone and for which the sinner's own blood must be shed to receive forgiveness (Journal of Discourses, Vol. 4, p. 53). No longer taught by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, the belief is often preached and sometimes practiced by members of Mormon Fundamentalist splinter groups. To this day, Utah allows condemned murders to face execution by firing squad rather than methods that do not shed the criminal's blood, such as lethal injection or the electric chair.

Blue Lotus, Wilmot, WI: New Age periodical.

Blue Mountain Center of Meditation, Eknath Easwaran, Petaluma, CA: Hindu philosophy, meditation, uses the Bhagavad-Gita.

Book of Shadows: A journal for recording occult activities.

Bookmark, Santa Clarita, CA: Christian Science splinter group.

Borderland Science Research Foundation Garberville, CA: Alchemy, dowsing, UFOs, astrology.

Born Again: Biblical term used to describe regeneration (John 3:3-7). Some New Age followers teach that the term was Christ's reference to reincarnation or rebirthing. In context, Jesus was speaking of a spiritual event effected by God through the Holy Spirit (see verses 6-8) to restore a sinful, fallen human to right relationship with Him (see verses 16-21). See Gospel.

Boston Church of Christ: See International Churches of Christ.

Bradshaw, John: Prominent New Age teacher on PBS and author of Healing the Inner Child.

Brahma: The creator and first member of the triad of demigods in Hinduism, including Shiva and Vishnu.

Brainwashing: Forced indoctrination using various techniques to cause a subject to abandon basic political, social, or religious ideas or beliefs and replace those ideals with a contrasting belief system. A translation of a Chinese word xinao, "brainwashing" became a popular term to describe the phenomena of radical change in behavior and core beliefs that took place in some prisoners of war held in Chinese camps in the mid-twentieth century. In a more general sense, the word is sometimes used to describe any form of persuasion perceived to be unethical that results in a radical and negative change in personality. See Lifton, Robert, Mind Control.

Branch Davidians, Benjamin Roden: Splinter group of the Seventh Day Adventist Church. David Koresh (A.K.A. Vernon Howell) was leader from 1984 to 1993. He and many of his most devout followers were killed when their headquarters near Waco, TX, was destroyed by fire in 1993 during a government raid. Taught knowledge of the Seven Seals of the Book of Revelation brought salvation. Many followers still believe Koresh's messianic claims and expect him to be resurrected soon.

Branham, William, (1909-1965): Oneness Pentecostal preacher who claimed he received healing and prophetic powers from an angel. Denied the Trinity, taught the serpent seed doctrine, and rejected other Pentecostal and traditional Christian churches. "Branhamism" is still taught at the Branham Tabernacle in Jeffersonville, IN, and in many other places around the world. Profile available.

Brethren, Jim Roberts: Also known as "the Garbage Eaters," the group follows the teachings of "Brother Evangelist" Roberts. The group requires renouncing both family and worldly possessions in order to earn salvation (see Salvation by works). Members travel nomadically, earning their nickname because of their practice of eating discarded food. Family members note that Roberts hides relatives, moving the individuals to avoid familial contact. Note: This group is not affiliated with the Church of the Brethren, an Anabaptist denomination.

Brinkley, Dannion: As chronicled in his bestseller Saved by the Light, Brinkley allegedly underwent a near-death experience after being struck by lightning. He teaches people to perform "life reviews" to enhance their perception of life and death and to find their life missions. He operates a hospice organization called Compassion in Action / The Twilight Brigade.

British Israelism: (Anglo-Israelism/Israelitism) The doctrine that the true identity of modern Israel (or the "ten lost tribes") is Britain and (sometimes) the British colonies (America). The monarchs of England sit on the throne of David. In more extreme forms, Israel is identified with a particular race—usually white Anglo-Saxon, Germanic, and Scandinavian people. Opposing versions of doctrine teach that Blacks are God's Chosen People, Israel. See Christian Identity Movement, Serpent seed doctrine.

Brotherhood and Order of the Pleroma, Richard Duc de Palatine, Sherman Oaks, CA: New Age revival of Gnosticism, God and man are the same being.

Brotherhood of Eternal Truth, New Albany, IN: Spiritualism, astrology, Atlantis, channeling, magic, past life regression. Also known as Center of Light and Life.

Brotherhood of the White Temple, Inc., M. Doreal, Castle Rock, CO: New Age/occult metaphysical teachings, soul illumination, three planes of existence.

The Bruderhof Community: A communal society started in Germany in the 1920s and based on the sixteenth-century Moravian Anabaptist sect of Jacob Hutter, which was part of the Radical Reformation. The group is also called the Society of Brothers and the Hutterian Brethren. The basic theology of the group is Protestant but, according to former members and other critics, the group exercises inappropriate control over the members and practices shunning and other forms of spiritual abuse.

Buddha: Siddhartha Gautama Buddha ("enlightened one") was born about 560 BC in northeastern India and, according to legend, received spiritual enlightenment through meditation. During his lifetime, his spiritual insights and teachings became a major alternative to Hinduism throughout India. Diverse versions of his teachings can be found worldwide today. See Buddhism.

Buddha's Universal Church, San Francisco, CA: Similar to Buddhism in theology.

Buddhism: World religion based on the spiritual teachings of Siddhartha Gautama Buddha. There are a number of versions or sects of Buddhism generally teaching paths to Nirvana (enlightenment or bliss) though the four noble truths (recognizing existence and source of suffering) and the eightfold path (correct understanding, behavior and meditation). Some variations of Buddhism include traditional Theravada schools of India, Mahayana Buddhism, which became very popular in China and Japan, and Tibetan Buddhism (Lamaism) in Tibet. Two more recent forms that have had great influence in America are Zen and Nichiren Shoshu Buddhism.

Builders, Norman Paulsen, Oasis, NV: New Age, Christ-consciousness, meditation, Father-Mother God, enlightenment.

Builders of the Adytum, Paul Foster Case, Los Angeles, CA: Occult, Kabbalah, Tarot, spiritual alchemy, esoteric astrology.

Burning Man Festival, Black Rock Desert, NV: An annual festival celebrating neo-paganism and Satanism. The name comes from the culmination of the festival, in which a wooden man with outstretched arms (resembling a crucifix) is burned by the crowd.

Cayce, Edgar: See Association For Research and Enlightenment.

Celestine Prophecy, The: A best-selling New Age book by James Redfield that teaches enlightenment through the fictional "Nine Insights" contained in secret manuscripts written by Maya natives in the jungles of Peru.

Celticism, Celts: The Celts were a group of related tribes whose territory extended throughout Europe early in the first millennium AD, but who are most commonly associated with the British Isles. The Celts worshipped local deities (frequently associated with nature), often served by a priestly class of Druids. Human sacrifice was important to Druidic religion. Modern neo-pagans frequently claims to be Celtic, although the modern beliefs and practices bear little resemblance to ancient Celticism.

Celtic Christianity: Augustine of Canterbury evangelized England in the late 6th ? early 7th centuries. His work was later taken by Patrick to Ireland, who is largely credited with establishing the Celtic church. Celtic Christianity was heavily influenced by the Roman Catholic Church, to which it was allied, although many individuals claim a greater reverence for nature in the Celtic tradition. Differences in practice within the Celtic church were gradually eradicated during the Middle Ages as the Roman papacy asserted its authority over Ireland. Modern groups that claim to revive Celtic Christianity are frequently a mixture of Protestantism and Roman Catholicism, with few legitimate ties to the early Celtic church. Nonetheless, these groups should not be confused with neo-pagan groups that also claim to be Celtic.

Center for Action and Contemplation, Albuquerque, NM: Yoga, Enneagram workshops.

Chopra, Deepak: Noted New Age and health author and lecturer. See Ayurvedic Medicine. Profile available.

Christ: Based on the Greek christos meaning "anointed one," equivalent to the Hebrew "messiah." Generally used in the Old Testament of one who has been anointed with oil and/or set apart for a specific mission, as was David, the king of Israel (see 1 Sam. 16:13). Specifically used to speak of the promised messiah/savior of Israel and the world. Christians believe this to be Jesus of Nazareth, who died to atone for human sin. Other religions believe in a succession of Christ figures through history, sometimes including Jesus, who were great teachers. New Age groups sometimes understand the term "Christ" as a reference to the deity found in all humanity (the Cosmic Christ). Thus, Jesus was conscious of his deity or "the Christ within" and others can have this same "Christ-consciousness" by realizing that they, too, are divine. Other religious leaders have historically claimed to hold the office or ministry of Christ including Unification Church founder Rev. Sun Myung Moon. Biblical warnings are given for "false Christs" (Mark 13:22). Scripture also speaks of an antichrist and of antichrists who stand against and/or instead of the true Christ (1 John 2:18).

Christ Cathedral for Divine Abundance, Alexius Bassey, London: Universalism, Divine Consciousness.

Christ-consciousness: New Age term expressing the belief that Christ is a divine potential in all human beings of which only some people are aware or conscious, rather than a unique title for Jesus.

Christ Family, Charles McHugh: McHugh, a.k.a. Lightning Amen, claims to be the incarnation of Jesus. Followers dress in robes, no shoes, practice vegetarianism.

Christ Light Community: See New Age Church of Truth.

Christ the Savior Brotherhood: See Holy Order of MANS.

Christian Fellowship, The: See Potter's House.

Christian Foundation, Canyon County, CA: See Alamo Christian Foundation.

Christian Identity movement: The belief that the true identity of the ten lost tribes of Israel is the white, Anglo-Saxon race. The belief is similar to but distinct from the doctrine of British Israelism. A number of independent churches and organizations (including some militant racist groups) make up the general movement. Most deny the Trinity. Some teach a form of the Serpent Seed doctrine, believing that Jews are descendants of Eve's alleged sexual relations with the serpent (Genesis 3) and are thus not fully human. Many also hold that non-Whites are descended from the union of Cain and a woman from a supposed pre-Adamite race. Profile available.

Christian Millennial Fellowship, Hartford, CT: Watchtower Bible and Tract Society splinter group (see Bible Students). Publishes The New Creation periodical.

Christian Prayer Center, Mother Martin, Washington, D.C.: Native American spirituality and rituals, voodoo.

Christian Renewal Ministry, Saratoga, CA: Watchtower Bible and Tract Society splinter group (see Bible Students).

Christian Rose Cross Church, Olympia, WA: Based on the teachings of Max Heindel (see Rosicrucian Fellowship), Cosmic Christ, Universal religion.

Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, Boston, MA: Officially called Church of Christ, Scientist. Eddy's teaching heavily indebted to Phineas P. Quimby, a mesmerist. Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures functions as a virtual second canon of Scripture. Views God as infinite Mind, "the animating divine Principle of all that is real and good." Matter is unreal; thus, so are sickness and death, which are overcome by believing that we are Mind. Seeking medical help is discouraged, frequently resulting in preventable deaths. Christ is "the divine manifestation of God" most fully seen in Jesus, who only seemed to die. The "Holy Ghost" is Divine Science, that is, Christian Science. The orthodox doctrine of the Trinity is rejected as polytheistic. Many New Age ideas have historical roots in Christian Science and related Mind Science groups. Profile available.

Christianity, Jesus Christ: Major world religion developed in the first century AD based on the belief that Jesus of Nazareth was the promised Messiah or Christ of Israel. Followers, called Christians, were initially viewed as a sect of Judaism. It quickly developed as a separate religion as Jewish Christians became outnumbered by non-Jewish converts and, through a strong missionary emphasis, Christianity became a diverse worldwide movement. Their scripture is the Bible, which contains the Jewish Scriptures (Old Testament) and the Christian Scriptures (New Testament). Except for cults, aberrant sects, and Liberal Christianity, those who claim to be Christians have historically believed the following: There is only one true God eternally revealed in three distinct Persons - the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit (the Trinity). Human beings are sinners who (without the grace of God received through faith in Christ) are eternally lost. Jesus, who is God in the flesh, died on the cross and rose physically from the dead as the sole and sufficient payment for the sins of humanity. See Gospel, Born Again, Fundamental Christianity, Evangelical Christianity, Protestant Christianity, Orthodox Christianity, Roman Catholicism, Salvation by Grace, Salvation by Works.

Church of Israel, Day Gayman, Schell City, MO: Radical Christian Identity movement sect. Publishes The Watchman.

Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, The, Joseph Smith, Salt Lake City, UT: (Latter-day Saints, LDS, Mormonism) Main body of Mormonism; recognizes Brigham Young as Smith's successor. Smith claimed that the Father and Son appeared to him and called him to restore the true Church. LDS Church teaches that God the Father was once a man and was exalted to Godhood. God (and his heavenly Wife) begat billions of spirit children, the firstborn of whom was Jesus. Lucifer was the leader of God's rebellious spirit children. Those spirits who did not rebel become human beings in order to begin process potentially leading to exaltation to Godhood. Jesus, however, became a God while only a spirit. He organized our world and is Jehovah, the God of Israel. He is a separate and subordinate God to Elohim, the Father. A distinction is made between the Holy Ghost, who is a personage of Spirit, and the Holy Spirit. The latter is a divine energy, force, or spiritual essence that fills the universe and is used by all three members of the Godhead in the exercise and accomplishment of their will. The Church rejects the orthodox doctrine of the Trinity. It also redefines salvation by grace to refer simply to resurrection. Almost all humans will be resurrected into one of three kingdoms of glory, the least of which is far superior to anything known in this life. Entry into the higher kingdoms, and one's rank there, depends not only upon the atonement of Christ, but also upon one's good works. Achievement of the highest potential within the highest kingdom—Godhood—requires complete "obedience to all the laws and ordinances of the gospel." The Bible, Book of Mormon, Pearl of Great Price, and Doctrine and Covenants are all considered scripture. Publishes Church News and Ensign magazine. Profile available. Research material available.

Church of Satan, Anton Szandor LaVey, San Francisco, CA: Satanism, occult, incantations, festival days include Spring equinox and Halloween. LaVey, author of the Satanic Bible, founded the church in 1966 and died in 1997 after which a struggle for leadership ensued between LaVey's daughters, Karla and Zeena, and his long-term live-in partner, Blanche Barton. Eventually, Barton became the Church of Stan High Priestess and she later appointed Peter H. Gilmore to be High Priest. As of early 2002, Peggy Nadramia joined Gilmore, her husband, in leadership with the Church of Satan with Nadramia serving as High Priestess. Barton is now serving in a lesser role as Magistra Templi Rex. The church has claimed as many 10,000 members. LaVey, a former lion tamer, organist, hypnotist, psychic, artist, and photographer. Like the vast majority of Satanists, he did not believe in a literal, personal devil, but turned to Satanic imagery to provoke a reaction and illustrate his disdain for Christianity.

Church of Scientology, L. Ron Hubbard: Humans are immortal spiritual beings whose experience extends beyond a single lifetime (reincarnation), and whose capabilities are unlimited, though presently imprisoned by matter, energy, space, and time (MEST). Salvation is the recovery of spiritual freedom, ability, independence and serenity, including freedom from the endless cycle of birth and death (reincarnation), and full awareness and ability independent of the body, i.e., being "able to control matter, energy, space, and time." These god-like powers are achieved through auditing, a process whereby "engrams," (the mental recordings of past moments of pain and unconsciousness), and other barriers to such states are removed, abilities are regained, and greater awareness achieved. Auditing can last for years and may cost hundreds of thousands of dollars. Teachings are also advanced through affiliated business management companies such as Sterling Management Systems, the drug prevention program Narcanon, and in public schools through Way to Happiness. The writings and recorded spoken words of L. Ron Hubbard (contained in over 500,000 pages of writings and over 2,000 tape-recorded public lectures) constitute the scripture of the religion, his book Dianetics, the Modern Science of Mental Health being foundational. Scientology publishes several magazines including Advance, High Winds, and Source; also several newspapers and newsletters including The Auditor, Tech News, KSW News and the FSM Newsletter. Scientology has a history of alleged abuse and illegal activities, and is fighting legal battles in countries all over the world. Profile available.

Churches of Christ: The independent Churches of Christ movement was one of several associations and denominations that developed from Alexander Campbell, Walter Scott and Barton W. Stone's restoration movement of the early 19th century, which was designed to promote unity among Protestants. Many (but not all) Churches of Christ today, however, differ from traditional Protestant doctrine in two key areas. Many maintain that water baptism and/or other commandments (rather than salvation by grace through faith alone) are a requirement for salvation (see Baptismal regeneration, Salvation by works). Some also believe that today's Churches of Christ are the only true churches on earth and that they can literally trace their history to the first century church in Jerusalem.

Communion Letter, San Antonio, TX: UFO periodical.

Community of Christ, Joseph Smith, III, Independence, MO: Smaller of the two main groups that originated from Joseph Smith's alleged restoration of the true church. When Smith died, those who accepted Brigham Young as Smith's successor followed him west to Utah; they are known as The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (LDS). Those who rejected Young and accepted Smith's son, Joseph Smith, III, remained in Missouri and became known as the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (RLDS). The doctrines of the two groups eventually became radically different. On April 6, 2001, the name of the RLDS group was officially changed to Community of Christ. The Community of Christ church has a slightly different version of the Book of Mormon and Doctrine and Covenants, and they reject the Pearl of Great Price as scripture. They do not hold to many of the LDS distinctive doctrines, including the polygamy of the 19th century LDS Church and the LDS belief (still held) that God was once a man. In recent years the church has experienced divisions, with more conservative Restoration Branches becoming independent. Historically, the RLDS—now Community of Christ—church also has had a leader who was a direct descendant of the Mormon founder, Joseph Smith, Jr. The current leader and prophet of the movement, Grant McMurray, was the first exception to this practice. Profile available.

Community of Jesus, Orleans, MS: Thought to be involved in shepherding and mind control.

Concept Therapy, Thurman Fleet, San Antonio, TX: New Age, stress management seminars, book title Rays Of The Dawn. Publishes The Beamer newsletter.

Concerned Christians, Monte Kim Miller, Denver, CO: Ironically, begun in the early 1980s as a Christian ministry to expose cults and false teaching, Miller's organization began to take on cult-like characteristics in later years. Becoming increasingly controversial and bizarre, Miller's group drew national media attention in 1998 when over 50 followers fled the Denver area and disappeared after Miller predicted the Apocalypse was to begin and that Denver was to be destroyed by an earthquake on October 10. Miller, who claims to be one of the two end-time prophets mentioned in the Revelation 11, published Report from Concerned Christians and Take Heed Update. Produced Our Foundation radio program. This group is not to be confused with the Mesa, Arizona-based Concerned Christians, a Christian ministry to Mormons led by Jim Robertson. Profile available.

Conciliation Ministries, Dusean Berkich Lawrence, KS: Conversion should be inward to self, not to Jesus.

Confraternity of Deists, Homosassa Springs, FL: Reject sin, no need for a Savior, no consciousness after death.

Confucianism, Chiu King (King Fu-tzu or Confucius - "Kung the Master"): A world religion based on the teachings of Chiu King who, according to tradition, was born in Lu, China about 550 BC Chiu King promoted peace and social harmony through the traditions of the ancestors. He is said to have collected, edited and written commentaries on four ancient manuscripts (including the I Ching). He also wrote Ch'un Ch'iu ("The Annals of Spring and Autumn") These documents comprise the Five Classics and along with the Four Books (a collection of his sayings) form the basis of Confucianism. Doctrines include ancestor worship, devotion to family elders, and right conduct based on the inherent goodness of man.

Crystal Pathway, Denver, CO: New Age/Occult periodical.

Crystals: Many though not all New Agers believe that gems (especially Crystals) possess mystical, esoteric, spiritual powers to bring the bearer health, wealth and good fortune.

Cult: See the Definitions section in the introduction. Profile available.

Cult Awareness Network (CAN): Headed by Cynthia Kissler and based in Chicago, IL, this was once the largest secular cult watch organization or anti-cult group in America. According to Kissler, between 1991 and 1996 CAN was the victim of approximately 50 lawsuits directly or indirectly sponsored by members of the Church of Scientology, an organization considered by CAN to be a dangerous cult. CAN eventually lost one of those civil suits, which resulted in CAN filing bankruptcy. On October 23, 1996, the Cult Awareness Network's name, logo, and phone number were sold to a Scientology-related law firm as part of a $20,000 purchase of CAN assets in the federal bankruptcy court. Kissler warns that anyone now contacting CAN should be aware that they are very likely talking with Scientologists.

Cult of Confession: One of eight criteria of Mind Control according to Robert Lifton's theory of Thought Reform. A system that requires members to disclose to their leaders or superiors the personal thoughts, attitudes, and actions that do not conform to the group's ideals. This practice diminishes healthy personal boundaries and privacy, and may facilitate additional abuses.

Cumora Books, Independence, MO: Affiliated with the more conservative Restoration Branches of the RLDS Church. Publishes Restoration Voice, The Vision.

D

Daily Word: A monthly publication of Unity School of Christianity.

Dalai Lama: The spiritual leader of Tibetan Buddhism.

Dayspring Resources, Leonie Rosenstiel, New York, NY: Hypnosis, Reiki, yoga, reflexology, crystal healing.

de Mello, Anthony: An Indian-born Jesuit priest, who wrote a number of New Age books that were bestsellers in many countries. His works include One Minute Wisdom, One Minute Nonsense, Wellsprings: A Book of Spiritual Exercises, and Walking on Water. In 1998, over a decade after his death, the Congregation for the Doctrine of Faith (a Vatican commission) denounced de Mello's writings. They warned of false teachings in his works, including a denial of objective morality and the claim that all religion, including Christianity, are obstacles to truth.

Delphi School, Sheridan, OR: Uses the teachings of L. Ron Hubbard, founder of the Church of Scientology.

Demand for Purity: One of eight criteria of Mind Control according to Robert Lifton's theory of Thought Reform. An environment of blame and guilt based on an impossible ideal of human behavior or perfection. This shame-based culture punishes failure and can even subtly train members to punish themselves for their inability to live up to the group's ideals or standards. See Brainwashing.

Demons: Fallen angels under the direction of Satan who seek to destroy God's purpose and people. Demons are invisible, spiritual beings (Ephesians 6:12), are organized and have supernatural power and knowledge (Matthew 12:24, Revelation 16:14), can possess humans and animals, (Luke 8:2, Mark 5:13), and can inspire false doctrine (1 Timothy 4:1).

Denver, John: Prominent New Age singer who promoted est, Yoga, Transcendental Meditation, and the Windstar Foundation before his death in 1997.

Deprogramming: A coercive attempt to dissuade an individual of religious or ideological convictions believed to be harmful, through a concentrated (usually two to three days) counseling procedure designed to produce a sudden "snapping out." Deprogramming was developed in the 1970s by Ted Patrick and others as a way to rescue family members who were perceived to have undergone negative personality change after joining destructive cults. Often presented as an antidote for brainwashing or mind control, some deprogrammers rationalized the unethical use of force and coercion to rescue victims by illegally holding them against their will (abduction or "snatching") in a process known as "involuntary" deprogramming. Watchman Fellowship does not support or condone such illegal and unethical behavior. Not to be confused with Exit Counseling.

Deseret Shadow Church: See Church of Essential Science.

Devil: See Satan.

Di Mambro, Joseph: See Order of the Solar Temple.

Discover Seminars, Irving, TX: New Age, stress management.

Discovery, West Valley City, UT: Anti-Christian, Jesus is the Devil.

Disfellowshipping: As practiced by the LDS and many other groups, this is a level of church discipline involving a probationary period of restricted privileges, but retaining church membership. As practiced by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, it is an alternate term for "excommunication," being completely cut off from Jehovah's organization; see Shunning.

Dispensing of Existence: One of eight criteria of Mind Control according to Robert Lifton's theory of Thought Reform. The organization's dogma determines whether or not other groups or individuals have the right to exist. All alternative belief systems or organizations are considered illegitimate. In extreme cases this mindset can promote violence or murder.

Divali: Hindu philosophy of Enlightenment.

Divination: The biblical term describing attempts to gain hidden knowledge supernaturally, usually about the future, apart from the God of the Bible (Ezekiel 21:22–25, Acts 16:16). Most often props are involved such as the hand (palm reading), the stars (astrology), cards (Tarot), or random symbols (I Ching).

Divine Light Center, Swami Omkarananda: Mixture of Hinduism, voodoo and animal sacrifice.

Divine Light Mission, Maharaj Ji: Hindu/New Age philosophy, teachings on the God within.

Divine Science, Denver CO: Similar to Christian Science theology: God is All, man is a part of the All, thus man is God.

Divine Science of Light and Sound, Marina del Rey, CA: New Age, reincarnation, karma, astral projection.

Divine Word Foundation, Warner Springs, CA: New Age, channeled writings, Jesus and Christ are separate entities.

Dixon, Jeane (1917–1997): Astrologer, prognosticator, claimed information was from Christian God, however she made many false prophecies.

Doctrine and Covenants: One of the scriptures or "Standard Works" of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints; the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints accepts a different version of the work as scripture.

Doctrine Over Person: One of eight criteria of Mind Control according to Robert Lifton's theory of Thought Reform. The ideas and doctrines of the leader and organization overrule the personal experiences, conscience, and integrity of the individual.

Dominion Press, San Marcos, CA: New Thought, similar to Christian Science and Unity School of Christianity. Publishes the Theologia 21 newsletter. Not to be confused with Dominion Press in Tyler, TX, a controversial but orthodox Christian publishing house.

Dorene Publishing, Arlington, TX: Occult, talismans and other pagan memorabilia.

The Door: See Potter's House.

Double Bind: A mental or psychological dilemma caused when a person receives from a single leader or teacher conflicting messages or "truths" resulting in no appropriate response or answer. See Cognitive Dissonance.

Dowsing: Form of divination using a forked rod, a bent wire, or a pendulum. Used to locate people, objects, or substances, and to diagnose illnesses.

Druids: A priestly caste of the ancient Celtic people of France and the British Isles. They were the keepers of oral history and law, and officiates of pagan, occult religious practices. See Halloween.

Dual Covenant: The belief that the New Testament (or covenant) applies to gentiles (non-Jews) only. Thus, Jesus Christ is not the Savior of the Jewish people and they should relate to God through the earlier Old Testament or Abrahamic covenant. A similar doctrine called the Plural Covenant theory emphasizes other covenants in addition to these two major systems.

Dualism: An understanding of reality as existing in two opposite extremes. Metaphysical dualism sees the universe as existing in two contrary (and sometimes conflicting) realities—mind and matter, or spirit and physical, or yin and yang. Ethical dualism posits a conflict between universal good and an equal and opposite force of universal evil (e.g., the belief that God and Satan are equal and opposite beings).

Dungeons and Dragons: Occult, fantasy role playing game, allegedly uses demonic names and spells found in occult literature. Some parents have charged that children committed suicide under the influence of the game.

DuPage Church of Religious Science, Donald E. Burt, Naperville, IL: Religious Science, use the teachings of Ernest Holmes.

Dyer, Wayne: Prominent New Age writer and spokesman focusing on business applications, personal transformation and motivational speaking. Also promotes holistic health, and Buddhism.

Dynamic Monarchianism: A late second-century heresy denying the Trinity, put forth by Theodotus of Byzantium and later adopted in modified forms by Paul of Samosata, Noetus and Praxeas.

Eadie, Betty: New Age author of best-sellers, Embraced by the Light and The Awakening Heart. An active member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Eadie claims to have died, gone to heaven, and returned to her body (see near-death experiences). Her books contain a combination of New Age and Mormon beliefs.

Essene Light Center, Mary L. Myers, Charlotte, NC: Has similarities to I AM movement, belief in Great White Brotherhood, ascended beings, Father-Mother god.

est, Warner Erhard: Personal transformation seminar promising individual growth, business management skills, stress reduction, etc. Teaches the world has no objective meaning, enlightenment, and to live moment to moment with no regard for the future. New Age themes. In the midst of mounting troubles, Erhard decided to leave the United States. Est was discontinued and replaced by The Forum. Similar to other transformational/encounter seminars such as Lifespring.

Eupsychia, Austin, TX: New Age, Transcendental Meditation, Native American spirituality, shamanism.

Evangelical Christianity: Evangelical (from the Greek euangelion, good news or gospel) generally means a focus on the essentials of Christianity. The term can be used to describe all Christians or churches that hold to or give heavy emphasis to specific conservative Protestant beliefs. (In Germany, "Evangelical" is basically synonymous with "Lutheran.") These include: the authority and infallibility of the Bible, the nature of God (sovereign, holy, compassionate, personal, etc.), the sinful and fallen state of humanity, and salvation by grace through faith in the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ as the only means of salvation. More specifically the term has come to be closely identified with a widespread trans-denominational shift towards more conservative Christian doctrine that developed after World War II. See Fundamental Christianity.

Evolutionary Kingdom Level Above Human, Richardson, Texas: Earlier name of Heaven's Gate, Marshall Applewhite's UFO cult.

Exaltation: In the teaching of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, the highest form of salvation. It means to become a God, exactly like God the Father and Jesus Christ, and to produce and rule over one's offspring throughout eternity.

Exit Counseling: (Thought Reform Consulting) A non-coercive technique (in contrast to deprogramming) designed to help rescue members of religions or cults that are considered false, harmful, or dangerous. The program usually involves a two to three day voluntary counseling session emphasizing education and dialogue, often with a licensed mental health professional, a former member of the group, and/or a specialist on cult dynamics. The approach stresses true personal and religious freedom in the context of providing additional information and full disclosure, which facilitates more informed decision-making. Family counseling and intervention techniques may also be incorporated.

Extrasensory Perception (ESP): Alleged knowledge of an experience or a response to an external event apart from the five senses. This experience can take place either in a wakeful or dream state.

F

Faith Assembly Church, Raymond Jackson, Jeffersonville, IN: Similar to William Branham. Publishes The Contender newspaper.

Feng Shui: A religious "science" for the balancing of Yin and Yang in the environment, discovered or originated by farmers some 3,000 years ago and developed within Taoism. Feng Shui teaches that there is an energy called Qi (or, Chi) flowing throughout the universe, and in this world through lines, sometimes called channels or meridians, to which one must be properly aligned for optimal health, fortune, and quality of life. The position and alignment of structures and objects in one's environment affects the flow of this energy and one's own ability to harmonize with nature. Practitioners therefore arrange household and office furniture, design rooms and even whole buildings, their grounds and gardens, etc., to properly align with the flow lines of earth's energy. They thus hope to improve the balance of nature around them, not only for their own benefit, but for the benefit everyone in the area.

State medical examiner claims as many as 25 children have died in the last two decades from complications from otherwise common medical problems.

Ford, Arthur: See Spiritual Frontiers Fellowship.

Form Criticism: A method of literary criticism used by many scholars in the interpretation of the Bible. It identifies the literary forms of specific parts of the biblical writings, such as the different types of psalms (thanksgiving, lament, etc.) or the different units in the Gospels (parables, miracle stories, etc.). By noting common features in passages of the same form, various conclusions are drawn about how to interpret those passages. In liberal Christianity, which pioneered this method, many of the forms are assumed to be legendary or mythical (especially those involving the supernatural). Some evangelical scholars think form criticism can be useful if such liberal assumptions are avoided, while other evangelicals reject form criticism outright. See also Redaction criticism.

Free Soul, Sedona, AZ: New Age, spirit guides, commune with Divine Nature, Psychic and Higher Soul Dimensions.

Free Spirit, Brooklyn, NY: New Age periodical.

Freemasonry: A fraternal order revived in the early 18th century in England, loosely based on associations or guilds of stone cutters ("operative" masons). Freemasonry ("speculative" masons) sought to give philosophical, moral, or spiritual meaning to the lodge, tools, and oaths of the stone cutters. Branches of Freemasonry include the Blue Lodge, York Rite, Scottish Rite, and Shriners. Affiliated organizations include the Order of the Eastern Star (for women), the Order of DeMolay (for boys), and the Order of Rainbow (for girls). Most modern adherents maintain that the organization is not a religion but a club or fraternity promoting high moral values and good works. They believe, therefore, that Freemasonry is compatible with and supplements Christianity and other religions. Critics counter that Freemasonry involves secret blood oaths or curses, and that the writings of respected early leaders (Albert Mackey, Albert Pike, etc.) are replete with occult philosophy and religious doctrine contrary to Christianity. Despite Freemasonry's promotion and funding of a number of worthwhile, philanthropic endeavors (free Shriner children hospitals, nursing homes, etc.), many Christian individuals and churches have condemned Freemasonry or warned of elements that they believe are contrary to Christianity. These churches include the Presbyterian Church of America, Southern Baptist Convention, Episcopal Church, Christian Reformed Church, Church of the Nazarene, and Lutheran Church (Missouri and Wisconsin Synods).

Freewinds Relay Office, Clearwater, FL: Promotes Church of Scientology.

Friends Review, Hillsboro, OR: Occult/metaphysical periodical.

Fundamentalist Christianity: Generally a reference to conservative Christians who believe five "fundamentals" of Christianity: the inerrancy of Scripture, the virgin birth of Christ, the substitutionary atonement of Christ, the bodily resurrection of Christ, and the historicity of biblical miracles. More specifically, the term is identified with the conservative reaction, especially in America, to liberal Christianity in the early 20th century. Core beliefs of the movement are virtually identical with evangelical Christianity. Some fundamentalists, however, later distinguished themselves from evangelicals (or neo-evangelicals) whom they saw as too compromising and ecumenical. More recently some have given a new, negative meaning to the term "fundamentalist" using it as a synonym for narrow-minded, bigoted, anti-intellectual or divisive Christians.

G

G.A.P. Ministries, Elm Grove, WI: Sabbatarianism, observes Feast Days, part of Sacred Name movement. Publishes The Appointed Time newsletter.

Gabriel Society, Ruth Harders, Western Springs, IL: New Age, metaphysics, Universal Mind.

Gaia: Originally the Greek goddess of earth. Many see the earth as one large living organism made of numerous parts, much as the human body is one living organism with various parts.

Worldwide Church of God. Teaches a form of Armstrongism.

Global Family, Palo Alto, CA: New Age, visualization, Higher self which is God, pantheism (all is God).

Globalism: When used in a religious sense, this term most often means to lose all national identity. Mankind must see itself as one world family, without the need for distinctions between religions. All religions become true or the distinctive doctrines of the various religions must be disregarded in an attempt to achieve the new Global Family idea.

Global Times: The bimonthly magazine published by the Denmark office for Proutist International. See PROUT.

Gnostic Catholic Church of Canada, Edmonton, Alberta: Paganism, magic, Celtic rituals. Publishes the Sunspot magazine.

Gnosticism: From the Greek word gnosis (knowledge). Salvation comes through secret knowledge. A diverse belief influenced by Greek philosophy and similar to forms of pantheism, Gnosticism generally taught that matter was evil and spirit was good. Forms of gnosticism affected early Christianity. One Gnostic heresy taught that because matter was evil, Jesus could not have come in the flesh. Many New Agers regard Gnostic Christianity as the more enlightened form of Christianity.

Gnostic Order of Christ, The, Timothy Harris, San Jose, CA: An esoteric and mystical order reviving the doctrines of the now defunct Holy Order of MANS.

Golden Wheel, W.E. Reeve, England: Occult, astrology, alchemy, UFOs, spiritualism.

Good Cheer Press, Boulder, CO: Publishes material promoting The URANTIA Book.

Good, Joseph: See Hatikva Ministries.

Gospel: Literally meaning "good news," the term gospel is used by traditional Christians as a reference to the message of salvation by grace through faith, based on the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus Christ (1 Corinthians 15:1–4). The first four books of the New Testament, which consist of accounts of Jesus' ministry, death, and resurrection (Matthew, Mark, Luke and John), are also called the Gospels. One of the marks of a cult is that it preaches a different gospel, that is, a false way of salvation (2 Corinthians 11:4; Galatians 1:6–9). Most false gospels teach a form of either salvation by works or universalism.

Grail Foundation of America, Abd-ru-shin, Binghamton, NY: Esoteric teachings, Christ's call for "child-like faith" no longer valid.

Grand Canyon Society, Scottsdale, AZ: New Age, channeling, members use The URANTIA Book as their text.

Do) and 38 other members committed suicide in March of 1997, believing that by leaving their bodies behind they could join Nettles (a.k.a. Ti) and other "older members" from "the next level above human" on a UFO supposedly hidden behind the Hale-Bopp comet. Profile available.

Heaven's Magic: Another name for the followers of David Berg, founder of The Family (Children of God); produces multi-color children's posters and music.

Heresy: Literally, a theological dissension or division arising from diversity of opinions and aims. The term is usually reserved to refer to false teachings considered so serious that belief in them excludes the followers from the true faith and salvation; in other words, a belief viewed as fatal to the gospel. Religious groups founded on the basis of heresy are known as cults.

Heretic: A person who causes a division by teaching heresy.

Heritage Institute, Plainfield, WI: New Age, past life, Ouija board, telepathy, psychic healing.

Holistic Health: (New Age Medicine/Alternative Medicine) A view of health care focusing on the "whole self" (body, mind and spirit) and natural or spiritual cures. Some holistic health remedies and assumptions (i.e., a focus on wellness and prevention) are well within the Christian worldview and are scientifically valid. Much within this movement, however, is based on pantheistic concepts, New Age visualization, and eastern religious beliefs such as Chinese Taoism (Yin and Yang). Most questionable are holistic practices that have no valid physiological explanation or scientific proof such as applied kinesiology, reflexology and iridology.

Holy Grail Foundation, Leona Richards, Santa Cruz, CA: New Age, Ascended Masters, reincarnation.

Holy Order of MANS, Earl W. Blighton: Monastic New Age group that practiced esoteric, mystical religion blending biblical themes with reincarnation and other concepts from Eastern religions and the occult. Blighton, an ex-engineer who was once fined for practicing medicine without a license, began the order in 1968. "MANS" was an acronym for a phrase revealed only to initiates. After advancing through the order, men reached the status of Brown Brother of the Holy Light, while women might become an Immaculate Sister of Mary for Missionary Training. After the death of Blighton, the group underwent radical changes. The majority of followers converted to Eastern Orthodoxy and the order eventually was transformed into Christ the Savior Brotherhood, a sect of Eastern Orthodoxy. Several competing groups later formed claiming to preserve Blighton's original purpose and message. They include the Gnostic Order of Christ, Science of Man, and the American Temple.

Investigative Judgment: One of the unique doctrines of the Seventh-day Adventist Church that make the place of that church within evangelical Christianity questionable. First taught in Adventism by Hiram Edson, F.B. Hahn, and O.R.L. Crosier, it was accepted as "present truth" by those who would later become known as Seventh-day Adventists (SDAs) after it was confirmed and taught in visions received by Ellen G. White. The doctrine teaches that in the Holy of Holies in the Heavenly Sanctuary Christ is now conducting an investigation into the lives of all who have ever professed belief in Christ. He is judging all their works, by the standard of God's Law. All those whose lives fail to measure up to the standard of the Law are rejected and condemned as not having true faith. Those whose lives meet that standard and thus manifest the perfect character and righteousness of Christ are recognized as having true faith, and so their sins are "blotted out." SDAs say, "This judgment vindicates the justice of God in saving those who believe in Jesus. It declares that those who have remained loyal to God shall receive the kingdom." Evangelicals believe, and the Bible teaches (Rom. 3:21–26), that God's justice in saving sinners who trust Jesus to save them is vindicated by the blood of Jesus—His death in their place, in their behalf. Profile (on SDA) available.

Invisible Fellowship Boulder, CO: New Age, promotes the teachings of The URANTIA Book.

Inward Bound, Alexander Everett, Arlington, TX: New Age, Centering, tapping into the Universal Consciousness.

Iridology: Developed by Ignatz Peczky, a Holistic Health technique which supposedly allows one to diagnose unrelated diseases (such as a sprained ankle or weak back) by reading the color patterns of the eye's irises. Some practitioners also claim ability to diagnose emotional or mental problems.

Isis New Age Center, Denver, CO: Yoga, ritual magic, astrology.

Isis Unveiled: See Rosicrucianism.

ISKCON: Acronym for International Society for Krishna Consciousness.

Islam, Muhammad: Based on the teachings and life of Muhammad (570-632 AD) in Mecca and Medina, Saudi Arabia (then Persia). Islam is the second largest world religion, and has recently become the third largest religious body in America with over 6 million adherents. Muslim-based sects such as the Nation of Islam (which appeals especially to African-Americans) and Bahá'í (which proclaims the unity of the human race) have special appeal to many Americans. Islam is composed of two major divisions — the mainstream Sunni (the largest) and the more radical Shi'ites. The mystical tradition of Sufism includes many Sunnis and some Shi'ites. The Arabic word Islam means "submission to the will of God" and a person who submits is called a Muslim. The Qur'an (or, Koran), the Torah, the Psalms of the Old Testament, and the Gospel of the New Testament are regarded as holy books. However, only the Qur'an is considered uncorrupted. Islam rejects the Trinity doctrine, the deity of Christ and His Sonship, claiming that Jesus was only a great prophet. Muhammad is considered to be the greatest prophet, whose coming was allegedly predicted by Christ. Islam adheres fiercely to monotheism. In addition to good works, salvation is sought through observance of the Five Pillars: reciting "there is no God but Allah and Muhammad is His Messenger," praying five times per day, fasting, giving alms (donations to the poor), and a pilgrimage to Mecca. Historically, Islam experienced tremendous growth often by forced proselytism — unbelievers (infidels) were offered conversion or death. While many Muslims exhibit tolerance towards other faiths, even today Islamic fundamentalism promotes jihad (holy war), against those of other religious and political views.

Isthmus Institute, Dallas, TX: New Age, reincarnation, past-life experiences.

J

Jainism, Mahavira: A world religion begun as a reform movement of Hinduism. Mahavira (b. 599 BC) denied the existence or worship of a supreme deity and taught enlightenment through strict self-denial and non-violence. Later followers deified Mahavira himself, calling him the 24th Tirthankara (last great savior teacher) who descended from heaven without sin and with all knowledge.

Jamilian University of the Ordained, Gene Savoy, Reno, NV: Esoteric teachings; Jamil (Gene Savoy's son) was second coming of Christ; Jesus was a mystic.

Jehovah's Witnesses: Official name of the religion that accepts the authority of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

Jesus: The founder and central figure of Christianity. Jesus of Nazareth lived in Palestine from about 5/4 BC until AD 33 (or possibly AD 30). The name "Jesus" corresponds with the Hebrew "Joshua" and means "Jehovah is salvation." Christianity was founded on the belief that Jesus is the Messiah, or Christ, promised in the Old Testament, and that he died to save human beings from the penalty of sin. Even ancient, non-Christian sources corroborate some historical facts about His life and ministry. By far, the oldest and fullest historical information is found in the New Testament Gospels. Attempts have been made by liberal Christianity, New Agers, cults, and other religions to present Jesus as a "great teacher" whose ministry or life was radically different from the biblical historical accounts. While these efforts often define a "Jesus" compatible with their world views, they lack early supporting historical documentation and are thus arbitrary and subjective. The sources support the historic, traditional Christian belief that Jesus is the second Person of the Trinity, that he was and is fully God and fully man, that he was born of a virgin, died on the cross as a substitutionary atonement for our sins, and rose bodily from the dead.

Jesus Only: Nickname for Oneness Pentecostalism. See Modalism.

Jihad: Literally, "struggle," more popularly, "holy war"; a term used to refer to the Muslim commitment to impose the teachings and law of Islam throughout the world, by force where that is considered necessary or appropriate.

Joan Teresa Power Products, Mars Hill, NC: Occult, magic, astrology, voodoo, witchcraft (see Wicca). Publishes an annual catalog.

Johannine Daist Communion, "Da Free John." a.k.a. Franklin Jones: Promotes violence against women in his book Garbage And The Goddess. It is said that he makes "love slaves" of women.

John-David Learning Institute, Carlsbad, CA: New Age, Brain-Mind expansion, Brain relations development.

Jones, Jim: Founder of the People's Temple Christian Church.

Jouret, Luc: Leader of the Order of the Solar Temple.

Joy Lake Mountain Seminar Center, Reno, NV: New Age, visualization, crystals, astral projection.

Joy of Living, Roosevelt, NJ: New Age, spirit within is Divine, yoga, hypnosis.

Judaism: World religion that traces its origins to God's call to Abram (Abraham) to be the father of a great people who would inherit the land of Canaan and be the means of blessing to all mankind (Genesis 12). That people is identified as the children of Abraham's grandson Jacob, who was renamed Israel. The foundation of Judaism is the Torah (Genesis through Deuteronomy), which tells of the Israelites' bondage in Egypt, their miraculous deliverance in the Exodus, and the giving of the Law through Moses. The Israelites returned to the promised land of Canaan and became a small but powerful nation there under the rule of King David and his son Solomon. After Solomon's death the kingdom split into a northern kingdom called Israel and a southern kingdom called Judah (the name of David's tribe). The northern kingdom was conquered and decimated by the Assyrians in 722 BC, after which the term Judeans, or Jews, gradually came into use to refer to all Israelites. The Jews suffered conquests by a succession of foreign powers — the Babylonians, Persians, Greeks, and finally the Romans in the first century BC. Throughout this period the Jews developed a strong sense of national identity, identification with the Promised Land, and anticipation of a coming Messiah or Christ ("Anointed One"). These themes dominate the rest of the Jewish Bible, which is identical with the Protestant canon of the Old Testament. In the first century AD, Christianity originated with the belief that Jesus was that promised Messiah. The Jewish establishment at that time, however, rejected Jesus' claim to be the Messiah, and in fulfillment of his prophecy (Mark 13) the Jerusalem temple was destroyed and the Jewish nation scattered (AD 70). What is now known as the religion of Judaism originated after AD 70 as the rabbis, or teachers of the Torah, developed a system of laws and interpretations of the Torah that were eventually codified in the Talmud. Today Judaism can be identified as a cultural, ethnic, or religious concept. There are three main branches of modern Judaism: Orthodox (traditional, literal adherence to the Torah as interpreted by the Talmud), Conservative (a middle position advocating traditional beliefs and practices up to a point), and Reform (liberal, non-literal stance on the Torah and Talmud; often non-religious or secular with emphasis on Jewish culture).

K

Kabat-Sinn, Jon: New Age leader introducing Zen Buddhism into hospitals for stress reduction.

Kabbalah: (Various spellings) Mystical Jewish teachings intermingled with teachings of gnosticism, Neoplatonism, magic and the occult. The word Kabbalah means secret oral tradition and was coined by an eleventh century Spanish philosopher, Ibn Gabirol. The philosophy developed in Babylon during the middle ages from earlier Hebrew speculation and numerology. An early Kabbalist, Moses de Leon, developed and systematized the philosophy in his thirteenth century work, The Book of Zohar (sometimes spelled Zohar meaning "Splendor").

Kairos Foundation: See Life Training.

Karma: The Hindu principle of cause and effect. Representing neither good nor evil, all actions and events are balanced with corresponding actions and events in the past or future (including past and future lives through reincarnation).

Krishnamurti Foundation of America Ojai, CA: Hindu theology. Krishnamurti, a Hindu who sought to unify Eastern religion with Western philosophy and science, was proclaimed as the world's messiah by Theosophy leader Annie Besant in 1906. He later renounced that role to be the head of the newly created Order of the Star. Teaches alternative mystical experiences.

Kundalini: Eastern metaphysical term for the serpent force or Chi (spiritual/psychic energy or life force) that is supposedly within humans. Also, the form of yoga that seeks to focus that force.

Kunz, Dora: See Therapeutic Touch.

L. Ron Hubbard Gallery, Hollywood, CA: Promotes Scientology philosophy.

Laksmi: (or Lakshma) The name of one of Krishna's consorts. Also, a Hare Krishna term for money in the International Society for Krishna Consciousness.

Lee, Bo-In: See New Life HealthCenter.

Legalism: The belief that spirituality or salvation is dependent upon strict observance of laws and/or rituals, implying salvation by works. Or, a system of religious rules must be kept to please God or religious leaders, sometimes resulting in a kind of spiritual abuse.

Lemurian Fellowship, Ramona, CA: Esoteric Christianity, The Great Being called Christ which was over 76,000 years ago, Atlantis.

Lenz, Frederick: Guru who renamed himself Zen Master Rama.

Les 18 lumieres de l'EU (LEU18): See Spiritual Human Yoga.

Liberal Christianity: A movement that seeks to retain religious and spiritual values of Christianity while discounting the infallible authority of the Bible. Its origins are in the German Enlightenment, notably in the philosophy of Immanuel Kant and the religious views of Friedrich Schleiermacher. Liberals reject the stated authorship and historical accuracy of many books of the Bible. They are skeptical concerning many or all of the biblical miracles, preferring naturalistic explanations or viewing miracle accounts as legend or myth. They often deny or reinterpret in mythical terms such doctrines of orthodox Christianity as the virgin birth, atoning death, and even the resurrection of Jesus. Liberalism has been most influential in mainline Protestant denominations and is rejected in Evangelical and Fundamentalist Christianity.

Liberation Theology: A movement that attempts to unite theology with social and religious concerns about oppression. It finds expressions among blacks, feminists, Asians, Hispanics, and Native Americans, but it is most closely identified with the shift toward Marxism among Roman Catholic theologians and priests in Latin America. Most traditional doctrines of Christianity are de-emphasized or reinterpreted. Jesus and the Bible are defined and interpreted in light of a class struggle, with the gospel seen as a radical call to activism (or even revolution) promoting political and social answers usually in the form of classic Communism.

Life Enhancement Systems, Houston, TX: Yoga, meditation.

Life Training, Dallas, TX: New Age seminars that seek to awaken people to a new level of awareness and belief systems; Eastern spiritual philosophy.

Life Understanding Foundation, Santa Barbara, CA: New Age, pyramid power, dowsing, yoga, UFOs and crystals.

Lifespring: New Age seminars promoting human transformation and altering belief systems. Similar to est.

Lifton, Robert: Dr. Lifton studied Mao Tse-Tung's programs of "Thought Reform" or Chinese brainwashing while doing research for military intelligence. His study focused on radical change in personality and belief systems of certain prisoners-of-war who were held and tortured in Chinese camps. This research was later expanded in his 1961 work, Thought Reform and the Psychology of Totalism, in which he theorized that subtle elements of these brainwashing techniques could also be found in other environments. He outlined eight criteria for "thought reform," which he called: Milieu Control, Mystical Manipulation, Loading the Language, Doctrine over Person, Sacred Science, Cult of Confession, Demand for Purity, and Dispensing of Existence. While some elements of these criteria could be found in virtually any group, Lifton warned that an environment of mind control or thought reform exists when all eight are found implemented in the

Lightworker, Azel, TX: New Age, Christ-consciousness, astrology, psychic. Publishes the Lightworker newspaper.

Lion and Lamb Ministries, Monte W. Judah, Norman, OK: Messianic Jewish ministry. Holds that Jesus is the biblical Messiah. Legalistic tendencies, Sabbatarianism, practices Jewish holy days. Judah falsely predicted that the Abomination of Desolation prophesied in the Bible would occur by March of 1997 promising he would be "totally discredited" and would "shut down" the ministry if wrong. On March 23, 1997 he apologized for the false prophecy but reneged on his vow to disband the movement. [Note: this group should not be confused with the Texas-based Lamb & Lion Ministries, a reputable Christian organization led by David R. Reagan.]

Literary Criticism: The discipline that seeks to discover the underlying literary sources, stylistic features, type or genre of literature, authorship, unity, and date of a text, for their value in interpreting the text's meaning in its original historical context. The application of literary criticism to the Bible can be constructive, although in liberal Christianity the method is typically applied on the basis of antisupernatural and humanistic assumptions. See further Form Criticism.

Little Flock: (Anointed Class) In the teaching of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, this phrase (Luke 12:32) refers to the 144,000 Jehovah's Witnesses who will be allowed to go to heaven. All other worthy Jehovah's Witnesses (the "other sheep" cf. John 10:16) will live for eternity on a new paradise earth.

Lively Stones Fellowship, Palatka, FL: New Age, reflexology, yoga, Body/Mind Centering.

Living Stream Ministry: Publishing firm for The Local Church.

Llewellyn Worldwide, Ltd., St. Paul, MN: See "Spell." Influential publisher of occult, New Age, and Wiccan materials begun in 1901 as the Portland School of Astrology. The current president is Carl Weschcke who in 1988 acquired the magazine Fate, which now has 140,000 subscribers. Their popular catalog, New Worlds, is sold in newsstands nationwide and has a circulation of nearly 200,000.

Loading the Language: One of eight criteria of Mind Control according to Robert Lifton's theory of Thought Reform. Limiting or controlling the thought processes by regulating the language in such a way that communication constricts and limits rather than expands human understanding. This may include the use of thought-stopping clichés or artificially reducing complex issues to a false black/white dichotomy.

Local Church, The, Watchman Nee, Anaheim, CA: Controversial movement begun in China in the early 1920s by Ni To-sheng (Watchman Nee). Growth and controversy developed during the administration of their second leader, the late Witness Lee, who moved to America in 1962 founding Living Stream Ministry. Among issues drawing criticism from evangelical Christians is the Local Church's use of the term "mingling" to describe the relationship between God and believers (i.e., Christians become both divine and human like Jesus). Some evangelicals have also charged that the church compromises the Trinity doctrine by confusing the Persons of the Holy Spirit and the Son in a way similar to modalism. The organization's exclusivity has also come under fire. According to Lee, each city can and should have only one church.

Denominationalism is seen as of the Devil. According to critics, the effect is that Lee-led local churches, usually called by the name of their cities (e.g., the Church in Anaheim or the Church in Chicago), become the only true expressions of the Body of Christ. Thus, according to former members, all other churches or denominations are seen as being outside the will of God or not true churches at all. The Local Church has also gained a reputation for threatening legal action to prevent unfavorable public evaluation of its movement. Even Christian critics have been targeted, adding to the evidence that they do not consider believers outside their movement to be true or obedient Christians (1 Corinthians 6:1–8).

Magic: (Magick) Occult ceremonial use of amulets and talismans. May involve necromancy or divination, invocation of infernal deities or use of natural elements to gain supernatural power or knowledge. The word magic is also used to describe a type of stage performance involving legerdemain (slight of hand) or illusion with no alleged psychic or occult power. This type of stage magic is not inherently evil, although occultists have occasionally used stage magic in an attempt to claim supernatural abilities.

Magic—The Gathering: A fantasy role playing card game involving Satanism, witchcraft (see Wicca), and the occult.

Maharishi Ayur-Ved Foundation: Promotes teachings of Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, the founder of Transcendental Meditation.

Maharishi International University, Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, Fairfield, IA: New Age or Hindu beliefs, started by founder of Transcendental Meditation.

Mark Probert's Educational Foundation and Kethra E'Da (Teachers of Light): See Church of E Yada di Shi-ite.

Martindale, Craig: Installed as president of The Way International by founder Victor Paul Weirville in 1982. Martindale resigned leadership April 20, 2000, after a former member filed a lawsuit accusing him of forcing her into a sexual relationship.

Marxism/Leninism, Karl Marx, Frederick Engels, V.I. Lenin: Atheistic philosophy of communism based on the "class struggle" theory of socioeconomic evolution derived from dialectic materialism. Sometimes confused by the uninformed with biblical mandates to care for the poor, and the voluntary sharing of resources practiced by some primitive Christians. Marxism advocates establishment of a classless, stateless society by revolutionary force; it has always led, however, to totalitarian statism, and has never successfully eliminated any class but the bourgeoisie, the middle class, leaving the great majority of its subjects in poverty. It is militantly atheistic. Marx wrote, "The criticism of religion ends with the teaching that man is the highest being for man?" He contended that man "looked for a superhuman being in the fantastic reality of heaven and found nothing there but the reflection of himself." Wrote Engels, "we have once and for all declared war on religion and religious ideas and care little whether we are called atheists or anything else." Citing Marx and Engels as his authorities, Lenin declared that "the philosophical basis of Marxism" is "a materialism which is absolutely atheistic and positively hostile to all religion." His hostility bordered on hysteria: "Every religious idea, every idea of God, even flirting with the idea of God, is unutterable vileness ? vileness of the most dangerous kind, 'contagion' of the most abominable kind. Millions of sins, filthy deeds, acts of violence and physical contagions ? are far less dangerous than the subtle, spiritual idea of a God decked out in the smartest 'ideological' customs?. Every defense or justification of the idea of God, even the most refined, the best intentioned, is a justification of reaction."

Mary's House of David, Mary Purnell, Benton Harbor, MI: Founded by the widow of Benjamin Purnell. See House of David.

Masonry: See Freemasonry.

Master of Life, Dick Sutphen, Agoura Hills, CA: New Age, Reiki, astrology, automatic writing. Publishes the Winners newspaper.

Masters, Roy: Founder of the Foundation of Human Understanding.

Matagiri Sri Aurobindo Center: New Age, yoga, Divine reality, Great Mother, self perfection.

Maya: The Hindu principle that all is an illusion and that ultimately the physical world, contacted through the conscious mind and the five senses, does not represent reality. This philosophy is also taught by many within the New Age Movement.

Maya Factor, Jose Arguelles: New Age book on which the Harmonic Convergence was based.

Mayan Order, San Antonio, TX: New Age, Unity between man's Inner force and Cosmic Universal force. Publishes Mayan Mysteries magazine.

McKean, Kip: See International Churches of Christ.

Meditation: Entering an altered state of consciousness by use of a mantra, yoga, deep relaxation techniques, controlled breathing or visualization. Often linked to Eastern metaphysical philosophies, the New Age and/or Eastern religions, these techniques promote the emptying of the mind or the suspension of critical thinking. This is different from biblical Meditation where one is encouraged to meditate on God, His attributes or His word, employing the whole mind (Joshua 1:8; Luke 10:27).

Meditation Group for New Age, Ojai, CA: Esoteric philosophy, meditation.

Medium: A psychic or channeler who claims to be able to contact and communicate with the dead, as in a seance. Such occult communication with the dead, known as necromancy, is forbidden in the Bible.

Mega: Periodical of the New Age Community Church.

Megiddo Mission Church, L.T. Nichols, Rochester, NY: Denies Trinity; Heaven and Hell are illusions; the Devil is of man's imagination.

Menhir: "Long Stone." See Stonehenge.

Meridians: See Chi, Yin and Yang, Acupuncture.

Mesmer, Franz: Founder of Mesmerism.

Mesmerism: An 18th century movement begun in France by the Austrian doctor Franz Anton Mesmer, who believed that astrological influence on humans was conveyed through a force or substance similar to magnetism. He first began treating patients with magnets or charged fluids but quickly modified his position, theorizing that cures were actually coming from an energy or mysterious "magnetic fluid" coming from the hands, voice, or nervous system of the practitioner. This invisible substance or magnetism was thought to be similar to electro-magnetism and was dubbed "Animal Magnetism." Mesmer's pupils were later able to induce a "magnetic sleep" (trance state or hypnotic condition) in their patients. The term Mesmerism eventually became analogous with hypnosis and was linked with both Spiritualism and Mind Science religions. See Altered States of Consciousness.

Messianic Assemblies of Yahweh, North Warren, PA: Sacred Name group; publishes The Messianic Messenger newsletter.

Metaphysics: (Meta, "after" or "beyond"; physics "physical"). Originally any study or discussion of non-physical, spiritual, or non-material realities. Later, in modern usage, it usually means experimentation with, belief in, or practice of magic, psychic powers, or the occult.

Metaphysical Institute for Research and Development, Dallas, TX: New Age, Christ-consciousness, man is divine, meditation breathing, God is All.

Midwest Research of Michigan, Walled Lake, MI: Visualization, deep relaxation techniques, Subliminal tapes.

Milieu Control: One of eight criteria of Mind Control according to Robert Lifton's theory of Thought Reform. Milieu control is the systematic, strict regulation of human communication, relationships, and access to outside information and alternative viewpoints.

Miller, Monte Kim: See "Concerned Christians."

Miller, William: Baptist lay minister from Low Hampton, New York who was excommunicated for teachings that Christ would return in 1844. Although Miller repented after his prediction failed and opposed further speculations, his teachings gave rise to Adventism.

Mind/Body Medical Institute, Herbert Benson, Cambridge, MA: Affiliated with Harvard Medical School, the Institute was founded by Dr. Herbert Benson, the Chief of Behavioral Medicine at Harvard, to research and train practitioners in holistic health.

Mind Control: (Thought Reform, brainwashing) While evangelicals are lack consensus on the nature, extent or, in some cases, even existence of Mind Control, the Bible does warns against seducers, deceivers, and exploiters who employ methods that can bring about spiritual harm and/or personal abuse. The Mind Control or Thought Reform model, as for instance developed by Robert Lifton, suggests that there are specific methods of deception that can be employed by abusive spiritual leaders that may result in a diminished capacity for critical thinking and suppression of autonomy in their followers. These methods are believed to involve an intense social influence conditioning program which may include a closed system of authoritarian control, manipulative, group dynamics, a system of punishment and rewards, induced dissociation or trance induction, information control, fraud, coercion, and double binds. Depending on the number and intensity of undue influence elements, and a person's own unique susceptibilities, one may experience a pseudo personality change and marked debilitation, compliance, and servitude. The Mind Control model should not be interpreted to mean that the subject is not responsible for the consequences of his or her decisions and actions. The Mind Control theory is not justification for holding individuals against their will or for conducting forcible, involuntary deprogramming.

Mind Power Technique: New Age process to read auras and balance chakras.

Mind Sciences: A generic, general classification of religious groups that hold to the belief that human beings are inherently divine and that mind or thoughts are energy forms that can create and/or alter reality. Most often used in reference to the American religions formed since the middle of the 19th century, especially Christian Science, New Thought, and Religious Science, that deny the actuality of sin, sickness, and/or death and promote health through mental practices.

Miracle Distribution Center, Fullerton, CA: A Course in Miracles promotional organization. Publishes The Holy Encounter newsletter.

Mitchell, Wayman: Founder of the Potter's House church movement.

Mo Letters: See The Family (Children of God).

Modalism: (Patripassianism, Modalistic Monarchianism, Sabellianism, Jesus Only, Oneness Pentecostalism) Originally, a second and third century heresy that denies the doctrine of the Trinity, teaching there is only one Person in the Godhead. While the Trinity doctrine teaches three distinct Persons, modalism maintains that one Person (usually the Father) has manifested Himself at different times under different names (Jesus/Spirit) or modes. Thus, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost are three names for the same Person. Originally taught in various forms by Noetus, Praxeas and Sabellius. Modified forms of this doctrine can be found in the teachings of William Branham, some Apostolic churches and the United Pentecostal Church.

Mother Ruth: See Science of Man.

Mohammed: Founder of the world religion of Islam.

Monarchianism: View found primarily in the third century that denied the Trinity, arguing that because God's nature is one He cannot exist eternally in three Persons. The two most popular forms of monarchianism were dynamic monarchianism and modalism.

Mon-Ka Retreat and Universal Mother Mary's Garden of Healing, Energy, Love and Light, Mary Pacquette, Gabriel Green, Grass Valley, CA: Channeling, UFOs, I AM teachings of St. Germain, Ascended Masters, crystals, Rosicrucian teachings, psychic readings. Publishes the News From The Mountain Top newsletter.

Monroe Institute, Robert Monroe, Faber, VA: Out-of-Body experiences, Evolution of Human Consciousness.

Moon, Sun Myung: Founder of the Unification Church.

Moonies: Nickname for followers of Rev. Sun Myung Moon's Unification Church. Considered a derogatory term by members.

Mormon Fundamentalism: A loose collection of doctrines and practices maintained by splinter groups of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (LDS). These splinter groups attempt to adhere to the tenets of earlier LDS leaders such as Joseph Smith and Brigham Young. Expressions of Mormon fundamentalism may include polygamy (forbidden by the LDS Church in the 1890s), communal living, and the blood atonement doctrine.

Mormonism: Common name for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Moses de Leon: See Kabbalah.

Moyers, Bill: Former Baptist who is known for his exploration of New Age themes on public television. On PBS specials he promoted Joseph Campbell's Power of Myth as well as holistic health, i.e., New Age medicine.

Mystical Manipulation: One of eight criteria of Mind Control according to Robert Lifton's theory of Thought Reform. A group dynamic involving contrived, manipulated behavior designed to appear spontaneous which produces feelings and/or actions that are misinterpreted as spiritual phenomena.

Mysticism: The theory or belief that man can know God or religious truth through the inward perception of the mind, internal illumination, or special revelation, and that such knowledge is more immediate, direct, and reliable than that obtained by ordinary understanding or sense perception.

N

Narcanon, Los Angeles, CA: Promotes Scientology philosophy.

Nation of Islam, Elijah Muhammad: A sect of Islam originating in America composed of black Americans. Followers, sometimes called Black Muslims, believe that Allah (God) appeared in 1930 to the last great prophet Elijah Muhammad, in the person of Wallace D. Fard. Elijah Muhammad borrowed many beliefs from traditional Islam but introduced important differences. Most notable was the focus on black oppression and equating Satan and evil with the white race. Malcolm X became a notable leader of the movement in the 1960s and the focus on black supremacy and militancy escalated. Malcolm X later converted to traditional Islam and rejected radical black supremacy and was subsequently murdered. The current leader of the Nation of Islam is Louis Farrakhan. Profile available.

Nation of Yahweh, Yahweh ben Yahweh (a.k.a., Hulon Mitchell, Jr.), Miami, FL: Sacred Name group; believes God is Black and that Mitchell is God.

National Spiritual Science Center, Alice Tindalli, Washington, D.C.: Pantheism, Universal Creative Energy.

National Spiritualist Association of Churches, Cassadaga, FL: Occult, spiritualism, mediums.

Native American Spirituality: The religious beliefs, practices, and rituals associated Native Americans. Early Native American beliefs, though diverse, often shared common religious ideas. Many believed in a "Great Spirit," that nature in all of its forms possesses spirits (animism or spiritism), and that all life is interconnected. Seasons and moons often were viewed as marking times of evocation for spirits and prosperity. Some New Age believers promote revival of Native American spirituality, seeing obvious parallels with their own views.

Natural Law Party: Political party started by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, the father of Transcendental Meditation (TM). Critics allege it exists to promote the Maharishi's religious movement at taxpayers' expense through campaign matching funds provided for political candidates in the United States.

Nature's Sunshine, Kristine Hughes, Spanish Fork, UT: Holistic health, especially iridology, reflexology, muscle testing; also visualization. Publishes the Natures Field newsletter.

Near-death experience (NDE): Any paranormal or supernatural experience had when a person is near death, including experiences when a person thinks he or she has died and returned from death. Reports of NDEs have become numerous in recent decades due to advances in medical technology that make it possible to revive people from comas and other critical conditions. Many patients report having out-of-body experiences (OBEs) while they were unconscious or comatose.

Necromancy: A form of divination in which a person attempts to discover the future or obtain other information through communication with the dead, typically using occult methods.

Nelson, Bernard, San Antonio, TX: Occult, talisman, charms, amulets, UFOs, alchemy. Publishes The Illustrated Cosmic Machine newsletter.

Neo-Orthodox Christianity: Development associated with the strong reaction of Swiss theologians Karl Barth and Emil Brunner against the barrenness of liberal Christianity. They felt that Scripture, although a flawed, fallible, human product, could still be used by God to accomplish His purposes. Thus the Bible becomes inspired in its proclamation when the Holy Spirit quickens faith and obedience in its hearers. Thus, like liberalism, this view results in a subjective, existential encounter, which denies absolute propositional truth in revelation.

Neo-Paganism: The modern revival of paganism, emphasizing witchcraft (see Wicca), goddess worship, and nature worship.

Neo-Pythagorean Gnostic Church: See Proclus Society and Neo-Pythagorean Gnostic Church.

Nettles, Bonnie Lou: See Heaven's Gate.

Neuro-Linguistic Programming (NLP): New Age. Techniques developed by Richard Bandler and Dr. John Grinder that allegedly enable practitioners to read random eye movements and other visual cues during conversation or counseling to "program" a client's behavior and restructure their core beliefs. Called "software for the brain," it is supposed to be faster and more powerful than traditional clinical counseling and can work without the subject's conscious knowledge. The co-founders have been heavily involved with other New Age practices. NLP failed scientific tests conducted by the U.S. Army.

New Age: See the Definitions section in the introduction. Profile available.

Occult Americana, Panesville, OH: Occult / pagan periodical.

Odinism: A return to the gods of Norse mythology, Odin being the chief or supreme god, also known as Woden or Wotan. Originally worshipped as the god of warriors or leaders, it is his responsibility to delay, as long as possible, Ragnarok, the day of doom. He gained use of the Runes and passed these on to men.

Olcott Library, Wheaton, IL: New Age library, Theosophy, parapsychology, reincarnation.

Omega Institute for Holistic Studies, Hudson River Valley, NY: New Age, aromatherapy, Kabbalah studies, astrology, crystals, Mystical Quest.

Omega Press, New Lebanon, NY: Sufism. Publishes the Omega Press newspaper.

One to Grow On, Trena Sutphen, Malibu, CA: New Age, subliminal tapes for children, magic, and higher self.

Oneness Pentecostalism: (Jesus Only) A heresy that emerged from the mainstream Pentecostal movement during the years 1914–1916. Unlike traditional Pentecostals, "Oneness" followers deny the doctrine of the Trinity in favor of a view similar to Monarchianism. In addition to this heresy, most Oneness Pentecostal organizations also teach that speaking in tongues, baptism (in Jesus' name only), and maintaining various moral "standards" are necessary for salvation. See Salvation by Works, Modalism. Profile available.

Ordo Templi Orientis: Occult, Satanism. See Crowley, Aleister.

Orr, Leonard: See Rebirthing International.

Orthodox Christianity: Generically the term orthodox refers to traditional, conservative forms of Christianity, upholding the traditional Christian beliefs about God as a Trinity and about Jesus Christ as taught in the church's early creeds. In this sense orthodox Christianity includes conservative Roman Catholics, and Protestant, evangelical Christianity, and is opposed both to liberal Christianity within Christian denominations and to the teachings of the cults. More specifically, the term Orthodox (with a capital O; or, Eastern Orthodox) refers to the state churches of Eastern Europe and the eastern Mediterranean who split with Roman Catholicism of the West largely over the issue of papal authority.

Ouija Board: Occult "game" using wooden board and pointer which spells out messages allegedly from the dead (a form of necromancy). Many such messages are derived from the subconscious of the operators; however, there is always potential for demonic influence.

Our Lady of Enchantment, Sabrina, Danville, CA: Paganism, witchcraft (see Wicca), "the craft," goddess worship, moon festivals, psychic powers.

Out-of-Body Experience (OBE): Any experience in which a person believes that his or her spirit has temporarily left the physical body and then returned to that same body. Some OBEs are associated with near-death experiences; others are induced through occult or mystical practices, especially in Astral Projection.

Pagan Spiritual Alliance, Selena Fox, Mt. Horeb, WI: Paganism, worship of gods and goddesses, Mother Earth. Publishes Circle magazine.

Pagan Way, Philadelphia, PA: Paganism, denies reality of sin.

Paganism: Historically, paganism has been used as a generic term to describe primitive non-Christian religions and superstitions, including religions centered on the occult. More recently paganism is used as an umbrella term referring to Wicca/witchcraft, ceremonial magic, nature worship, polytheism (especially female deities), and ancient mythologies (Celt, Norse, Egyptian, Greek and Roman).

Palm Reading: (Chiromancy) The occult practice of divination, i.e., predicting the future or gaining hidden knowledge, by reading the shape, lines, or markings on the palm of the hand.

Pan African Orthodox Christian Church, Detroit, MI: Founded by Albert B. Cleage, Jr. a.k.a. Jaramogi Abebe Agyeman. Part of the Black Christian Nationalist Movement. Teaches Jesus is the Black Messiah sent to rebuild the Black Nation Israel and liberate the Black People from oppression, brutality, and exploitation of the white gentile world (from the Black Nationalist Creed).

Pan-American Indian Association: Promotes Native American spirituality.

Panentheism: View of God taught in Process Theology.

Pantheism: The belief that all is One and that One is God, thus all is God. This God is an all-encompassing, impersonal principle or force. A central doctrine for most eastern religions and New Age groups.

Papa Jim San Antonio, TX: Occult, paganism, talismans, herbs. Publishes the Papa Jim quarterly catalog. See Cesar.

Parapsychology: The study of ESP and other supernatural phenomena dating to the foundation of the English Society of Physical Research in 1882 and continued through laboratory research at Duke University Parapsychology Laboratory, Stanford Research Institute and elsewhere. This movement attempts to give scientific validity to occult and/or paranormal activities such as the alleged psychic abilities of Uri Geller.

Peace Community Church, Washington, D.C.: Jesus the mystic, "crystal clear vibration" techniques, Christ-consciousness, mystical meditation.

Peace Mission Movement: Based on the teaching of founder Father Divine, which contains elements of New Thought, asceticism, perfectionism, utopian communalism, and denies existence of race and strictly prohibits discrimination among members. Requires all members to turn over all property and income, severing all ties to everything but the Peace Mission. Room, board, and a small allowance for incidentals are provided in exchange for otherwise unpaid labor in Peace Mission owned businesses or projects. Father Divine did not actually claim to be God, but he fostered the belief in his followers, and required loyalty and obedience from them due only to God. The group claims the biblical prophecies about the coming Jewish Messiah and Christ's second coming were all fulfilled by Father Divine.

Peace Pole: New Age / occult; poles or obelisks around which people sit in order to practice meditation or visualization of World Peace or other topics important to those meditating.

Peacevision, Houston, TX: Visualization; known for the blue and white bumper stickers that read "Visualize World Peace."

Peale, Norman Vincent: Was a popular writer, promoter of the belief in the power of positive thinking popularized through the interfaith magazine, Guideposts. Peale's views of Christianity were heavily influenced by his mentor Ernest Holmes, the founder of Religious Science, and also reflected the philosophies of New Thought, and Unity.

Plain Truth, The: Magazine of the Worldwide Church of God.

Planet Health, Arlington, TX: Yoga, meditation.

Plural Covenant: See Dual Covenant.

Poltergeist: From German ("rattling ghost"); an apparently supernatural disturbance attributed to a ghost or spirit. Usually associated with the visible movement of physical objects by an unseen spiritual (that is, occult) force. See Demon, Spiritualism, Necromancy.

Polytheism: The belief in the existence of a plurality of gods, in contrast to monotheism (one God) or atheism (no God or gods). Examples include Greek, Roman and Norse mythology; ancient Egyptian, Babylonian, and Assyrian religions; and some forms of neo-paganism, Wicca, and New Age belief. Some forms of Hinduism combine polytheism with pantheism (all is God). The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints teaches a form of Christianized polytheism, since it holds that the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost are three Gods and that human beings can become exalted to Godhood.

Positive Confession: Alternative name for the Word-Faith movement.

Potter's House, Wayman Mitchell, Prescott, AZ: Originally called Victory Chapel, churches affiliated with Mitchell go under the names Praise Chapel, The Door, Grace Chapel, The Christian Fellowship, La Capilla de la Victory, La Casa Del Alfarero, and La Puerta. Begun in 1970, Mitchell has over 1,000 churches in 73 countries including Mexico, South America, Australia, Europe, and the Philippines. Numerous former members have alleged mind control and authoritarian/abusive leadership, and the group was the focus of a CBS News 48 Hours investigative report. Mitchell's churches are not affiliated with the Potter's House in Dallas, TX, pastored by T. D. Jakes. Also, The Door is not affiliated with the religious satire magazine by the same name.

Power for Abundant Living: Older name for the main recruitment and initial indoctrination course (and book by the same title) for potential members of The Way International, as developed and taught by its founder Victor Paul Wierwille. His successor, Craig Martindale, produced a revised version of the course entitled The Way of Abundance and Power.

PPPANA, Macan, GA: New Age, yoga, meditation, goddess worship.

Praise Chapel: See Potter's House.

Prana: See Chi.

Presleyterianism: See First Presleyterian Church of Elvis the Divine.

Process Church of the Final Judgement, Robert de Grimston: Occult, Three Great Gods who are Jehovah, Lucifer, and Satan. Dualism—unity of Christ and Satan, both are equally good and should be loved. Grimston who wrote, As It Is, was ousted in 1974. Several splinters formed. Charles Manson was reported to be a member at one time.

Process Theology: Built on the philosophy of Alfred North Whitehead, process theology is a heresy within liberal Christianity that holds that reality is becoming rather than being - in process rather than static. The Bible has a relative authority in that it concurs with one's own self-evident experiences, rather than having absolute authority over all human experiences and beliefs, as in evangelical Christianity. Process theology teaches panentheism (God is in all), which is to be distinguished from pantheism (God is all). Panentheism teaches that even though God is somehow transcendent, He also includes the world within Himself. Therefore, God is in "process," evolving along with creation into future possibilities. Some New Agers (e.g., Matthew Fox) and some Mormons have found value in process theology.

Proclus Society and Neo-Pythagorean Gnostic Church, Chicago, IL: Mixture of occult, Theosophy and Rosicrucianism; teaches yoga, and astrology.

Project X: See Jamilian University of the Ordained.

Prophet, Elizabeth Clare and Mark: See Church Universal and Triumphant.

Prosperity Doctrine: Alternative name for Positive Confession; the term also can apply to some Mind Science teachings.

Prosveta U.S.A., Omraam Mikhael Aivanhov, Los Angeles, CA: Yoga, clairvoyance, esoteric Hinduism. Publishes the Circle of Light newsletter.

Protestantism: Often used generically of all Christian churches that are neither Roman Catholic nor Orthodox, the term more specifically refers to the movement that originated in the 16th century Reformation. Luther, Zwingli, Calvin and others led efforts to correct, reform or "protest" the errors in doctrine and practice that they saw in medieval Roman Catholicism. The 16th century Protestants saw their main doctrinal differences with Catholicism to include: Soli Deo Gloria ("only to God's glory," God's wisdom and glory as opposed to church/papal sovereignty); Sola Scriptura ("Scripture only," the authority of the Bible over official Papal interpretation and tradition), and Sola Gratia (salvation "by grace alone," eternal life received from God as a free gift by grace through faith in the imputed righteousness of Christ rather than by works, rituals, or sacraments).

PROUT, Northampton, MA: An acronym for Progressive Utilization Theory, a Hinduism-based spiritual program teaching meditation and yoga that claims to enable life forms to progress from animals to divinity. PROUT is promoted by Ananda Marga, who hopes to establish through practice of the Theory a single world government and religion. Proutist Universal, Ananda Marga's formal organization for promoting PROUT, publishes Prout Journal and Global Times.

Radiant School, Kenneth Wheller, Mount Shasta, CA: New Age, Ascended Masters, Great White Brotherhood.

Radical Feminism: An outgrowth of the more moderate feminist movement which sought to influence societal views and laws to reflect women's equality and opportunity with men in all areas of culture. Radical feminism, however, pushes for a revolution to free themselves from male enslavement and exploitation. Among those holding this ideology are some lesbians who attempt to perpetuate an actual anti-male position. Theologically, radical feminism finds influence in diverse religious traditions including liberal Christianity, liberation theology, goddess worship, Wicca, neo-paganism, and New Age beliefs. The diversity of the movement aids in widespread recruitment and promotes otherwise unusual political and religious alliances.

Raelian Religion, The, Claude Vorilhon (a.k.a. Rael): UFO group founded by French journalist Vorilhon, who claims to have communication with god-like extraterrestrials known as the Elohim. Publications include: Apocalypse (a quarterly magazine), The Book Which Tells the Truth, and Sensual Meditation. Profile available.

Raja Yoga: See Yoga.

Ram Dass, a.k.a. Richard Alpert: New Age guru.

Ramtha: Spirit entity supposedly channeled by J. Z. Knight.

Rastafarianism, (Ras Tafari, Rastas) Marcus Garvey: African/Jamaican religion. Teaches that the late king of Ethiopia, Haile Selassie, is God. Profile available.

Ray, Sondra: See Rebirthing International.

REACH, Inc. (a.k.a. Holyland), Bishop Luke Edwards, Meridian, MS; Emele, AL: Extreme Oneness Pentecostal group, formerly associated with Pentecostal Assemblies of the World. Both adults and children raise funds by going on the "route" (going on the road for weeks at a time to solicit funds). The most common approach is for children to solicit funds outside stores under the pretense of raising money for abused children.

Rebirthing: New Age. Participants rid themselves of negative karma (traumas/problems) by being regressed back to the womb and reenacting the trauma of their birth experience or previous births (reincarnation). Originally hot tubs or saunas were used but later practitioners developed "dry" rebirthing techniques.

Rebirthing International, Leonard Orr: Co-author of Rebirthing in the New Age with Sondra Ray; helped develop and popularize the New Age practice of rebirthing.

Recovery Version of the New Testament: Version used by the The Local Church.

Redaction criticism: A relatively new branch of biblical literary criticism that attempts to infer the theological purposes of the "redactors" (anonymous editors, compilers, or revisers) who are thought to have helped to rewrite or shape various books of the Bible (especially the Gospels) into their final form. Whereas form criticism focuses on discerning the literary form and origins of specific passages, redaction criticism focuses on the use of those passages to convey the message of the book as a whole. Redaction criticism assumes that the book in question was written using different sources that were selected and edited to emphasize or convey certain theological concepts. Scholars in liberal Christianity typically assume further that the books that draw on the same sources (notably the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, and Luke) use those sources to convey conflicting ideas. Scholars in evangelical Christianity are divided as to whether a mild form of redaction criticism can be legitimately employed without impugning the inerrancy of the Bible.

Redfield, James: New Age astrologer and author of the best-selling fiction, The Celestine Prophecy.

Reflexology: New Age, holistic health practice that purports to heal the body through massaging certain parts of the foot or hand that allegedly correspond to the major organs of the body. It is sometimes believed to work by opening blocked meridians in the body which will then allow the body's energy or chi to flow freely. The foot or hand is seen as a microcosm of the human body and/or the universe.

Reformation: The 16th century movement initiated by Martin Luther, initially intended to correct, protest, or reform the doctrines and practices of Roman Catholicism. Luther's efforts (later joined and expanded by Zwingli, Bucer, Calvin and others) quickly developed into a complete break with Catholicism. The reformers' major doctrinal issues included a rejection of: the authority of the following: the authority of the Pope, church control of Bible translation and interpretation, a distinction in value between laity and clergy, and salvation being a product of the church and its sacraments (salvation by works). A more thorough (and in some cases unorthodox) reform occurred with the Radical Reformation—the orthodox Anabaptist movement being an example. To various degrees, virtually all Protestant denominations today share a common heritage concerning the issues of the Reformation.

Reiki: New Age, metaphysical theory of holistic health involving the movement of the practitioner's hand over and near (but not on) the patient's body to allegedly balance or redirect energy chakras.

Reincarnation: Belief originating with religions of the East (e.g. Hinduism) that when a person dies he has the ability to come again to the earth, inhabit a new body, and live as many lives as needed to progress towards a religious goal. Whereas Hindus typically believe that reincarnation includes transmigration of souls between animal, plant, and even inanimate forms, New Age believers typically restrict reincarnation to human and celestial forms. Reincarnation generally assumes a doctrine of karma. The idea is the basis for the practice of attempting past life regression.

Religious Science, Ernest Holmes: One of the Mind Sciences, professes to represent the best thought of all religions. Similar to New Thought.

Remnant of YHWH, Mark Deacon, Abilene, TX: Sacred Name splinter group from House of Yahweh; teaches Sabbatarianism, British Israelism.

Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (RLDS), Former name of largest Mormon splinter group. See, Community of Christ.

Restoration Branches: A conservative split from the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints [RLDS] (now known as, Community of Christ) that holds what they believe to be a more classical, historical RLDS understanding of basic doctrines, Joseph Smith, and the Book of Mormon. They generally view the institutionalized Community of Christ church as being too liberal in theology and perhaps on social issues as well.

Reverend Ike, a.k.a., Frederick Eikerenkoetter, II: Pantheism; general prosperity doctrine.

R I Research, New York, NY: New Age; selects people called Beyonders, claims to possess Superior Essence.

Rice, Anne: Author of The Witching Hour, Vampire Chronicles, Interview with A Vampire, and other books with occult subject matter.

Roman Catholicism: Diverse worldwide religious tradition that officially looks to the Pope and his predecessors/successors as God's human leader of world Christianity. Because of its size and scope—both in membership (about a billion people worldwide) and geographically, the actual beliefs held by devout Catholics are widespread and eclectic. Catholicism has been influenced by liberation theology, especially in parts of South America. In Africa, the Caribbean, and elsewhere, attempts have been made to blend Catholicism with spiritism, creating a type of Catholicism with occult elements. In addition, since the 1960s there has been a small but significant element of charismatic Catholics who have been influenced by the larger charismatic movement. A small percentage of Catholics are doctrinally evangelical, and others (such as Matthew Fox) are part of the New Age movement. As a whole, however, the differences between Roman Catholicism and Protestantism are still seen most clearly in the issues of the Reformation. The 16th century reformers distinguished themselves from Catholicism in two key ways. First, they saw the Bible as the sole foundation for authority (sola scriptura) rather than the Pope, church dogma or tradition. Second, the reformers taught salvation by "grace alone" (sola gracia). They also insisted that sola gracia could be faithfully maintained only by understanding the gospel to be the message of a free pardon and righteous standing with God through "faith alone" (sola fide) in the imputed righteousness of Christ. The Roman Catholic Church claimed (and still claims) to affirm sola gracia, but anathematized sola fide, teaching instead that grace is received and maintained by a combination of faith plus works (religious rites, sacraments, or human endeavor).

Ro-Hun Therapy: Balancing the energy fields of the human body (see chi).

Rosicrucian Anthroposophic League, S.R. Parchment, New York, NY: Break-off of Rosicrucian Fellowship.

Rosicrucian Fellowship, Max Heindel, Oceanside, CA: Reincarnation, chakra, astrology. See Rosicrucianism.

Rosicrucian Foundation, Swinburne Clymer, Quakertown, PA: Oldest group of Rosicrucianism in the U.S.; reincarnation, astrology.

Rosicrucian Order, a.k.a. Ancient and Mystical Order of the Rosae Crucis (AMORC), H. Spence Lewis, San Jose, CA: Most successful organization promoting Rosicrucianism in the US. Esoteric reinterpretation of Christianity; mixture of occult alchemy, astrology, Secret Wisdom of past Masters, secret society, magic.

Rosicrucianism, Christian Rosenkreutz: (Literally the "Rose cross") Occult secret society allegedly founded in 1407 in Germany by Christian Rosenkreutz, who was under the influence of Egyptian occultism. The movement has fragmented into a number of competing organizations promoting variations of the same general pantheistic, occult themes. Similar to Theosophy.

Rowan Tree, Paul Beyerlf, Minneapolis, MN: Paganism, Mother Earth, magic, astrology. Publishes The Littlest Unicorn newsletter.

Rune: A figure or character in the ancient Nordic magical alphabet of 24 symbols. They are used for divination of the future, performing magic, or evoking Norse deities.

Russell, Charles Taze: Founder of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

Sabbatarianism: Generally the view that the Old Testament Sabbath commandment is to be observed unchanged by the church. As used in this index, Sabbatarianism refers to an extreme form of the belief in which membership in the true church, or even salvation, is conditional upon keeping the Sabbath law. As such, Sabbatarianism is at the least a form of legalism and at most a denial of salvation by grace. In most cases, the Jewish Sabbath (Saturday) must be observed by refraining from work, sports, and travel from sundown Friday evening to sundown Saturday evening. The belief is often accompanied by the observance of Jewish dietary laws and/or other Old Testament feasts.

Sabellianism: Alternative name for Modalism.

Sabin, Robert: A well-known Oneness Pentecostal pastor, writer, and speaker.

Sabo, Sandra, Gloucester, MA: Channeler, crystal healing, spirit guides.

Sacred Cycles, Bette Barr-Glover, San Juan Capistrano, CA: Paganism, divine feminine in each person, numerology, astrology, guided meditation. Publishes the Sacred Cycles newsletter.

Sacred Mushroom and the Cross, The, John Allegro: Book and corresponding church by the late Dead Sea Scroll scholar, Dr. Allegro. "Jesus" is allegedly the New Testament code word for a mushroom to be used as a sacrament to induce hallucinations and altered states of consciousness.

Sacred Name movement: Although some Orthodox Jews and others believe that the name of God is too sacred to speak (and/or fully write), as used in this Index the Sacred Name movement refers to a modern movement that claims that God must be addressed by a form of the Divine Name in the Old Testament (Yahweh, Jehovah, Yah, Yahvah, or some other preferred form). Whichever one true name is chosen, all other terms or names for God are considered incorrect or references to false deities. Salvation, it is believed, depends on referring to God by His correct name. Most Sacred Name groups also teach Sabbatarianism and observe Old Testament dietary laws and feasts.

Sacred Order of Mystic Christianity, Mountain View, CA: New Age, mystic keys, Inner God, Christ within, higher self.

Sacred Science: One of eight criteria of Mind Control according to Robert Lifton's theory of Thought Reform. The group considers their doctrines and beliefs to be sacred and beyond question. Thus, no alternative viewpoint is allowed to exist and open consideration of alternative ideas and free discussion are quashed.

Sadhana Society Prescott, AZ: New Age, ESP, Astral Projection, telekinesis, levitation, clairvoyance.

Saint Germain: See I AM Movement, Ascended Masters.

Saint Germain Foundation, Schaumburg, IL: Similar to the I AM Movement.

Salvation by Grace: The doctrine and message of the gospel that eternal life is not gained by or conditioned on works but is an undeserved and free gift from God received through faith in Jesus Christ as the Lord and Savior who died for our sins and rose from the dead. Contrasted with salvation by works.

Salvation by Works: Any doctrine that denies salvation by grace alone by teaching that eternal life is merited, earned, conditioned, or maintained through human effort, religious ritual, financial donations, obedience to laws/commandments, church membership, and/or moral behavior.

Samhain: (pronounced Sah-ween) Alternative name for Halloween.

Sanctuary of Gaia, Santa Cruz, CA: Gaia, paganism, Earth festivals.

Sanctuary of Revealing Light, Mildred Smith: Spiritualism; see also International General Assembly of Spiritualists.

Sankirtana: Religious chant or mantra repeated over and over to draw practitioners into an ever closer state of God-consciousness.

Santeria: Literally "worship of the saints," a syncretism of Roman Catholicism and traditional African polytheistic religions established when African slaves were introduced to the Caribbean. Elements include animal sacrifice and voodoo.

Satan, (The Devil, The Serpent): Lucifer, a high ranking angel who wanted to be exalted to the position of God. Through this sin, Lucifer fell and became Satan, the Devil, leading a large number of rebellious angels with him who became the demons. Satan and his host now seek to destroy the plan and people of God. He will ultimately fail and be eternally punished (Matthew 25:41, Revelation 20:10).

Satanic Bible: Scripture of the Church of Satan written by the late Anton LaVey.

Satanism: Represented by two separate groups, secular and traditional Satanists. The secularists do not believe in a literal, personal, spiritual being called Satan, but rather consider Satan to be an archetype or symbol that represents the ideas of Satanic philosophy. Various satanic ideals include self-interest, indulgence, an anti-herd mentality, and an emphasis upon rational self-interest. Examples of modern Satanism include The Church of Satan founded by Anton LaVey and now led by Peter Gilmore as High Priest, Michael Aquino's Temple of Set, and Lord Egan's First Church of Satan. Traditional Satanism, which involves the worship of the Satan of the Bible through a perversion and parody of Roman Catholicism, appeared in the fifteenth century coming out of the Inquisition. Contemporary expressions of traditional Satanism are rare, and popular elements of it, including the testimonies of alleged former Satanists and Satanic Ritual Abuse have been discredited.

Self-Revelation Church of Absolute Monism, Swami Premananda, Washington, D.C.: Pantheism.

Serpent Seed: Doctrine that alleges Eve's sin in the Garden of Eden (Genesis 3) was sexual. Eve had intercourse with the Serpent and begot Cain, whose father is really Satan not Adam. Cain's descendants were supposedly somehow perpetuated after the flood (usually through Noah's son Ham). Diverse groups teach variations of this doctrine. Cain's descendants are: Jews according to the Christian Identity Movement, Communists/Atheists according to the Unification Church, Whites according to the Nation of Yahweh, the lost according to William Branham, etc.

Seth: Spirit entity supposedly channeled by Jane Roberts.

SEVA, CRISTAL: See Spiritual Human Yoga.

Seven Oaks, Madison, VA: New Age, channeling, Celebration of Female Spirit, Native American Vision Quest, Mother Earth, Gaia.

Seventh Day Adventist Church (SDA), Washington, DC: The largest Adventist church. Ellen G. White, who claimed to have "the spirit of prophecy," was an important early leader of the movement and taught a number of distinctive SDA doctrines, including the Investigative Judgment and Sabbatarianism. While the church's official theology now appears to be generally in the tradition of evangelical Christianity, certain SDA claims and unique doctrines continue to raise questions. These doctrines include the SDA belief that Sunday worship will result in the "Mark of the Beast," imbalanced teachings on keeping the commandments (baptism, Sabbath observance) that often implies a kind of salvation by works, the "Remnant Church" doctrine that implies that the SDA is or will be God's only true church, and the doctrine of the Investigative Judgment. Profile available.

Shafenberg Research Foundation, Ernest Shafenberg, Kingfisher, OK: New Age, occult, iridology, reflexology, astrology, channeling, reincarnation, psychic readings.

Shamanism: Spiritual world view of Native American and other early cultures that believe that "shamans," witch doctors or spiritual leaders, can provide healing, guidance (i.e., divination), or wisdom through the occult, spiritism, or altered states of consciousness. The shaman's soul is sometimes believed to leave the body during a trance (see out-of-body experiences, astral projection), at which time the shaman will speak with beings from the other worlds or assume animal forms.

Shared Heart Foundation, Joyce and Berry Vissell, Aptos, CA: New Age, promotes numerous mystical and esoteric writers.

Shenoa Retreat Center, Philo, CA: New Age, consciousness healing, uses A Course in Miracles, Hinduism, Buddhism.

Shepherding: Christian growth is allegedly facilitated by yielding personal freedoms to a discipler or "shepherd" who controls virtually every aspect of an individual's life. This is a form of spiritual abuse, a manipulative distortion of true biblical discipleship that can ultimately rob individuals of their liberty and autonomy that is to be found in Christ. Used by many traditional cults, as well as by some religious organizations that are not cultic in their basic doctrine.

Shepherd's Chapel, Arnold Murray Gravette, AR: Denies the Trinity, teaching instead a doctrine similar to Modalism. Also teaches that humans existed as "gods" in a pre-creation existence with God. Advocates British Israelism and a form of the serpent seed doctrine. Profile available.

Shintoism: (Shen-Tao "the way of the gods.") Ancient polytheistic religion of Japan that focuses more on Japanese Culture, traditions, attitudes and ideology rather than a system of doctrines or code of ethics. The roots of the movement are obscure, but it eventually developed into the idea that Japan, unlike other countries, was uniquely fathered by the god Izanami, whose consort, the goddess Izanagi, gave birth to the Japanese islands. Consequently the concept evolved that Japanese people are divine and superior to other humans. In one form of the religion, State Shintoism, the Japanese emperors were seen as infallible descendants of the gods. Today devotion centers around public shrines and home altars dedicated to ancestors and gods. The sun goddess Amaterasu is the chief deity worshipped, and a belief in kami, a form of spiritism, is also maintained.

Shiva: The "destroyer," third member of the triad of gods in Hinduism, the others being Brahma and Vishnu.

Shriners: See Freemasonry.

Shunning: (Disfellowshipping) An effective technique of control used by Jehovah's Witnesses and other groups to instill discipline, punish, or maintain idealistic purity. Members who do not maintain the group's behavioral expectations or who disagree on dogma are isolate the current, faithful members. This includes, in most cases, even family members or friends, who are not allowed to talk or share a meal with the shunned. The faithful, who violate the rule and communicate with the dissident, can themselves be shunned. The practice has been identified as a form of milieu control, one of the characteristic marks of cultic mind control.

Siddha Yoga Dham of America, Swami Muktananda Paramahansa, South Fallsburg, NY: Eastern mysticism, meditation, God-Realization.

Siegel, Bernie: New Age author/doctor promoting meditation, spiritism, visualization and holistic health.

Sikhism, Nanak: A religion, based mostly in the Punjab province of India, that attempts to blend Hinduism and Islam. The movement is based on a vision and subsequent teachings of founder Nanak in the 15th century AD. Disciples, called Sikhs, follow the one true God named Sat Nam ("True Name"). Their main scriptures are contained in the Granth Sahib ("The Lord's Book"), compiled by the guru Arjan, and salvation is viewed as a merging with the universal force (as in pantheism) .

Subud, Bapak Mohammad Subuh Sumohadiwidjojo [1901-1987]: Originated in Java, Indonesia, Subud has spread worldwide. Subud stands for three words, Susila, Budhi, and Dharma. The three words taken together mean, "to follow the Will of God with the help of the Divine Power that works both within us and without, by the way of surrendering oneself to the Will of Almighty God" (Internet; <http://www.subud.org/english/english.Btalk.html>). This surrendering of oneself occurs primarily in a spiritual exercise known as the latihan (sometimes, latihan kejiwaan), a trance like state that can produce anything from ecstatic movement and utterance to profound calm. Disengagement of the "passions, desires, and thinking" is essential for entrance into the latihan. "Only by surrendering himself completely to God, not making use of his mind, his heart or his desire, is it possible for man to come into contact with the Power of God" (Ibid.). Thus all the higher critical faculties that set man apart from beast must be suspended. Whatever the experience thus induced, it is simply to be surrendered to and "received." From a Christian point of view this is a perfect recipe for demonic possession. Regular practice of the latihan enables one to discern one's true self, which apparently turns out to be God. "So this Divine Power, which works in us during the exercise, will bring to each person what is already in himself?. Therefore, Bapak says that it is God Who will lead you toward Himself and what really happens in the latihan is that you will be introduced to your real inner self—to the real 'I'. You must not be afraid and you must not be worried because whatever comes to you in your latihan is only what is in you, and it comes from your inner self. It is the real you that arises in the latihan,?" (Ibid.).

Sufi Order of the Sons of the Green Light, New York, NY: See Sufism.

Sufism: Mystical sect of Islam. Rather than focusing on the Five Pillars of Islam, Sufis seek ultimate religious experience through mystic trances or altered states of consciousness, often induced through twirling dances (the "whirling dervish"). Unidentified Flying Objects (UFOs): The term is used generally for all reported sightings of unidentified objects in the sky, most of which turn out to be natural phenomena (e.g., Venus) or man-made craft (e.g., weather balloons). More specifically, the term UFOs refers to allegedly sighted "flying saucers" or other alien spacecrafts. UFO beliefs can range between innocuous speculation that extraterrestrial beings may have visited Earth to quasi-religious devotion to the alleged presence and teachings of aliens. Often these beings are believed to be non-physical (spiritual) entities who are communicating telepathically (psychically) with contactees. Their messages are virtually always contrary to biblical beliefs.

Unification Church, Sun Myung Moon, New York, NY: Full name, Holy Spirit Association for the Unification of World Christianity. Jesus brought only spiritual salvation; another "savior" is needed to fulfill Jesus' mission. Moon is that Messiah (or Christ) and "Lord of the Second Advent." This group has over 200 front organizations. Moon's Divine Principle is scripture. See Serpent Seed. Profile available.

Unitarianism: Generically, the rejection of the doctrine of the Trinity in favor of the idea that God is exclusively one person. Unlike monarchianism or modalism, which view Jesus as a manifestation of the unipersonal God, or subordinationism, which views Jesus as a secondary divine being (e.g., the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society), Unitarianism views Jesus as a mere human being. Specifically, the term refers to the Unitarian movement that originated in late 18th-century New England and to the denominational body that merged with the Universalists in the 20th century to form the Unitarian-Universalist Association.

Unitarian Universalist Association: A denomination formed in 1961 by the merger of the American Unitarian Association (the principal religious body teaching Unitarianism) and the Universalist Church in America (which emphasized universalism). While the two parent denominations were rooted in liberal Christianity, the UUA does not even profess to be a specifically Christian body. Its churches exhibit an eclectic blend of liberal Christianity, humanism, atheism, and neo-paganism.

United Church of God: Armstrongism splinter group.

United Church of Jesus Christ: Oneness Pentecostal.

United Lodge of Theosophists, New York, NY: See Theosophy.

United Pentecostal Church International: The largest Oneness Pentecostal church body.

United Research, James V. Goure, Black Mountain, NC: New Age, Christ-consciousness, energy fields, meditation, extra-dimensional communication. Publishes the U R Light newsletter.

Unitology Thought, Indianapolis, IN: Meditation, visualization.

Unity Churches: Affiliated with the Unity School of Christianity.

Unity of Knowledge Foundation, Edith May Custard, Arlington, VA: Mixture of Theosophy and the teachings of Alice Bailey.

Unity School of Christianity, Charles and Myrtle Fillmore, Lee's Summit, MO: New Age. God is the invisible, intangible something called Life. The Father is Principle, Jesus was the most complete manifestation of the One Mind, and the Holy Spirit is the activity of the God-Mind in the consciousness of man. Denies the reality of evil, pain, sickness and death. Profile available.

Unity Village: Unity School of Christianity headquarters in Lee's Summit, MO.

Universal Christian Movement, Glencoe, IL: God is Power, uses Mind Power for healing; all humans are God. Publishes The Christian Liberation newsletter.

Universal Faithists of Kosmon, George Morley: Occult, karma, "at-one-ment" with the All Highest, channeling. Uses OAHSP for text.

Universal Harmony Foundation, Seminole, FL: Practical Metaphysics, REALization, Deity-and-Man.

Universal Life Church, Kirby Hensley, Medesto, CA: All people have the right to do what they feel is right; subjective truth.

Universal Life Church of the Seven African Powers, Miami, FL: Santeria; honor the god Ogun.

Universal Life Temple, New Port, MI: New Age, Atlantis, aura, fifth dimensional consciousness, levitation, telepathy.

Universal Light of Christ Church, Pat RaimondoAzle, TX: Raimondo claims that Jesus appeared to her; latter day revelation, Christ-consciousness.

Universal Mother Mary's Garden: See Mon-Ka Retreat...

Universal Network, Aztec, NM: UFOs, space communiqués, cosmic telepathy, spiritual hierarchy. Publishes Universal Network newsletter.

Universal Spiritualist Association, Chesterfield, IN: Spiritualism, occult, medium, reflexology, ritual magic, divine within.

Universal Temple of Divine Light, Don Slocum, Baton Rouge, LA: New Age, spirit entities, reincarnation, pantheism, Satan and Evil are illusions.

Universalism: Generically, the belief that all people will eventually receive salvation and eternal life. Many different groups hold to universalism from various perspectives and for diverse (and sometimes opposing) reasons. This doctrine is prevalent in liberal Christianity (among both Protestants and Roman Catholics), as well as in the New Age movement and in most non-monotheistic world religions. Specifically, universalism refers to a movement dating from the late 18th century that originally affirmed universalism on the basis that Jesus' redemptive death paid for the sins of all people. As universalism developed it came to affirm that people are acceptable as they are and that no atonement or redemption from sin is needed or provided.

Universarium Foundation, Inc., Portland, OR: New Age, Ascended Masters, channeling.

University of the Christ Light, Charlotte, NC: New Age; inner states of consciousness; man is the essence of God (cf. pantheism); Jesus was an Essene (i.e., a member of a first-century Jewish sect that New Agers theorize was more New Age than Jewish); Universal Mother.

University of the Trees, Christopher Hill, Boulder Creek, CA: New Age, meditation for children, balancing energies (cf. chi), yoga.

University of the 12 Rays of the Great Central Sun: See University of the Christ Light.

Upanishads: One of the books considered scripture in Hinduism.

Upper Triad, Manassas, VA: New Age, pantheism, karma, many paths to God, astral body. Publishes The Upper Triad newsletter.

URANTIA Book, The: Written in 1955, this 2,097 page book reflects a 19th century psychically inspired gospel. Allegedly, Earth's true name is Urantia, and it is part of the universe of Nebadon (itself part of the larger universe of Orvonton) ruled by a committee. The Nebadon commission of twelve, acting under the direction of Mantutia Melchizedek, supposedly delivered portions of the book to earth. Several organizations view the book as scripture. Profile available.

URANTIA Brotherhood, Chicago, IL: URANTIA-based group established in 1955 and reorganized in 1989 after a corporate shakeup. See Fifth Epochal Fellowship.

URANTIA Foundation, Chicago, IL: Established in 1950. Holds the copyright on The URANTIA Book.

Verse 1 of Psalms 91, Marvel, TX: See Church of the Most High God.

Virgin Birth: The belief that when Jesus was conceived and born of Mary she was a virgin, and that Jesus was conceived of the Holy Spirit. (Matthew 1:18–25).

Vishnu: The preserver and second member of the triad of Hindu demigods-gods including Brahma and Shiva.

Vision Quest: Native American spiritual ceremony involving out-of-body experiences or astral projection; also called the Way of Inner Journey.

Visions Travel, Los Angeles, CA: New Age, crystals, dowsing, visualization, spiritual energies.

Visualization: New Age practice of using one's imagination allegedly to affect or manipulate reality. Meditating on, affirmation of, or "naming" of an object or goal, which supposedly creates the desired effect through "mind over matter." See Maya.

Voice of Reality, Phoenix, AZ: New Age newspaper.

Voice of the Olive Tree, Inc., Bernard Harland, Monrovia, CA: Latter day prophet, Jesus' second coming was predicted for 1986 (see false prophecy).

Watchtower: Magazine published by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society; full name, The Watchtower Announcing Jehovah's Kingdom.

Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, Charles Taze Russell, Brooklyn, NY: Satan is the originator of the idea of the Trinity. The Father is the supreme God whose real name is Jehovah. Jesus is a created being known originally as Michael the Archangel; he is "a god," not Jehovah. Jesus only rose spiritually, not bodily, from the dead. The Holy Spirit is the impersonal active force of God. Only the anointed class (or little flock) numbering 144,000 will go to heaven, while faithful "other sheep" will live eternally on a paradise earth; the lost will cease to exist (annihilationism). Publishes the Watchtower and Awake! magazines, the New World Translation of the Holy Scriptures (their own version of the Bible), as well as numerous books. Originally called International Bible Students, followers today are called Jehovah's Witnesses. Profile available.

Way Corps, The: See The Way International.

Way International, The, Victor Paul Wierwille New Knoxville, OH: Jesus is not God or co-equal with God the Father, a Unitarian doctrine of God; latter-day verbal call from God to reestablish the true church. The group meets in small groups called Twigs, usually in members' homes. Main recruitment course is the Way of Abundance and Power, which replaced the old Power for Abundant Living (PFAL) . The American Christian Press is their publishing arm. Their annual concert/convention, the Rock of Ages, has been discontinued. Current leader is Rosalie F. Rivenbark, installed as third president after resignation of Craig Martindale, who was under accusation of sexual misconduct. The Way has experienced several splits in recent years. Profile available.

Wicca: The practice of witchcraft, nature worship, worship of the Gods and Goddess, paganism and neopaganism, various groups with assorted names. In modern form, it is a revival of pagan religions (neo-paganism) and the worship of "pre-Christian" Gods and Goddesses. A common creed is, "Do what you will, and harm none." Modern Wicca owes much to the influence of Gerald B. Gardner and has been further advanced by the writings of Patricia Monaghan, Silver Ravenwolf, the late Doreen Valiente, and the leading occult publisher Llewellyn World Wide Ltd. In popular culture, films and television programs such as The Craft, Practical Magic, Sabrina the Teenage Witch, and Charmed have helped attract teens and children to this growing religion. Womyn Healing, Sandra Boston de Sylvia, Greenfield, MA: Paganism, guided meditation, visions, Gaia festivals.

Word-Faith Movement: A movement based in large part on the teachings of E. W. Kenyon (1867-1948) that became a distinct movement under the teaching and leadership of Kenneth Hagin, a Pentecostal faith-healing evangelist. God himself is said to have created the world and to do all that he does by speaking words of faith. Man's creation in God's image is commonly understood to mean that human beings are "little gods" capable of speaking creative words of faith. The fall of Adam into sin is interpreted as having transformed Adam (and all unredeemed people) into Satan's nature and as having transferred Adam's godhood or dominion on earth to Satan. Jesus is believed to have become man in order to restore human beings to godhood as renewed "incarnations" of God. He is said to have done this by dying spiritually as well as physically on the cross, suffering in hell, and then while in hell becoming the first person to be "born again," before finally being raised from the dead. Those who believe in Jesus are supposedly empowered to speak words of faith again, especially in order to obtain bodily health and financial prosperity (both of which are supposedly guaranteed as present possessions in the Atonement). . In contrast, traditional Christian theology teaches that God and God alone can bring about whatever he chooses; that man was created to reflect God's character and to implement his will, not to be little gods; that man is fallen but not Satanic in nature; that God is still in control of this world; that Jesus Christ alone is God incarnate; that Jesus died physically, not spiritually, to redeem us; that Jesus therefore was not born again; and that health and prosperity are promised to believers in the future resurrection. In the meantime God heals and prospers people providentially and miraculously when and as he sees fit. Most of the followers of the Word-Faith teachers are Pentecostals and other evangelical Christians. Profile available.

Word Over the World (WOW): See The Way International.

World Community, J.E. Rash, Bedford, VI: New Age, mystic, teaches the "five ancient Orders."

World Council of Churches: An international agency promoting interfaith dialogue and ecumenical cooperation among churches. Most participants are mainline denominations dominated by the theological perspective of liberal Christianity.

World Tomorrow, The: The now defunct radio and television program begun by Herbert Armstrong. See Armstrongism.

Worldwide Church of God, Herbert W. Armstrong Pasadena, CA: Under the leadership of its founder, Herbert W. Armstrong, this church rejected the essential doctrines of evangelical Christianity, denying the doctrine of the Trinity, the full deity of Jesus Christ, and the personality of the Holy Spirit. The church epitomized the somewhat eclectic set of beliefs and practices that became known as Armstrongism. Beginning in the early 1990s under the leadership Armstrong's successors, Joseph W. Tkach and his son Joe Tkach, this group has undergone remarkable doctrinal transformation. They now hold to a traditional evangelical position on the nature of God and the gospel, teaching the Trinity and salvation by grace alone, through faith alone. Large numbers of its membership have left to join splinter groups that still teach classic Armstrongism. Publishes The Plain Truth magazine. Profile available.

Yang: See Yin and Yang.

Yes Education Society, Washington, D.C.: New Age, yoga, palm reading, astrology, iridology.

Yi King: Alternative form of the term I Ching.

Yin and Yang: Taoist concept, used in the New Age movement, holding that the universe consists of two opposite energy forces (positive/negative; male/female, etc.). Both are necessary and both must be harmonized for proper function. This Yin and Yang also flow through the human body so that a balance is required to maintain health.

Many New Age holistic health techniques, such as acupuncture, are based on attempts to balance this alleged energy or chi. When all is balanced, the Yin and Yang harmonize and the body works properly.

Yoga: Exercises (physical, mental or spiritual) based on Eastern metaphysical assumptions designed to aid in enlightenment or self-realization. Goals sometimes include altered states of consciousness or uniting the practitioner with the impersonal pantheistic God. Types of Yoga include: Karma Yoga (spiritual union through correct conduct), Bhakti Yoga (spiritual union through devotion to a Guru), Juana Yoga (spiritual union through hidden knowledge), Raja Yoga (spiritual union through mental control), Hatha Yoga (spiritual union through body control/meditation), Kundalini Yoga (spiritual union through focusing inner energy) and Tantra Yoga (spiritual union through sexual practices). Yoga philosophy is based on the concept of reincarnation and is drawn from the Upanishads and other Hindu scriptures.

Zen Buddhism: A branch of Mahayana Buddhism believed to have originated in India from the teachings of a Buddhist master, Bodhidharma, about 600 BC, but traced back by advocates to the Buddha himself. Practitioners seek satori (sudden illumination enabling bliss and harmony), which cannot be explained but only experienced. Techniques include zazen (sitting meditation techniques) and koans, which are short riddles or sayings. The koans (which number about 1,700) are not designed to have cognitive answers but to promote the experience of Zen.

Zodiac: See Astrology.

Zohar/Zolar: See Kabbalah.

Zoroastrianism, Zoroaster: Religion thought to be founded about 600 BC in Persia (present day Iran). According to legend, Zoroaster received enlightenment by the Daitya river when, at age 30, he received a vision of Vohu Manah ("Good Thought") who took him into the presence of lord Ahura-Mazda. Lord Mazda taught Zoroaster the "true religion," rejecting magic and idol worship and promoting belief in heaven, hell, a devil (Angra-Mainyu) and one true god. Later followers, however, worshipped Zoroaster in addition to Mazda. Good Lord Mazda and evil Angra Mainyu are seen as equal in power. Teaches enlightenment and salvation by works, including fire worship and partaking of the hallucinogenic haoma (soma in India).

Astral Projection in 30 Days or Less [Requires committed meditation]

AP / OBE Guide

Important Disclaimer:

Much like our world, the astral realm hold both good and bad entities. As an astral traveler it is important to remember that your soul is eternal and made of love and light; Should you find yourself in a frightful situation while exploring, you can call upon Jesus, with love in your heart, at any time, and be safely protected from any negative entities. [If you are resistant to the idea of Jesus then simply call upon any higher being that inspires love within you. It would be wise to have this established before venturing into the astrals.]

ASTRAL AWAKENING 30

Awaken your Astral Body in just 30 days!

_Begin a 30-day adventure to learn astral travel through meditation and uncover the amazing mysteries that exist beyond our normal perceptions.

Realize that you're much more than just your physical body; you have an Astral Body that lives much longer and can travel through different worlds and lifetimes, while still living your regular life in your physical body!

“whatever is mine cannot be me”

Discovering the Astral Realm shows us that all the magical and terrible places we've dreamed of as humans, are as real as you are while reading these words;

The Astral can teach us so much about life, our spiritual growth, and what comes after we die.

To start the 30-Day Astral Awakening Challenge, you'll need to set aside about 60 hours total for committed meditation. I suggest eating vegetarian and avoiding morally and sexually unethical behavior, as well as staying away from drugs to ease the spiritual process and keep your meditation time effective and focused.

FIRST, invent your own mantra that you will use for these 30 days. It can be anything as long as it doesn't have a specific meaning to your mind and doesn't refer to anything worldly or external.

Examples [Abrakadabra, Waheguru, Radhasoami, Yeshua hu Alaha, La Illaha Ilallah, etc.]

DAILY PROGRAM

MEDITATE for 2 total hours each day. You can break it into parts if you need to.

Start with Calming breath: Either 12 or 24 repetitions, Breathing in for about 4 seconds and out for about 8 seconds.

Next, mentally chant your chosen mantra while keeping all your awareness and listening focus in the space behind your eyes. If your attention wanders then bring it back to that point. If other voices or images arise during the meditation make them join in with the chanting. Make your mind speak the mantra steadily and repeatedly and listen to it with all your focus.

“The mind speaks, the soul only listens”

Eventually your awareness of your physical body will become less and less, and your consciousness will turn inwards. Your body will first become tingly and eventually feel absent altogether. Your eyes will still see and your ears will still hear but it will become background interference and easy to ignore.

Once you begin hearing astral sounds within the space inside your head, listen out for a special sound which is like a ringing bell, similar to 285hz tone. Once you hear this continue chanting your mental mantra but place your listening focus onto this sound. This sound comes from the center or center-right, inside your head.

This is the sound of your soul. if you can focus on it deeply enough it will pull you up out of your body and you will awaken into your astral body.

At first the transition can be daunting and even scary but try your best to stay calm and practice often to make it easy. There are also many other sounds, and lights which will appear during this process but following the sound which pulls your awareness up is the easiest way to the next level of consciousness.

MENTAL CLEANUP

>>> Try to control wandering thoughts and unhelpful emotions by thinking of your mantra throughout your daily life as needed. This helps you keep the tool of the mind in check by neutralizing unwanted thoughts and emotions at their source, which is your center of awareness, behind the eyes.

Use the same mantra as for your meditation and mentally speak the word or phrase in the space behind the eyes for a few moments. The more often you do this the more clean and ready your consciousness will be at all times, making waking astral experiences increasingly possible.

This whole program is made to wake up your Astral Body, making it possible for you to experience astral travel and exploration, after some dedication on your part.

This journey is all about discovering the vastness of your own consciousness and the multiple levels of consciousness and creation.

The astral awakening is only the beginning of the inner journey; anyone can, and should take this step towards their own awakening.

In my experience, 60 total hours of meditating in this way should be sufficient for any person to activate their astral body -- it does not have to be within one single 30-day period. But daily consistency will make progress much easier.

Once you can listen to the sound with unwavering concentration you can go as far as you wish on the spiritual path. For more detailed reading on the matters discussed here I would recommend the following two sources. It can be helpful.

[If you are resistant to the idea of Jesus then simply call upon any higher being that inspires love within you. It would be wise to have this established before venturing into the astrals.]

Can you not just expell them yourself without calling on some higher power? From what I understand, we can't get hurt in the astral realm. Isn't it just believing you have the power to do it and just do it? Only had an OBE 2 times, and have not encountered any entity yet, so I have not been able to try this myself. Also are these negative entities not manifestations of our own fears?

If your own awareness is such that you have the ability to completely banish all fear and doubt from your consciousness at a moments notice then by all means do that.

Alternatively follow the silver cord back to your body.

However in a true moment of panic and confusion and heavy emotional manipulation which is the preferred method of the lower astral entities (demons, djins etc..) Calling upon a trusted higher entity can simply the process of protection and escape from the situation.

If you follow your consciousness all the way up theres no difference between your soul and the soul of Jesus. But until that is your conscious experience of the many realms its good to have a friend you can call, even if it is just your higher self.

Yeah, I agree. Beginners get frustrated quite easily meditating 30 minutes, imagine 2 hours.

They should split it up as needed if they actually want results in 30 day. Its not a lot to ask to make profound spiritual progress; going from zero to astral traveler in one month.

Plus practicing the mental cleanup exercise throughout the day makes it much easier to slip into productive meditation at a moments notice.

Can you elaborate on creating a mantra that doesn't refer to anything specific or attachments to anything worldly? The examples you provided do seem to have preconceived ideas for me. Is one supposed to create something entirely original for just themselves?

The mantra should be selected or formulated in such a way that it does not point the mind towards anything in the external world, it is ok if it points towards something that can be experienced in the internal worlds such as heavenly abodes or deities.

For example the mantra given at Sant Mat initiation are the 5 names of the 5 rulers at each internal level of consciousness. These are repeated over and over and have the effect of drawing the consciousness inwards towards the astral body, once the sound current is always audible, you no longer need any mantra, simply latch your attention to the current and go up.

Doesn't matter, the mind will produce all matter of visuals to try and break your concentration efforts. If they are benevolent people, that could be a there to help you, then chanting your mantra will not make them disappear - if on the other hand you can make them chant your mantra along with you, after which they disappear, they are only mind formations;

Either way you should continue chanting mantra at the eye center, eventually these visions will cease and you will be able to ride a sound current upward and out of your body once concentration is sufficiently gathered behind the eyes. Feel free to ask me about anything else you might encounter internally while on this process, or a similar meditation method.

Thanks a lot for sharing this, I will follow this in early morning, and because im unexperienced with meditation and my practices have led to varied but small results, i need to ask, is this needed to be done lying on the back? because if so even after 8 hours of rest I fear i will fall asleep, so i was wondering if this can work while sitting making it easier to stay awake

This is very helpful but I think theres something missing.

If mantra meditation was enough then all serious meditators and those who do transcendental meditation would be APing.

Do you think this could be split into many small meditation sessions? Ie: Would 12x 10minute meditations be as effective as 2x 1 hour meditations

Never meditated a day in my life. I succeeded purely by learning from listening to interviews of people who talked about their own experiences and understanding the biological processes involved and succeeding at the beginning of the 3th week. I used nothing of that new age stuff; meditation, opening chakra's etc. If it works for you then do whatever works for you and makes you feel good about it. But for people new to this; you do not need these convoluted ways to get an OBE. Also; eating vegetarian? What is this based on? I know someone who is on a meat only diet and has very frequent OBE's

There are multiple ways to get to Rome I guess (so to speak). For me personally it is more intuitive. In the end it is willpower that makes you succeed. Focussing your Intention, discipline, determination and knowledge about the biological processes involved. Also binaural beat helped me very much in the beginning. 4-7 hertz should be your aim for this. I only used 7 hertz so far. And had my first vibrational experience within the first week.

I do agree with you on that there are no specific technique just intention but calling meditation and opening chakras as new age stuff is hilarious lol.

Different things work for different people and that's fine. I only wanted to say that neither meditation nor opening chakras are new age. It's a millennia old concept mentioned in our scriptures and practiced widely in this part of the world. It doesn't become 'new age' just because the west adopted it recently.

Its a bit of a trick this post, because while it will undoubtedly take a complete novice to the point where they can leave their body at will purely by practicing whats outlined for enough time...

It has the added benefit of teaching people the technique of listening to the inner sound current. Which if followed at all levels of experience can and will bring an individual soul all the way home to unity consciousness beyond the realms of the mind.

Its basically like eating all your veggies first before you can enjoy desert, except in this case the veggies are a few months of focused meditation and the desert is infinite non dual love and bliss beyond the confines of the wheel of reincarnation.

But if eating meat and listening to 7hz will do that for you then please start a religion with detailed practices so I can be your first follower 🙏

So you're stating that because he enjoys meat and uses binaural beats to help him successfully obe, he should start his own religion?

What Is The Inner Sonic Key

Virtually every civilization in the world has had some type of creation myth that involved sound, usually sound that was equated with consciousness and that this celestial sound was the first creation, so that everything else created came from such 'otherworldly' sound in the ether. A number of spiritual, mystical and religious texts have spoken of this metaphysical equation of sound as an element of their most honored traditions.

IN the foregoing sections of this study, we have seen how it I has been taught since time immemorial by the Indian sages that behind the apparent self of which we are conscious in everyday existence, the self that shirks pain and seeks pleasure, that changes from moment to moment and is subject to the effect of time and space, there is the permanent "Self," the Atman.

Most readers would be aware of the different forms of popular yoga, namely: Hatha yoga, Jnana yoga, Bhakti yoga, Karma yoga, Raja yoga, Mantra yoga and Laya yoga. Regardless of the differing emphasis one tradition of yoga places over another, all should have the same goal. That goal, put simply, is to separate the individualized soul from mind and matter, and unify it with the universal Soul (God or Brahma).

By: Letitia M. Kimball

This is the only book (besides “The Art of Dreaming” of Carlos Castaneda) that I remember, that mentions the concept of saving energy by simplifying the way a person lives. It is a very interesting book to read, as not wasting energy on non useful emotional things is a very important thing to be able to become Lucid on the Dream World.

This is from a concert in Eilat desert, year 2000+something. You can hear that from the included commercials, sponsors are Heineken and Pepsi. Heineken Sundance festival, or something like that. I don't know about that because this CD was an old gift from a friend.

Other tracks on the set are mostly from the later albums like Amen, tracks like Chaos, Sticks & Stones, Anything Is Possible. There are also other tracks, People can fly and Let there be light.

But I can't identify the last track, it's a quite nice one, all dreamy, rolling and floaty though nothing ambient. Maybe it's not AP at all, I haven't heard it on other albums. Or maybe it's a single from some compilation.

Here it is, a direct link:

<https://dl.dropbox.com/u/37423101/astral%20projection%20-%20unknown%20track.mp3>

Of course, recommendations of a similar music is always welcome :)

It definitely is 1990s AP, but I can't name it. Have not heard it before. It could be one of their AFX alias track. Let us know when you discover its title.

It could be the same mix that was available as "Live at the Brotherhood Beach, Tel Aviv" in 2002.

There is one track listing of it, but it differs a lot from the actual track names of Amen so it's either bogus (likely) or contains early versions of names (unlikely). The last track is listed as "Burning Up (2002 Remix)". Its progression is highly similar to the released Burning Up so there might be a bit of truth in that. Maybe a live-only mix?

(Edit: try this)

Listening to as much as Yes as probable. travel.

I am wondering .. is there anything in science that proves [or] disproves Astral Projection ?

I'm interested mainly in scientific evidence .. though personal experience is interesting as well.

Laying in bed, flat on my back. Body pillow.

Peace.

I hear there's a place in California that enables people to do it, for a fee, where they proceed to boink in the sky.

Play games with your friends-not friends with your games.

Rewarding people who don't account for a situation punishes those that do.

I can't give you scientific evidence, but on a personal level, I can say with all honesty that it's not as pleasant an experience as you might believe, I assure you. I've had recurring sleep paralysis w/OBE's for a couple of years now. It doesn't happen often - a few times a year at most. Basically, my whole body feels like it's "buzzing" (filled with electrical current), I can't move, I can't speak, I sure as h*ll can't scream, & then I suddenly feel as if my consciousness is pushed out of my skin & floated about the bedroom. I can see the darkness of the room, the pale light of the parking lot, my Wife sleeping, myself sleeping. I can see the red display on our big digital alarm clock, but I can't make out the time clearly. Yes, when I'm "out" it appears I can act somewhat of my own accord, but I don't seem to be able to leave the vicinity of the bedroom. Heck, I've even tried to turn on the light, but everything I touch appears insubstantial.

I know this sounds like a big truckload of BS, but I wish it wasn't. When it first occurred, I thought I was having a stroke. The last time this happened was a couple of months ago. I can't really give you an exact length of time that these "episodes" last; all I can say is "not long." Immediately after they occur, I'm wide awake, & my body still "buzzes" intermittently for about 30 minutes afterwards. I have no idea why they started to happen; I don't drink or use drugs (not since I was in my early 20's - which was more than a decade ago), so I can rule that out. The only time I had nightmares was when I was a wee one (they stopped when I was about 5 or 6), so I have no clue. I should ask my Doctor about it & see what he thinks, but I'm afraid that what he's going to think is that I'm nuts.

I'd give anything for these episodes to stop & never happen again.

...A UFO ALIEN CONTACT!...

(1hr40min/320MP3/242.8MB/©2016)

Genre: Psychedelic UFO Alien Contact Goa Trance

Goa Trance and aliens are about as perfect of a combination as one could ever muster.

They dance symbiotically through science and pseudoscience, the cosmic unknown always teasing the fringe curiously, some understanding of the joke and others believing in it.

I spent well over a decade hosting radio shows and even more time making a multitude of mixes for the listening (dis)pleasure of those whom would want to go on a journey with me. When I was approached this past spring to put together a radio show for Space Toilet Radio, I was kind of stumped. I wanted to create a journey but I was somewhat out of ideas on themes. I had done so many already. Then it hit me like a the UFO at Roswell.

Taking inspiration from a tag team set I played at GOA PARTY 4 many years back, every track in this mix references those ancient astronomer ancestors who have been coming to Earth to advance our civilization since the beginning of time... (or have they?!)...

While I was specifically asked to keep this pre-2000, I admit that I have pushed that guideline a bit. There are a few tracks that reach into the 2000s included in this mix, but the overall heart is classic Goa, which means that the overall heart is that these flying saucers do not fly, they oscillate between dimensions carrying illegal aliens with blue auras using rays and mind control devices coming down to take your friends away. Or maybe not. I guess we'll find out some other day...

Is It Normal To See Entities? How Do I Overcome Fear?

by Xanth

November 5, 2025

Yes, it's "normal" to experience entities while projecting, but it's important to realize what they are and what they represent. These entities are beliefs and aspects of your subconscious mind becoming interactable in an effort for your subconscious mind to teach you lessons about yourself. You're essentially scaring yourself with your own worst subconscious fears... Read more: Is It Normal To See Entities? How Do I Overcome Fear?

Did I Just Have an OBE, a Lucid Dream, or an Astral Projection?

by Xanth

October 24, 2025

Well, actually none of those labels fit, because none of those labels are objective experiences within consciousness. You've never had a "dream" in your life. You've never had an "OBE" in your life. You've never had a "lucid dream" in your life. You've never had an "astral projection" in your life. Then you might ask,... Are You Actually "Exiting" Your Body?

by Xanth

October 17, 2025

There is a direct answer to this question – no. You're not exactly a spirit in a body. It's more that your awareness, which is part and parcel, part of consciousness as a whole, is focused towards this physical reality and your specific physical body. If you've ever read Robert Monroe's third and final book,... Read more: Are You Actually "Exiting" Your Body?

The Nature of You and This Physical Reality

by Xanth

October 17, 2025

You are a bit of consciousness called an awareness. That awareness projects to this physical reality towards your physical body. When you fall asleep at night that awareness projects to the non-physical. We humans incorrectly call that act dreaming. Your entire existence is a projection. Every moment you're experiencing anything is a projection. Be it... Read more: The Nature of You and This Physical Reality

What is Astral Projection?

by Xanth

January 3, 2025

I cannot answer this question without first answering the question, “What is this physical reality?”, because the answers are so interconnected. I tell you people this: You are a bit of consciousness called an “awareness”. That awareness projects towards this physical reality, towards your physical body. You are – literally – consciousness projecting. When you... Read more: What is Astral Projection?

Sleep Paralysis – What do I do!?

by Xanth

May 10, 2022

One of the most asked questions I see is in regards to Sleep Paralysis (SP). People tend to get stuck at this point. First, there's the fear factor – this is a completely self-created aspect of it. Astral Projection – What do to with the Vibrations?

by Xanth

February 18, 2016

How about this... ignore them! For the most part. Acknowledge them only in the most minor way “Oh hey, vibrations, great...” then just continue doing what you were doing before they occurred. How to Access The Akashic Records or Contact Your Spirit Guides

by Xanth

What most people have to realize is that the “akashic records” isn’t a place... it actually isn’t any “THING” at all. It’s not a “place” which you “go to”. What's the "blackness" in the "3D blackness"

by Xanth

July 26, 2013

I just read a post on World of Lucid Dreaming, where the poster mentioned that they couldn't get to the 3D blackness in a lit room. Well, the 3D "blackness" doesn't LITERALLY mean "blackness". It just means... "empty space". Or a lack of visual sensory input. Does that help? Here's a quick exercise you can... Read more: What's the "blackness" in the "3D blackness"

Meditation – Quieting Mind?

by Xanth

July 17, 2013

Everyone hears about meditation and hears that "quieting your mind" is a must or else you're not doing it right! Meditation isn't about quieting the mind. It's never been about that. Yes, you can ATTEMPT to quiet the mind... but then you're using a manipulative force in order to do so... and when is manipulating... Read more: Meditation – Quieting Mind?

Why am I Not Enlightened Yet? – Rupert Spira

Strong Lucid Awareness Experience – May 21, 2013

by Xanth

May 21, 2013

So, last night was pretty fruitful in the spontaneous projection department for me... finally. LoL I haven't been actively practicing projection, so I've been relying upon my spontaneous projections to have experiences. I have them semi-often, but I don't usually remember enough to write down later in the morning... and I'm usually too tired to... Read more: Strong Lucid Awareness Experience – May 21, 2013

What Kind of Projection Experience Did You Have?

by Xanth

May 5, 2013

I found a simple questionnaire a little while ago which I then modified slightly to work with my own particular terminology system for determining the type of awareness you had during any particular non-physical experience. Is Astral Projection a Spiritual Practice?

by Xanth

April 14, 2013

The simple answer to this question is no, Astral Projection is not a spiritual practice in itself. Are Astral Projections "Internal" or "External" Experiences?

by Xanth

February 18, 2013

So, which is it? When we "project" our consciousness away from this physical reality, are we projecting to something internal to ourselves or external to ourselves? I'll answer this from my own experience. Basically, since all is consciousness, there is no "physical body". There never was, it's all virtual. So there's nothing to "separate" from.... A succubus is basically just a tulpa. A manifestation of your subconscious that you use to cope with loneliness and lack of intimacy. There is no proof indicating otherwise. If they were real and existed as individuals, then it could be easily proven, which would be in their interest because they want to share their gifts with as many people as possible.

According to the lore, at least.

Menopausal sleep is a type of sleep that is characterized by a decrease in the amount of sleep you get.

Once you get used to doing these short naps, you pretty much go straight to dreaming as soon as your head hits the pillow and you naturally wake up as soon as the dream cycle ends.

Lie still and keep your eyes closed while trying to remember as much as you can about the dream, then immediately write as much of it down when you get up. Doing this regularly will vastly improve your dream recall.

By using one of these polyphasic sleep patterns you gain more waking hours per day but you also practice your dream recall multiple times a day from each nap, instead of once a day per main sleep which usually disturbs your chance to properly recall due to an alarm clock etc. Since most people typically only remember the last dream before they wake up if the sleep is undisturbed. Hope i made that clear enough, im not very good at explaining things.

Even one nap sometime per day would help alot. It will just take you abit longer to get the hang of it, you dont want to oversleep. I recommend setting an alarm to go off 30 minutes after you lie down.

Initially you might take awhile to actually fall asleep, and your rem cycle wont start straight away so your alarm with probably interrupt it. But after awhile you'll fall asleep faster, start dreaming sooner and wake up on your own everytime, before you alarm goes off. At which point you can get rid of the alarm 'crutch' and will have as much time as you need when you wake up to practice recalling.

I started off with a single nap and added extra naps as i got the hang of it, settled on the everyman3, which i have been doing since 2012.

Honestly, my theory is that this polyphasic sleep was originally the standard. Along came civilisation and we stopped napping in the day to get more done in daylight without interruption while sleeping away the useless dark nights. Now civilisation is stuck in this monophasic standard when we should probably have reverted back once we got widespread electric lighting.

Sorry for getting abit off topic, i dont mean to derail the thread.

The image is a digital artwork that depicts a scene with multiple figures, predominantly in dark colors, set against a backdrop of what appears to be a forest or wooded area.

The figures are dressed in various styles of clothing, including robes, capes, and cloaks, suggesting a fantasy or supernatural theme.

In the foreground, there is a figure with a prominent, muscular build, wearing a dark robe and a cape, holding a staff or wand. This figure is facing the viewer, and the posture suggests a stance of authority or combat readiness.

In the background, there are other figures, some of whom are also holding staffs or wands, indicating a group or a coordinated action. The figures are dressed in similar dark robes and capes, and their positions and postures suggest they are engaged in a coordinated movement or ritual.

The overall color palette is dark, with shades of brown, black, and red dominating the scene. The lighting appears to be soft and diffused, casting a dramatic effect on the figures and the surrounding environment.

There are no discernible texts or logos in the image, and the style of the artwork is reminiscent of fantasy or supernatural genres, with a focus on the interaction between the figures and the environment. The artwork does not provide any explicit information about the characters' identities or the specific context of the scene.

The image is a humorous meme featuring a gecko and a small toy lizard. The gecko, with its yellow and brown spotted pattern, is positioned on the left side of the image, looking up with a smile. Its eyes are closed, and its mouth is slightly open, giving it a friendly and approachable expression. The toy lizard, which is yellow with black spots, is on the right side of the image. It is also looking up, with its eyes closed and its mouth slightly open, mirroring the gecko's expression. The toy lizard is smaller in size compared to the gecko.

Above the image, there is a text that reads "You may talk with me and my son whenever you wish," which is a playful and humorous take on the idea of a parent-child relationship. The text is in a bold, black font that stands out against the lighter background of the image. The overall style of the image is lighthearted and whimsical, with a focus on the playful interaction between the gecko and the toy lizard.

The image is a black and white photograph featuring a man with a beard and a skull-shaped headband. The man's facial expression is neutral, and he is smiling slightly. The skull headband has a skull design on it, and the man's hair is styled in a manner that suggests it is combed back. The background is a solid gray color, which contrasts with the man's skin tone and hair color, making the subject stand out. There are no visible texts or additional objects in the image. The style of the image is realistic, with a focus on the man's facial features and the skull headband.

I'm in this weird position where I don't know if it's working and it's real, or it's a meme and i'm wasting my time (which makes me feel like a retard).

I did the letter method, and since then nothing has changed much except my dreams always involve a girl in some way. Only thing is, it's never sexual. We're either fucking around doing stupid dream scenario shit, or we're just talking about dream scenario shit.

Does this even sound like something a succ would do? Or have I just been thinking too much about it, causing me to dream about girls in general?

I swear you people have no idea. These methods are pure shite.

If you want to summon a succubus just jerk off and call her 7 times with cum on your hands and or face.

something like "I wish to offer myself to you succubus, I call you willingly, I offer my sperm, my soul, my life force" and repeat 7 times. You'll feel it alright.

Also understand that it's not a trivial thing you morons.

You didn't MAKE this body, it was gifted to you by someone much more powerful than you for a reason, you're supposed to breed human females, struggle to get them, not give up and go fuck a demon.

That is why you were made, you're not just a random thing. There's a reason your unfuckable, you need to better yourself or die trying.

If you give yourself unearned sexual pleasure you will owe the one that made this body and gave it to you. And they don't take cash.

Pleasure can only be repaid in pain. Gotta balance those scales. Consider yourself warned.

Eat too much -> get fat -> suffer
Drink too much -> get sick -> suffer
Get too much orgasm from succy -> get dead -> wake up in next life as a pig in a very cruel farm. Enjoy.

AND

if by any miracle your actually get a real one, not a tulpa like one like 99% of the guys who succeed and die a few years later of a nasty disease you'll be take to their dimension. That's not a fucking picnic either, I've actually SEEN it. They will fuck you all day long, until your cock is bleeding, until they fuck it to a nub like a used pencil, then they'll install a new one and repeat, over and over and over.

Until you're like them, incapable of distinguishing between pleasure and pain, just addicted to sensation in all its forms. Then you're really really fucked. Because without fear of pain you can't grow no more. Your soul can't progress, there's no stick to beat you back on track.

You soul stays at that level for eternity. You never move past the flesh, not EVER.

It's about power and perversion and you all know it. A psychosexual connection to a spirit who does not have your best interest in heart. Do not be deceived. I don't think this sort of mental disconnect can be remedied in any decent manner except through connection being strengthened over time. Your relationship is up to you, dude.

What, really? I have no clue about any of this stuff or what are the best ways of doing things, or what cool shit this occult knowledge and meditation and power channeling can allow me to do eventually. I just had a real shitty headache one day at the top of my head, nothing could get rid of it, and I remembered that one meditation website. Went to it, did Third Eye and Crown meditations, and the aches went away. Then I figured since I began the road to awakening my chakras, I might as well go all the way and do all the meditations and eventually fully activate them all. That since doing Third Eye I have been able to see my spirit lady as black static, as well as legitimately feel my chakras activating and being in use, is reason enough that the path I'm on is a good one. I'm pacing myself though, because I don't wanna overwhelm myself with all that new sensation and shit - I feel the area right below my belly button (sacral?) aching every now and then, which I chalk up to solar in the process of full activation, like how my chest (heart chakra) used to ache because I was still activating Throat at the time.

I told her multiple times now that when the time comes and I manage to recall dreams to a better degree to the point where lucid dreaming becomes worth it, or I somehow develop astral travel and leaving my body temporarily, I'm going to do four things with her.

- 1) Hug her and pat her on the head like she always does to me now, since I told her to do that a lot more often all those months ago
- 2) Get to know her for real, because I still have no changes in regards to sensing her thoughts or emotions transmitting to me, and no clue how her personality is or anything.
- 3) Fuck her brains out myself instead of letting her do all the work
- 4) Practice posing together, for obvious reasons

Hopefully things go good. I feel that time will be the best way to improve things right now.

I was having your typical sex dream where this girl was riding me. We're on my bed but there's nothing else around, like literally nothing. After a bit of time of this girl riding me she just kinda goes limp and falls forward on me like a mannequin and starts trying to kiss me but in a weird clumsy fashion. I push her back upright and she falls forward again like she can't hold up her own weight. This happens a third time and I become actually bothered and wake up. I open my eyes and as my eyes are opening the girl is still there but it's like in the dream she had the look of a real person but in my real room it's just this shadow person sitting right on my dick. I flail my arm at whatever the fuck it is and I don't feel anything with my arms but the thing flies backwards as if I've hit it and disappears.

Say what you will, call bullshit etc etc but this actually happened to me.

I understand now, this people may not be so crazy after all. If our brain is just a mass that produce all of what we experience, by doing all this succubi contract shit we can fool our brain to think such a thing like a demon will take our dick and just believe in it. It all happen when we sleep as our brain is less logical and can fake all those feelings.

All our senses are controlled by our brain, if we got a way to make it fake the touch and feeling of a pulsating pussy, all this succubi nonsense would be truly possible.

The image is a digital illustration featuring a character with a mix of features. The character has long blonde hair that cascades down her shoulders, and her eyes are a striking shade of yellow. She wears a brown hat with a wide brim, which is positioned on skeptical but skimmed through a couple of those youtube videos, felt horny because of the waves and the noises but then died down after i realized why i felt that way. went to bed after doing a quick meditation, basically stating i want to experience a succubus for the purpose of curiosity. woke up middle of the night to drink some pop because thirsty. but felt REALLY weird. i felt like i could fall over, very low energy. i didnt remember my dream.

a bit into one of these videos i felt as if my leg has been wrapped around by some weird energy thing, like a snake or leech. ive done some weird shit before that had to do with meditation before bed without instructions so kinda worried about playing with fire aspect. i have no idea what im doing.. the other night i did some meditatiing basically recalling past events in my life that to my person alone confirms the existence of paranormal beings. not for you to know but me alone. during the meditation i feel three taps on my forehead where i suppose the third eye is supposed to be. like when your muscles in your leg twitch it was the same but in that location. weird. this stuff is very interesting.

We are mostly protected here which is why people can hold the belief that these creatures don't exist, but you can make a hole in the fence for them to get in. It's fucking stupid. Don't do it. You are not prepared to deal with creatures of this nature. They can make you think and feel anything and if you are not hardened against it, they will have their way with you.

Don't project your humanity onto them. Think of the worst shit you can do to people, and know that is their joy.

That's an awfully pessimistic stance to take. A potentially infinite universe, but everyone who is not us wants to eat us?

>Kyle Odom

I just read his manifesto. Interesting, to say the least. Though comparing his experiences to mine, there are key differences:

>Succubi don't care about politics.

>Succubi don't care how smart a person is.

>Succubi don't have a physical presence on this earth. (As far as I'm aware.)

>Odom's martians and succubi share the trait of hyper-sexuality, but succubi are not megalomaniacs.

>Incubi can be quite aggressive at times, but can also be reasoned with.

>Succubi and incubi have a sense of humor, unlike Odom's martians.

I found it funny how Odom claimed that his martians were "millions of years" more advanced than us, yet he failed to give a single example of their miraculous technology.

Logic would also dictate that a species so far advanced wouldn't take an interest in us.

We'd be like single-cell organisms to them.

The image features a stylized illustration of a creature with wings and a circular body.

The creature has a light blue coloration and is depicted with a circular, glowing blue center. The wings are white and appear to be in a semi-transparent state, giving the impression of a floating or ethereal presence. The creature's body is also light blue and has a circular outline, which is consistent with the glowing center. The creature's eyes are not visible, and the image does not contain any text. The style of the image is abstract and has a dreamlike quality, with a focus on the glowing center and the ethereal appearance of the wings.

Post by Edeldhur » Thu Apr 11, 2024 1:56 pm

Hey everyone,

I will be joining a Dark Sun game, and I have absolutely no idea what to play.

Rolled ok I guess 13, 16, 14,15, 16, 16, but not sure what to play since it has been YEARS since I played Dark Sun.

I would like to go with something interesting and flavorful, different from a standard fantasy game and more connected with the Dark Sun ambiance.

We already have an Half-Giant Gladiator (of course), a Thri-Kreen Monk/Psionist and perhaps a Defiler.

I was thinking maybe a Thri-Kreen Druid/Ranger could be a fun and interesting character to play - anyone has any experience with such a character, or advice on how to play it? I like the idea of a strong survival/outdoors themed character, but would also like him to have a little oomph in a scuffle. Would this character be that?

Or maybe an Elf (love Athasian elves) Fighter/Psionist (Psy Warrior?)? I have always liked gishes, but Fighters seem so... Bland when compared to Gladiators in Dark Sun :/

Any ideas/feedback/advice are welcome!

Looking at those stats, what was your rolling method? And, if your DM is using Character Trees, you might as well make all of them.

However, if you're thinking druid, consider the level the game will get to; a druid gets REALLY constrained after their "time of wandering" has passed, so if the game doesn't support it, they get sidelined.

Since your party is a bit light in the healing department, though, you might consider a cleric and/or psychometabolist healer. If going with psycho healer route, I would suggest multi-classing... while they're good healers, psi-healers are very much one-trick ponies at the start. A Mul Fighter/Psionist will give you a really good Constitution to pull off those healing proficiencies.

I'll assume you're going with the Mul Fighter/Psionist. I'm also assuming CompPsi psionics, not S&P.

Stats:

Str 18/xx (16+2)

Dex 15

Con 17 (16+1)

Int 13 (14-1)

Wis 16

Cha 11 (13-2)

Weapon Proficiency: I always suggest finding a Dark Sun specific weapon; one of those that is designed for wood stone and bone, so doesn't have the penalties because you want to use a sword. Singing sticks, from the Complete Gladiator, and a favorite of mine.

NWP: Crystal Focus, Power Manipulation, Rejuvenation. Crystal Focus and Power Manipulation are out of Will and the Way; while the power set-up I have below will let you avoid it for healing, so long as you have a "donor", successful Power Manipulation makes Cell Adjustment a very good power. Crystal focus is practically free to get +1 to your power scores. And Rejuvenation gives you better PSP recovery.

Psionics: (level acquired)

Sciences: Life Draining (1)

Devotions: Lend Health (1), Cell Adjustment (1), Adrenaline Control (1), Conceal Thoughts (2), Contact (2)

Defenses: Mind Blank (1)

I went into Telepathy as your secondary discipline because you don't have another telepath in the group that I can see, and they're hella useful. I also limited myself to CompPsi powers, because I didn't want to flip back and forth.

(he/him)

Thanks for the feedback LibraryOgre!

We went with 4d4+4 x6, so I could have been a tad luckier :/

Seems like the group is needing some sort of 'roguish' capability, so I was pondering some sort of Thief/Psionacist?

Not very familiar with Psionics though - could they complement my thieving abilities, and make me strong enough to melee? Or should I stick with ranged plink plink?

Feels like I will be the weakest link, in a group with an half giant gladiator hitting for a ton with Str21, and two thri-kreens attacking 5x a round each. And me plinking for 2x1d6 per round hahaha.

I am partial to bards, so... why not Bard/Druid or Bard/druid/psionicist or Bard/psionicist? Druid and psionicist for the healing, Bard for the many tricks (dark sun bards dont get arcane spells, but they get all thief skills, at a smaller speed, and poison) and they fight better than thieves also: if any of the two or three classes is psionicist and the dm allows it, make the character a sensei tribal psionicist from the will and the way psionicist kits.

If you are looking at Psionicist/Thief I would go halfling. They are feral and cannibals and pretty interesting

Your Dex would go to 18 for good armour class and saves.

If you go Psychometabolism I would take Shadowform first, IF you take the power manipulation NWP. It will net you your power score roll result on psychometabolic powers. Shadowform not only gives you the good powers of a shadow, it lasts without PsP cost for 1-4 turns per use. You can move behind your enemies without notice for a backstab, and use your psionic abilities whilst in the form.

Cell Adjustment also becomes a 1 PSP for 1HP heal with power manipulation which makes you an AWESOME healer.

And I would take Cause Sleep and Enhance Strength as your other two devotions at first level.

I would go Metapsionics at second level and take receptacle and possibly iron will. Or maybe accelerate instead of iron will, giving you more attacks. It's PSP heavy but with you being able to store double your Psionic Strength it will be better.

With enhanced strength and power manipulation you can get your strength up to 1800.

And at 6th level you can take psychoportation, and then take duo dimension and then dimensional blade, which ignores armour and only counts dexterity and magical protections. So your backstabs are unlikely to miss.

Plus teleport can get you behind enemies too.

I would go ShadowForm, and Cause Sleep, Cell Adjustment and Enhanced Strength at first level with Power Manipulation as a NWP.

Second is Receptacle and Accelerate

Third maybe go Energy Containment or Nerve Manipulation or Animal Affinity as a science, and Iron Will and Wrench or psionic inflation maybe, given it's Dark Sun.

Fourth level maybe go Graft Weapon and Displacement

Fifth level I would go one of the other sciences not taken above, or Complete Healing (which with power manipulation means you can completely heal in an hour.

And for a devotion maybe Lend Health

Sixth level is Duo Dimension

Seventh maybe Wormhole and Dimensional Door

8th Stasis Field

9th avoid the science and take Dimensional Blade

10th level take your High science in Elemental Composition and Heightened Senses maybe or Flesh Armour.

You can go any which way with your thief skills, but you can scout in Shadowform pretty well without being noticed and being invulnerable to normal weapons.

However, if you're thinking druid, consider the level the game will get to; a druid gets REALLY constrained after their "time of wandering" has passed, so if the game doesn't support it, they get sidelined.

Since your party is a bit light in the healing department, though, you might consider a cleric and/or psychometabolist healer. I

Note that clerics only get Cure Light Wounds and Elemental Bonding when it comes to restoring hit point damage. All the healing spells are locked up in the Sphere of the Cosmos, which clerics only get minor access to (3rd level or lower spells). Druids are much better healers than clerics. Also note that the Time of Wandering ends at 10th level, at which point druids must spend half their time on their guarded lands. That can still leave plenty of time for adventuring.

As far as psionicists, there are so many different ways of playing them! As I like to say, you can make a psionist that can do almost anything, but you can't make one that can do almost everything! They are extremely limited in the powers they can take, so it's very rare to find two psionicists that do the same thing. And they're not really that great as healers. Better than someone who only has the Healing NWP, but not a whole lot better. Probably about on par with the elemental clerics, actually.

I've got some Spelljammer stuff, a 2E AD&D spreadsheet, and some Vault of the Drow maps in my Dropbox. Feel free to use or not use it as you see fit.

I think a psychometabolist can be an amazing healer. Much better than a cleric or Druid in fact.

With the Power Manipulation NWP Cell Adjustment becomes a 1 PSP for 1 HP heal. Lend health can heal any amount of hit points in one go, as long as the psionics has the hit points. Complete Healing can heal the psionics in an hour if Power Manipulation works, and it can be researched to work on others in the same way too. They can regenerate limbs etc, and cure poison with those sciences. And Photosynthesis can heal them in the sun as they wander. Cure Disease is in built to regular Cell Adjustment, and with Absorb Disease and Power Manipulation the psionics can just destroy the absorbed disease immediately.

Apart from raising the dead they are epic at healing. MUCH better than the 1d8/2d8+1/3d8+3 heals per spell. The psionicist recovers strength points throughout the day, so they can use them again, where as the spells can only be recovered once per day. And the healing is however many hit points you want to heal not "it could be 8 but it could be 1/ it could be 17 but it could be 3" kind of scenario. Apart from the Heal spell, Cure Wounds spells SUCK at healing.

Even a mid level psionicist can complete heal a few people in an hour and then recover some psionic energy to perform other powers later.

I am very much on the fence regarding race. I like the style of both elves and halflings in Dark Sun, and the halfling seems like a perfect design for both Thief and Psionicist (though the Str and Con penalties are a bit harsh - not sure how I will damage anyone :/). One thing that bothers me about being an Halfling Thief though, is the lack of Infravision :/

If you are looking at Psionicist/Thief I would go halfling. They are feral and cannibals and pretty interesting

Your Dex would go to 18 for good armour class and saves.

If you go Psychometabolism I would take Shadowform first, IF you take the power manipulation NWP. It will net you your power score roll result on psychometabolic powers. Shadowform not only gives you the good powers of a shadow, it lasts without PsP cost for 1-4 turns per use. You can move behind your enemies without notice for a backstab, and use your psionic abilities whilst in the form. Cell Adjustment also becomes a 1 PSP for 1HP heal with power manipulation which makes you an AWESOME healer.

And I would take Cause Sleep and Enhance Strength as your other two devotions at first level.

I would go Metapsionics at second level and take receptacle and possibly iron will. Or maybe accelerate instead of iron will, giving you more attacks. It's PSP heavy but with you being able to store double your Psionic Strength it will be better.

With enhanced strength and power manipulation you can get your strength up to 1800.

And at 6th level you can take psychoportation, and then take duo dimension and then dimensional blade, which ignores armour and only counts dexterity and magical protections. So your backstabs are unlikely to miss.

Plus teleport can get you behind enemies too.

I would go ShadowForm, and Cause Sleep, Cell Adjustment and Enhanced Strength at first level with Power Manipulation as a NWP.

Second is Receptacle and Accelerate

Third maybe go Energy Containment or Nerve Manipulation or Animal Affinity as a science, and Iron Will and Wrench or psionic inflation maybe, given it's Dark Sun.

Fourth level maybe go Graft Weapon and Displacement

Fifth level I would go one of the other sciences not taken above, or Complete Healing (which with power manipulation means you can completely heal in an hour.

And for a devotion maybe Lend Health

Sixth level is Duo Dimension

8th Stasis Field

9th avoid the science and take Dimensional Blade

10th level take your High science in Elemental Composition and Heightened Senses maybe or Flesh Armour.

You can go any which way with your thief skills, but you can scout in Shadowform pretty well without being noticed and being invulnerable to normal weapons.

Thank you Storm11, I like these ideas a LOT. Was planning on going Fighter/Thief/Psionist, is it worth it?

Also I posted some of my concerns about race on my previous post - any insights?

After taking a better look at how PSPs are calculated, I feel like as an elf with Wis 15 I am being too penalized?

IMO the big diff, is a cleric auto heals. A psi has to BOTH roll his power check AND the power manipulation NWP.

Ok, so this is what I have so far:

Halfling racials +2 Dex +2 Wis -2 Str -1 Con -1 Cha -1)

Rolls: 13, 16, 14, 15, 16, 16

Psionist Ability Requirements Con 11 Int 12 Wis 15

Thief Ability Requirements Dex 9

Fighter Ability Requirements Str 9

Our starting level is three, and DM says if I go with three classes, I start 2/2/2, so I was thinking:

Halfling Fighter2/Thief2 (perhaps Tunnel Rat to get some Infravision back?)/Psion2
(Considered the possibility of going with Ranger instead of Fighter, but a few things stopped me - one of the members of the group is a Defiler apparently so I am not sure how that would jig with a Ranger, also Fighter allows me early weapon spec to try and do some half-decent damage with thrown weapons)

STR 13-2 = 11

DEX 16+2 = 18

Con 16-1 = 15

Int 14

Wis 16+2 = 18

Cha 15-1 = 14

Weapon Proficiencies (4)

Dagger Specialization (2)

Weapon and Shield (1)

Small Shield Prof (1)

(Hopefully I can throw daggers, and if I am cornered, I can fight with dagger+shield?)

Non-Weapon Proficiencies (3+4)

Power Manipulation (2) Int-4 (I feel like I will have a hard time succeeding at this one)

TBD (suggestions welcome)

Psionics

Rolled Wild Talents

> Astral Projection

> I get to choose one Psychoportive Devotion (Perhaps Dimension Door or Dimensional Walk? Suggestions welcome)

At level 2 I have

2 Disciplines (1+Metapsionics)

1 Science (Psychometabolic > Shadowform)

5 Devotions (4+Receptacle)

1 Defense Mode

PSPs 39 (math check welcome)

(work in progress...)

You can add more NWP points into Power Manipulation to increase it right off the bat. And if your DM uses number of languages as extra NWPs you would have a fair few of them. 7 it looks like. Down to 5 with PM and then add in three to take it up to 13. Rejuvenate is a great one. Tumbling maybe also.

It looks good.

I would be tempted to swap strength and charisma. Making it 13 Str and 12 cha. Less PSPs to boost up your strength to powerful levels with your psionics.

What discipline is going to be your primary one?

39 PSPs is right. But if you take receptacle as a 2nd level devotion you can store another 39 in gems for 78 max. Not bad at second level.

Am not sure you gain much by adding fighter to the mix but if you want it it's all good.

Regarding NWP - There are some Athas specific ones I should probably take. I am trying to prioritize from:

Power Manipulation (2+3)

Heat Protection 1

Bargain 1

Water Find 1

Armor Optimization 1

Weapon Improvisation 1

Tumbling 1

Rejuvenation 1

Total is 12 , so I need to make some hard decisions :P

I have been keeping Charisma slightly higher because I will probably be the 'face' of the group. If I am not, then I might increase Str and actually drop Bargain in the list of priorities. Because I am actually a bit concerned about how I will contribute in a combat situation :/

Primary Discipline I am still not sure (Does it make a mechanical difference which one is the 'primary', or is it just the one I choose first?), need some time to look over the Psionics, haven't touched it in ages. Your suggestions are great though - I am looking for something to boost my scouting potential/utility, and my contribution to combat. Healing in any form would be of course amazing. And I will definitely take Receptacle. NEED those extra 39! :D

I was also thinking - Is there any Psionic attack mode I could use? Like a mental blast kind of thing? That could go a long way in terms of contributing in combat?

Are you using original or revised psionic rules?
If you are using original, I would strongly suggest you be some sort of psionist. If you are using revised, it doesn't matter as much.

Halfling Fighter2/Thief2/Psion2
Would your DM allow 1 kit per class? If he would; Tunnel Rat for thief, tribal psionist for Psionist and... Myrmidon for fighter? or Wilderness Warrior? (Really fighter kits are the worst)

Revised psionics rules are in The Expanded and Revised (and Ruined!) Dark Sun Setting, published around 1994 or so, and are also found in PO:Skills and Powers. They are deeply terrible. The Will and the Way, on the other hand, is a fantastic expansion of The Complete Psionics Handbook, and I highly recommend it! Well, except for the Harbinger/Construct rules. They're kinda bad, too. But the rest is all good!

Awww that's a shame. The revised rules are awful. In the original rules receptacle has no pre-requisite.

Your primary discipline is the one you need the most psionic powers in. You have to have double the number of devotions to sciences in any power you know, and your primary discipline has to have more powers in sciences and devotions than any other discipline.

There won't be a Metapsionic discipline to take in the revised rules (which is where you could find both receptacle, and Empower (which you couldn't take until reaching 10th level).

There's no point in taking telepathy in the revised rules as you can't contact a mind subtly in these new rules and you need to wear down all their psionic power before breaking in, and then hope you have enough energy to activate a telepathic power that isn't an attack. It's a mess and completely broken.

So it depends on what you want to be able to do. Your power manipulation NWP will only work on your primary discipline powers. Keep that in mind.

If you want to blast things from afar then psychokinesis is the way to go. Scouting and movement it's psychoportation. (This also has some great attack augmentations like dimensional blade and protections like dimensional screen) The blade can be used on almost any weapon of melee, it gives a +2 to hit and damage, ignores armour, and if the power manipulation works it can score double damage, for example. And then the psychometabolic for healing and augmenting your combat ability. Like accelerate, for double number of attacks, enhanced strength for increasing your to hit and damage, stuff like that.

Clairsentience can be an excellent second discipline, with things like danger sense, see magic, safe path and such like.

There's a power called concentrate water which creates it from the atmosphere, so that could help. That's a psychokinetic devotion i think. And body equilibrium I think it's the one that lets you survive in hostile environments. And then there's mind over matter, which lets you go days without food and drink.

So lots of powers to play with to help desert survival.

With enhanced strength you could attack in combat with the 18(00) +3 to hit and +6 damage. Dual wielding daggers that could be a pretty good combat damage dealer.

Cause sleep will knock out one critter so it could easily be a great combat addition. And you can activate it each round on a different target. No hit dice restrictions either.

You can also do psionic research to alter your powers, make them less expensive, increase their damage.

It all depends on what you want to play. If you have Astral Projection as a wild talent, and potentially another wild talent from the psychoportive discipline as well is that right? Then that could really be your scouting power. Travelling in spirit form to make out what's ahead is safer and Less dangerous and the cost of astral projection is quite low.

Look at the power score effects of the powers you might want and see how advantageous they are. Like for Shadow form for example, you initiate it, then power manipulation, and for the initial cost not only do you get shadow forms abilities, you also get the beneficial powers of an undead shadow, for between a turn and four turns, with NO maintenance cost. And you can use your psionic powers for attacking in that form also. How little magical weapons are in dark sun your shadow form would be nigh invulnerable as a shadow needs a +1 or better weapon to hit.

If you are adventuring with a defiler and don't mind an evil PC, Death Field and Power Manipulation can be a great combo. For each one hP you lose everyone else loses two if they fail a save.

Double Pain can knock out an opponent for up to a turn without you expending any more PSPs. If it's successful.

The psionic attacks used to be useful on non psionic opponents but I think they aren't in the revised rules. But am unfamiliar with these.

It all depends how you want your psionics to play out. To attack by themselves or augment your other classes attacks.

Keep in mind a triple class will advance super slowly, so you are going to be stuck with the initial powers you have for a fair while.

Yeah in general I am starting to think I should go with something simpler - it has been a long time since I played Dark Sun and toyed around with Psionics. I was trying to fill a niche the group might need while playing something flavorful for the setting, and also trying to find a way to be impactful in a group so strong - it seems everyone is going with the 'optimal' choices (Half-Giant Gladiator has STR21, and now we might actually have THREE Thri-Kreens :|).

But I am feeling a little pigeonholed into a 'standard' Thief role (not that there is anything wrong with Thieves), and that is never nice.

Will have to mull it over. Maybe I just play an Elf Ranger, or a Mul Fighter.

In any case, thanks everyone for the amazing feedback - I am always surprised and humbled by how much great information you can garner from the Community here in the Dragonsfoot Forums. My hat is off to all of you! :D

(Considered the possibility of going with Ranger instead of Fighter, but a few things stopped me - one of the members of the group is a Defiler apparently so I am not sure how that would jig with a Ranger, also Fighter allows me early weapon spec to try and do some half-decent damage with thrown weapons)

STR 13-2 = 11

DEX 16+2 = 18

Con 16-1 = 15

Int 14

Wis 16+2 = 18

Cha 15-1 = 14

Seems decent. Int and Con are going to suck for powers, but with a 18 wis, you at least start out ok for psp's.. AND have the +3/level bonus, so gain 13 points each level you earn.

Weapon Proficiencies (4)

Dagger Specialization (2)

Weapon and Shield (1)

Small Shield Prof (1)

(Hopefully I can throw daggers, and if I am cornered, I can fight with dagger+shield?)

Check with the DM to see if a multi-thief, can have shields.. AND IF hes allowing multi-fighters, to specialize. IF SO, that looks decent.

Edeldhur wrote: ↑Fri Apr 12, 2024 8:38 am

Non-Weapon Proficiencies (3+4)

Power Manipulation (2) Int-4 (I feel like I will have a hard time succeeding at this one)

TBD (suggestions welcome)

IF you wish, boost it by placing Additional NWP slots into it. Add to that, rejuvenation and Harness subconscious are always needed.

Psionics

Rolled Wild Talents

> Astral Projection

> I get to choose one Psychoportive Devotion (Perhaps Dimension Door or Dimensional Walk? Suggestions welcome)

So the DM let you roll wild psi ON TOP of being a psionic class?? Strange.

Edeldhur wrote: ↑Fri Apr 12, 2024 8:38 am

At level 2 I have

2 Disciplines (1+Metapsionics)

1 Science (Psychometabolic > Shadowform)

5 Devotions (4+Receptacle)

1 Defense Mode

PSPs 39 (math check welcome)

(work in progress...)

For the four other devotions. Cell adjust. Displace self. Cause sleep.

Storm11 wrote: ↑Fri Apr 12, 2024 8:53 am

Am not sure you gain much by adding fighter to the mix but if you want it it's all good.

Depending on hr's the DM is using, it may allow him to use shields (and thus the weapon/shield style) AND possibly even weapon spec..

Edeldhur wrote: ↑Fri Apr 12, 2024 8:38 am

Regarding NWP - There are some Athas specific ones I should probably take. I am trying to prioritize from:

Power Manipulation (2+3)

Heat Protection 1

Bargain 1

Water Find 1

Armor Optimization 1

Weapon Improvisation 1

Rejuvenation 1

Total is 12 , so I need to make some hard decisions :P

Heat protection, weapon and armor optimisation i'd get rid of. Rejuvenation and Tumbling imo are MUST haves.

Edeldhur wrote: ↑Fri Apr 12, 2024 8:38 am

Primary Discipline I am still not sure (Does it make a mechanical difference which one is the 'primary', or is it just the one I choose first?), need some time to look over the Psionics, haven't touched it in ages. Your suggestions are great though - I am looking for something to boost my scouting potential/utility, and my contribution to combat.

Healing in any form would be of course amazing. And I will definitely take Receptacle.

NEED those extra 39! :D

YES it does.

A) It limits what powers you can have elsewhere as you NEED To have more sciences and devotions in your Primary discipline, than any other.

B) Power manip (and iirc even a few metapsionic powers) Are limited to BOOSTING Your primary discipline.

Edeldhur wrote: ↑Fri Apr 12, 2024 8:38 am

I was also thinking - Is there any Psionic attack mode I could use? Like a mental blast kind of thing? That could go a long way in terms of contributing in combat?

Not with no Telepathic powers. BUT check out Storm's CJ for how useful he's made the "Cause sleep" power.

Code: Select all

Cause Sleep

Power score Wis-2

Initial cost 9psp

Maintenance cost 2/round

Range 20 yards

Preparation time 0

Area of effect 1 creature.

Prerequisites none

A psionicist with this power can cause other people to fall asleep by manipulating their body's natural rhythms. The victim receives a normal saving throw to avoid the effect, and if an Elf, it must also pass their "Sleep" resistance. This save is against spells. If the victim fails, they fall asleep until awakened by throwing water in the face, injury, or the psionist fails to pay the maintenance cost.

Note this power will NOT work on undead, even intelligent ones, animated creatures, or beings from Any other plane of existence.

The psionist has a -2 penalty to his power check if his intended victim has a reason to be "exceptionally awake" such as a guard on duty. He also suffers a -2 penalty if his victim is a monster of some kind. Thri-kreen and other insects can be placed into a temporary state of torpor with this power, but the psionist suffers a -4 to his power check.

Power score: The victim does not remember being put to sleep, and may continue to stay sleeping naturally after the psionist stops paying the maintenance cost.

20: The psionist falls asleep himself, for 2d6 rounds, or until someone wakes him.

Edeldhur wrote: ↑Fri Apr 12, 2024 12:59 pm

Bad news, Receptacle cannot be used because DM will go with the pre-req of Empower (10th level), so :P

In that case, make Telepathy your secondary discipline, just to get one psionic attack mode.. I LOVE Ego whip.

Well, what character do you want to play? And are you using character-trees? In most Dark-Sun games I've played, my character usually ends up dying, which leads me to take more risks, which, is probably the reason they die. I just make whatever I want to play (the last one, was a Halfling, "Cook", (thief)).

I agree with Paxferro. Play what you want and don't min/max or "fill a need." It sounds like the players are trying to min/max the heck out the game. Three Thri-Kreen? Might as well play a Thri-Kreen themed game at this point.

Would your DM allow 1 kit per class? If he would; Tunnel Rat for thief, tribal psionicist for Psionicist and... Myrmidon for fighter? or Wilderness Warrior? (Really fighter kits are the worst)

Unless you are playing Al Qadim, kits are explicitly one per PC.

Tribal Psionicists get a Wild Talent as normal, rolled after you've selected your starting psionic powers. Ask you DM how he's going to handle the Defense Mode limitation. In CPsiHB, psionicists gain defense modes automatically as they level (except for the Tribal Psionicist kit). In Revised, psionicists gain attack modes as they level, instead. But since using a defense mode in Revised actually makes things better for your attacker, you're better off never using one, so it doesn't matter anyway. And again, the attack modes do more damage to the attacker than the defender, so you shouldn't bother with them, either.

Could be a competitive-game: We had a few players that always needed to win against each other, the point, one time, they rolled d20s just to see who could get a higher-roll.

Is It Normal To See Entities? How Do I Overcome Fear?

Posted on November 5, 2025 by Xanth

Yes, it's "normal" to experience entities while projecting, but it's important to realize what they are and what they represent.

These entities are beliefs and aspects of your subconscious mind becoming interactable in an effort for your subconscious mind to teach you lessons about yourself. You're essentially scaring yourself with your own worst subconscious fears in an effort to rid yourself of them. You feel fear because you believe there is a chance that you can be hurt by them.

Well, that's simply not the case. You have experienced the non-physical every single night of your life and you've always woken up perfectly fine the next morning. You're projecting within Consciousness. Everything, including this physical reality, exists within that framework. Everything is part of the whole of consciousness. That includes these entities. There is only the whole of consciousness – why would consciousness want to hurt itself like that? It makes no sense.

It would be like your left hand (you) trying to harm your right ear (entity). Both your hand and your ear are part of you (the whole). You'd be hurting yourself.

So how do you overcome this? Just realize the truth – that you are in absolutely no danger what-so-ever. If you're currently experiencing entities and you feel you are in danger – that's because you BELIEVE you're in danger. As I said, you've projected each and every night of your life and you've always woken up perfectly safe the next day.

That red-eyed monster you're running into constantly isn't there because it's actually there – it's there because you have a subconscious issue you need to deal with relating to it. So gather your strength, realize you're not going to be hurt by whatever it does, and inspect it with curiosity instead. Shed light on it – do so literally if you need to.

Love is always greater than Fear. Curiosity is a much better state of mind to be in than being scared. Being fearful will keep you from projecting.

How To Deal With Distractions

Posted on October 29, 2025 by Xanth

We've all sat or laid down to meditate or practice our projections and as you're practicing your body keeps tossing all these distractions at you. You might get an itch or get a feeling like you need to move your legs, or you just need to swallow. These are all perfectly normal, but how you deal with them can mean the difference between just lying there for ages or projecting and exploring consciousness.

First, don't make a huge production of any distraction. Just quietly and slowly take care of it. If you need to scratch an itch, don't sit there and fight it. Nine times out of Ten you will fail and then you'll be disappointed. If you need to swallow, do so. For that, you can actually help prevent that from becoming a problem by only drinking water up until an hour or two before your practice session. Stay away from sodas and other drinks which might cause more saliva to build up than normal. If you need to move a leg, perhaps think about stretching a bit before you begin practicing.

A lot of people have issues with their eyes. They feel strange or they might start opening on their own. In both cases a good stretching of your eyes can really help relax everything. Circle them around to all extremes as comfortably as possible. Close them tightly and open them wide. Give them a good rub. Then do that cycle a couple more times. They shouldn't be an issue anymore.

Remember, it's very important that if you're dealing with any of these distractions while you're in the middle of practicing, then don't freak out. Stay calm and cool. You shouldn't lose too much of your focus. Eventually, the goal should be to be able to get up, go to the bathroom, then return to your practice without breaking your focus too much. That's the kind of relaxation and quiet, slowness you need when doing this.

Good luck!

Did I Just Have an OBE, a Lucid Dream, or an Astral Projection?

Posted on October 24, 2025 by Xanth

Well, actually none of those labels fit, because none of those labels are objective experiences within consciousness. You've never had a "dream" in your life. You've never had an "OBE" in your life. You've never had a "lucid dream" in your life. You've never had an "astral projection" in your life.

Then you might ask, "But, Xanth!! I've had dreams many times!" – NO, you've had what you thought were dreams based upon the pseudoscience of what you believe dreams to be. You've never had one.

So then what are dreams?

When you fall asleep at night and "dream", what you're actually doing is projecting your awareness (that thing which is the real you, which is currently projecting into this physical reality towards your physical body) from this physical reality to the non-physical. You're doing this unknowingly. That's all. That's called a non-physical dream awareness experience. Very straightforward. You experience the non-physical, you just don't know it. All of that experience is being driven 100% by your subconscious mind.

During that non-physical dream awareness experience, you stop for a second, while you're flying around and you realize, "Hey, wait a minute... I can't fly! I must be dreaming!!" It's at that point you've gained some more awareness. Your conscious mind has been kindled a bit and is starting to ask questions and that is starting to push your subconscious mind aside – you're now having a non-physical lucid awareness experience. You are now consciously operating non-physically through your subconscious mind. That's what makes the non-physical so malleable and responsive to your thoughts during non-physical lucid awareness experiences. At this point, you still might not remember who you truly are, you're still going along with the scene a bit, but you know, like, you can fly now and you can go anywhere you want.

So you're now lucidly aware while non-physical. You still don't have that full waking awareness, that sense of knowing who you are and what you are (ie: a human sleeping in their bed with all the memories of who you are in place). So you stop for a second and start to question where are you right now? How did you get where you currently are? Where are you currently going? Stopping and placing your entire awareness upon these questions brings forth (as long as you're successful) your full waking awareness. You are now experiencing the non-physical with your full waking awareness, that is a non-physical astral awareness experience. You've now successfully pushed aside your subconscious mind and are experiencing the non-physical with the same level of awareness which you have during your normal physical daily life. THAT is what "astral projection" is. Now, unlike when you were lucidly aware, you will now find it much harder to manipulate the environment around you. Exactly as you can't manipulate the environment while you're physically awake. Your conscious mind is in full control and you've pushed your subconscious mind back into the background.

Each of these levels (dream awareness, lucid awareness & astral awareness) all feel completely different and separate from each other. This is why people misinterpret their experiences as taking place in different "places". They don't, they're all taking place in the "non-physical", the only thing which separates all these experiences is YOU and how aware you are.

So now how does this relate back to this physical reality experience? Well, remember, you are a bit of consciousness called an awareness. That awareness projects into this physical reality towards your physical body. That means that this physical reality is nothing more than one of the infinite number of realities out there within consciousness. Which also means that those different levels of awareness also apply HERE to your "waking" physical life. Your normal operating awareness here while you're physically awake is one of an "astral awareness". It's your normal operating "waking awareness".

Have you ever drank a bit too much one night and can't remember what you did that evening? Well, you essentially drank yourself into a "dream awareness". There are many other correlations between the physical experiences and non-physical experiences, because it's all just experience within consciousness.

So the question isn't what kind of experience did I have, it's what state of awareness do you have during those experiences. Projection isn't what you do or where you go, it's a state of mind that you ARE.

Are You Actually "Exiting" Your Body?

Posted on October 17, 2025 by Xanth

There is a direct answer to this question – no.

You're not exactly a spirit in a body. It's more that your awareness, which is part and parcel, part of consciousness as a whole, is focused towards this physical reality and your specific physical body.

If you've ever read Robert Monroe's third and final book, "Ultimate Journeys", you'd know that in that book he shares the discovery he made regarding what he calls "Phasing". This is a concept further investigated by Frank Kepple.

The concept of Phasing is one of smoothly transitioning your awareness from this physical reality to a non-physical reality, with little to no break in awareness.

What this proves is that "exiting" your body simply isn't a thing. It's just another belief based experience, like the silver cord, which one sheds along their journey of projection.

It's about learning that you aren't a physical being at all.

How does this knowledge help us with learning to project? Well, if you don't have to crawl out of a body, then you can now shift your perception to a truth instead of just a belief.

So why do people feel like they get "stuck" while trying to "exit"? Who knows. At the point you're separating, you're literally already non-physical. You're a non-physical awareness trying to climb your way out of a non-physical representation of your physical body. Sounds silly, right?

So instead, just stop whatever you're doing, forget that you're stuck (because you're not), then close your eyes and start to visualize whatever it is you want to do or go.

You will find yourself there. 👍

The Nature of You and This Physical Reality

Posted on October 17, 2025 by Xanth

You are a bit of consciousness called an awareness. That awareness projects to this physical reality towards your physical body. When you fall asleep at night that awareness projects to the non-physical. We humans incorrectly call that act dreaming.

Your entire existence is a projection. Every moment you're experiencing anything is a projection. Be it fully awake or fast asleep.

"We incorrectly call that dreaming".

Basically, you've actually never had a dream in your entire life – not a single person or being haa. What you've mistakenly called a dream is actually a projection into the non-physical, but your awareness is at what I call a "dream awareness" level. Essentially, this means that your subconscious mind is in full control of the experience.

The moment you gain the knowledge that you are experiencing the non-physical, you've now bumped up your awareness to a "lucid awareness" level. This means that your conscious mind has some control, but is acting through your subconscious mind.

The moment when you have the same awareness as you do while awake, called your waking awareness, you've now further bumped up to the "astral awareness" level. You are now fully aware while being non-physical. This is your conscious mind being in full control, and your subconscious mind has receded completely. This is also your normal state of being when you are physically awake.

Each of these levels come with very different feelings and experiences. The more you go through the levels, the more clarity you have.

So this physical reality is nothing more than one of the infinite number of realities out there within consciousness. We have just been lucky enough to be born into this reality in order to more intimately experience it.

You are everything and everything is you. This is why things like demons and such simply don't exist outside of your own subconscious mind.

Consciousness is like an ocean. You are a wave that arises from that ocean, exists for a short time, then returns to the ocean.

What is Astral Projection?

Posted on January 3, 2025 by Xanth

I cannot answer this question without first answering the question, "What is this physical reality?", because the answers are so interconnected.

I tell you people this: You are a bit of consciousness called an “awareness”. That awareness projects towards this physical reality, towards your physical body. You are – literally – consciousness projecting.

When you fall asleep at night, that awareness then projects to “somewhere else”. I usually call this “somewhere else” the non-physical. We humans incorrectly call that act “dreaming”. It’s not, it’s simply you projecting your awareness to the non-physical, yet doing so unaware – I call it having a “dream awareness”.

So then what is “Astral Projection”?

When most people say they want to experience an Astral Projection, what they’re unknowingly actually saying is that they want to experience the “non-physical”, but with the same awareness they have during their waking life. I call that your “waking awareness”. It’s the knowledge of who you are, what you are, with all of your physical life memories intact. When you are non-physical AND you have your full waking awareness, then you have what I call an “astral awareness”.

So, Astral Projection is then experiencing the non-physical with an astral awareness.

Well then, so what is a Lucid Dream?

What most people call a “lucid dream” is an experience in the non-physical, but the only thing you know is that you are non-physical. This is you having a “lucid awareness”.

EVERYTHING is a projection. How it’s labeled isn’t based upon some subjective experience of where you think you are – it’s based upon how much awareness you have in relation to your waking, physical life.

Furthermore, the level of your awareness is directly related to the amount of subconscious control your experience has.

With a dream awareness, your subconscious mind is 100% in control of your experience. Your subconscious mind is completely driving your experience and since you don’t know any better, you’re just going along with whatever is happening.

With a lucid awareness, your conscious mind has now come into the picture a bit. This seems to be why you can control and manipulate what is going on around you. You are semi-directing what your subconscious mind is generating.

With an astral awareness, your conscious mind is now in 100% complete control. Your subconscious mind has been pushed to the back burner, sort to speak. You can interact with consciousness on a more complex level.

Does this make sense?

Sleep Paralysis – What do I do!?

Posted on May 10, 2022 by Xanth

One of the most asked questions I see is in regards to Sleep Paralysis (SP). People tend to get stuck at this point.

First, there's the fear factor – this is a completely self-created aspect of it. The first thing you need to do is to realize that any “scary” thing you're currently experiencing while in SP is being completely driven by your own mind. So the next thing to do is to ground and center yourself – gain control over your experience. Stay calm and relaxed, perhaps also think about something positive.

Next, realize that when you're experiencing SP you're ALREADY projecting. If somebody was to look at your physical body while you're in sleep paralysis, they would just see you sleeping peacefully – or, depending on what you're experiencing, it might look like you're having a nightmare.

Before all this happens, before you even go to sleep (especially if SP is something you experience often), have a goal set in your mind for what you want to achieve during a projection. Then, once you find yourself in SP, ground and center yourself and think of positive things, then shift your focus away from the paralysis part (because, honestly, that's the most scary part of this) and focus ENTIRELY upon your goal for projecting. It could be something like experiencing a new reality, or perhaps you want to speak with your spirit guides, or view your akashic records. The idea of focusing on this goal is that you're setting your mind to something BEYOND the paralysis part.

Think about how you do things in this physical reality while you're awake... say you're sitting on the couch watching tv and you become thirsty. You don't think about every small action it takes for you to quench that thirst... you just get up, go to the kitchen and grab something to drink. You're thinking about the end goal more than anything, your body just makes it happen.

Well the same holds true in your projections too. We can use this knowledge now to get past your sleep paralysis and back to exploring reality. Enjoy!

Post Focus! Throat Chakra and Astral Projection!

Posted on July 16, 2016 by Xanth

http://www.astralpulse.com/forums/welcome_to_astral_projection_experiences/question_about_the_throat_chakra-t46700.0.html;msg362781#msg362781

Referencing the above post, someone asked the following about their Throat Chakra and Astral Projecting:

So I've been learning to astral project and I can tell that I am almost there. I have had some of the various physical sensations like vibrations and buzzing and have seen shadows of images flashing behind my eyelids. But I'm pretty sure that my throat chakra is holding me back, it's been blocked my entire life and I think I can tell because I have many of the physical symptoms that tend to be associated with it. Recently I have been doing a lot of work to try to strengthen and open that chakra along with the other six, when I get to the point in my meditation where I'm starting to astral project I feel a huge lump in my throat that makes it almost hard to breathe and I start salivating more than normal. Any physical movement like swallowing makes it go away. I've been working on mentally focusing on not doing anything that would disturb that sensation because I'm thinking that it is a sign that the chakra is opening.

Has anyone else had this experience and if so can anyone help me understand what is happening and what I should do?

Thank you all.

My response:

From your post... I can tell you this:

You have no issues with your throat chakra.

You BELIEVE you have issues with your throat chakra, and that belief is all that's holding you back.

You're well-spoken and communicate effectively. You have no issues with your throat chakra.

With that said, stop worrying so much about stuff like needing to swallow. Just do it. Do you worry this much when you fall asleep at night? Probably not. You just lie down and fall asleep. Well, projecting isn't any different. You lie down and "just project". If you need to scratch an itch, do it. If you need to swallow, do it. Do it calmly and gently so you don't break yourself too much out of your state of mind, but just do it.

I can meditate, get really deep and into it... then, UH OH! I have to go to bathroom... It's not a problem. You open your eyes, calmly and quietly get up, calmly and quietly go to the bathroom, do your stuff... then go and sit back down. This act of getting up shouldn't completely break your focus.

If a simple movement such as "swallowing" is breaking your focus, then you're worrying too much.

Just relax.

Astral Projection – What do to with the Vibrations?

Posted on February 18, 2016 by Xanth

How about this... ignore them! For the most part.

Acknowledge them only in the most minor way "Oh hey, vibrations, great..." then just continue doing what you were doing before they occurred.

Let me explain. Vibrations should ONLY ever be considered a signpost experience/sensation. They are one of those sensations you will experience during your practices which tell you that you're on the right path. Basically, they're a signpost that reads, "Keep doing what you're doing, because you're doing it right!!".

However, what most people (especially new people) end up doing is the COMPLETE OPPOSITE!!! They end up stopping the method/exercise they were doing which CAUSED the vibrations in the first place and then focus entirely on the vibrations instead of what they were doing!! It's like they're walking happily down their path towards Astral Projection, then someone pokes them with a vibrating stick and then walk off the path in order to investigate that stick. Well, you've just stopped walking towards projecting. Understand?

So, the signpost DOES NOT read, "Stop what you're doing and focus completely on me!" ...there's no better way to KILL your experience than to stop what you were doing to focus on the vibrations.

When you experience those vibrations, they're only telling you that you're doing things right. That's it. Just give them a mental nod and continue walking calmly down the path you're on. You now know you're on the correct path, BUT you still need to continue walking down that path if you're to actually project. So, in order to continue walking down that path... just keep doing what you were doing which brought on the vibrations in the first place.

You're so close.

How to Access The Akashic Records or Contact Your Spirit Guides

Posted on December 23, 2015 by Xanth

What most people have to realize is that the "akashic records" isn't a place... it actually isn't any "THING" at all. It's not a "place" which you "go to". It's more akin to a huge database which collects and records data. Consider it a record of everything that HAS happened and everything that COULD HAVE happened... along with a potential for anything that COULD happen in the future. But mostly the first two things, because those are the more concrete things which can be recorded.

First off, remember... everything is consciousness... and that means YOU ARE PART OF CONSCIOUSNESS TOO! As such, this means that you always, at anytime, have direct access (although it might not seem that way at times) to it. All you need to do is learn to listen to it.

Through our non-physical experiences (what humans subjectively call a "dream", "lucid dream" or "astral projection", or any of the various other labels we use -> because, meh, they're all the same thing anyway) we have more direct access to this information. While we're experiencing this physical reality, we DO have direct access to it as well, but it's only accessible through the same filters which our consciousness currently experiences this physical reality through. Meaning, you have to put up with all the interpretations and snap judgments your consciousness makes on a secondly basis. So, how do you go about to do this?

FIRST, you meditate... focus your mind. Unless, that is, you're a person who is always in a focused state of mind... then you can kind of just shift your attention towards that focus.

But let's face it, most people are absent minded these days. So, meditate... focus your mind for a few minutes... push away as much physical-ness from your awareness as you can. THEN, ask your question. Say it out loud... think it... do whatever you want... just make sure the Intent behind your question is strong and with a powerful purpose. THEN, sit back and wait for an answer.

This is the most important part of this process... your answer will most likely NOT be something verbal. Don't get me wrong, it COULD come to you in a neatly verbal reply which you "hear", but it probably won't. As such, you need to listen intently to your body.

The answer could come as a change in temperature... a breeze... it could be in the form of a memory popping into your mind... the point here being, remain COMPLETELY OPEN to HOW the answer comes to you. Don't judge it, don't analyze it, just accept it into yourself, however it comes.

That's how you access this stuff while "physical". This can be used to do more than just gaining access to the Akashic Records, or contacting your Spirit Guides... you can do anything you want with this really. Speak with your Higher Self, talk to other people's Higher Selves... contact animal guides... your subconscious... anything. Keep in mind though, that all of those things are, pretty much, the same thing anyway.

Enjoy!

Perception Creates Your Reality

Posted on October 24, 2015 by Xanth

This is a great illustration of how your Perception creates your reality. And it doesn't just happen here physically...

When experiencing the non-physical, WHAT you experience is OBJECTIVE, HOW you experience it is SUBJECTIVE.

The shape in the middle bottom of the image represents what your non-physical experience ACTUALLY is... the two shapes on the end represent how you INTERPRETED the experience.

You can have two separate consciousnesses experience the same middle image, yet their interpretation of that experience could really end up in two completely different ways.

WHAT you experience is OBJECTIVE (the middle shape), HOW you experience it is SUBJECTIVE.

Is Astral Projection Just a Form of Lucid Dreaming?

Posted on September 3, 2015 by Xanth

A member of the Astral Pulse recently asked "Is Astral Projection just a form of lucid dreaming?"

Well, to answer this question, we need to ask three separate questions which are all intricately linked and yet also not linked at all.

Here are the THREE very important questions that need to be asked.

1. What is “dreaming”?
2. What is “lucid dreaming”?
3. What is “astral projection”?

Now, I have been studying this stuff for a while and at one point, I focused almost exclusively on the first question in order to answer the second and third question. So began my journey to figure out what we humans (aka: science) know about “dreaming” began.

What is Dreaming? I very quickly hit a roadblock when researching this question. What did I learn? I learned that humanity, LITERALLY, has absolutely no idea what “dreaming” is. We haven’t a clue. We have scientists who have provided educated guesses, but not a single human lives today or has ever lived who has been able to answer that question.

So... that kills question #1. The answer: We humans don’t know what “dreaming” is.

Question #2 and #3 are kind of unanswerable because we don’t know the answer to question #1.

So when you ask “is astral projection just a form of lucid dreaming?”, do you realize what you’re REALLY asking here?

You’re asking “is some random label of something we have absolutely no idea about, just a form of another random label of something we have absolutely no idea about?”. Most people love to compare dreaming to lucid dreaming and to astral projection, but you can’t do this. It makes no logical sense because if you don’t know what “dreams” are, then you can’t use it as a basis of comparison to anything else.

Funny, eh?

Now, I can answer #1, #2, AND #3. However, I can only answer it from my own personal experience of the non-physical... I’m not saying the answer is right, but I am saying that it comes from my own personal experience. I wrote the following article a few years ago to better explain:

<http://www.unlimitedboundaries.ca/2012/07/22/labeling-experiences-of-the-non-physical/>

Please read that article, and enjoy.

Why Astral Projections Feel “More Real” Than Physical Waking Life

Posted on January 28, 2015 by Xanth

Some people, especially individuals new to Projection, upon having their first Projection proclaim that it was “more real” than their usual physical reality experience. Let me try to explain how this sensation works.

If you really think about it for a second, saying that something is “more real” is a strange comparison to make with something else. If something is “real” then how can something else be “more” real? It’s either real or not real. It’s one of those statements that has no gray area. It’s very black and white, on or off, 1 or 0. The better way to describe these experiences is that when compared to your physical reality perception they are simply “different”. Why are they different? Because while you’re physically awake you’re experiencing this reality through the filters (5 senses) of your physical body.

When you’re projecting, you’re not using those 5 physical senses. Now, understand, for your ENTIRE LIFE up until now, you’ve been using those 5 physical body senses and they have formed your entire reality for as long as you can remember. You’ve become entirely used to how your physical body feels when experiencing this physical reality. So what’s different about it when you’re projecting? While projecting, for the first time in your experience, you’re using “other” senses/perceptions to experience the reality through.

So, what’s going on is that you’re experiencing a reality with different filters on, perhaps even LESS filters than you’re normally (physically) used to. This is why a Projection FEELS so “different”.

Let me try to put it another way. Have you ever bought a brand new pair of shoes? The first time you slip those shoes on, they feel very strange on your feet. Don’t they? They feel completely different because they’re filtering what your feet are feeling compared to your old shoes which were very familiar to you. It doesn’t make them any more or less “real”, it just makes your perception of them “different”. This “different” perception is all that’s occurring when you’re projecting. I’ve found that the “different” perception is also directly tied to “how aware” you are compared to your waking self. The more aware you are the “more real” people tend to describe their experiences.

I hope that helps a bit with understanding your experiences.

Astral Projection – Do Individual & Collective Areas of Consciousness Exist?

Posted on January 23, 2015 by Xanth

There are these non-physical concepts floating around that there are these “areas” of consciousness which are “individual” in nature, meaning it’s only you there experiencing it and “collective” in nature, meaning that it’s you experiencing the reality with many other individuals/awarenesses/entities/beings/etc. When you look at consciousness as a whole, you realize that this kind of separation is simply illogical. Allow me to explain.

By the very nature that everything is consciousness – everything is collective. There is only “everything”. The simple fact is that the individualness you experience on a daily basis (the idea that you are separate from everyone else) is an illusion. So when people have a projection and they seem to be in a reality all by themselves, or they have what they will arbitrarily label as a lucid dream, they come to the conclusion that they were within some individual area of consciousness which is only for them and them alone.

There's only your perception of individual and collective experiences. The difference is like standing in a crowded room with a blindfold that blocks all light from your eyes and ear plugs that block all noise from your ears and then making the, obviously plain as day assumption that you're all alone. Your perception says that since you can't see or hear anyone else that you were all by yourself, even though standing all around you are these other individuals. That's how the non-physical / consciousness kind of works.

You're never alone. You only perceive yourself to be because that how you're currently interpreting the reality that you're experiencing. Someone / something could be standing right in front of you and you'd never see them because you just don't perceive them.

This is also what I mean when I say that WHAT you experience is Objective, but HOW you experience it is Subjective. So how do you experience something closer to how it's Objectively presented? You need to keep yourself grounded and centered. This will remove as much subjectiveness as possible which is being fueled by your own awareness. Even then, if you're able to do that, you still might not ever experience something 100% objective as it's really presented.

How to Design your own Effective Astral Projection Technique

Posted on January 21, 2015 by Xanth

How can you design your own, more effective Projection method? I'll explain and hopefully walk you through the process.

I had posted a while back a PDF which had something like 100 different methods for achieving a Projection in it. Well, yes, there were 100 different methods, however they were ALL a variation of one single method. Nice, eh?

When you understand that every single projection method out there is simply a variation on a theme, you can then begin to understand how to fashion your own method OR find one that has already been written which will work best for you.

What you need to find is your “Focus”. This is the thing that you'll be focusing your attention on to the exclusion of everything else. You're basically going to make this one thing the point of your focus so that everything else around you, everything physical drops away. This is when the Projection-reflex occurs.

First, let's talk about a couple methods and I'll explain what their "Focus" is and why they work.

I'll start with the famous "Rope Method". As you're lying down, you imagine a rope hanging down above you around your chest level. The point of it is to take your imaginary hands (astral hands), reach up with them, grab the rope and pull. This act should eventually cause you to Project.

So what's really going on here? Is the pulling on this imagination rope really "loosening your astral body" (as others would suggest)? Metaphorically, yes. Realistically, no. The act of using your imagination to create these hands which reach out, grab and pull on this imagination rope is the FOCUS of this particular method. You are essentially using this visualization as your focus, which when you do this to the exclusion of everything else going on around you causes the Projection-reflex to trigger.

Ok, the next one we'll look at is my own Noticing Exercise which I provide in my free book "My Astral Projection Truth: What is Astral Projection and How To Do It". In the Noticing Exercise you lie down, close your eye"http://dl.dropbox.com/u/39504726/Phasing_Primer.pdfs and then just look out into the blackness caused by closing your eyes. At that point, you're to draw your attention towards any "changes" you see happening in that blackness. Allow your attention to draw towards anything, however minute it may seem. When you begin to see changes occur, move your attention towards it more and more, investigate it as deeply as you can.

So what's really going on with this exercise? The act of bringing your awareness towards the changes going on within the blackness is the FOCUS for this. When you do this exercise and you focus on those changes to the exclusion of everything physical around you, you will trigger the Projection-reflex.

Give me any AP/OBE/LD/etc method/techniques/exercise and I'll let you know what the Focus of that technique is. The only exception is that this Focus stuff only relates to methods/techniques/exercises where the goal is a Projection from a fully conscious, awakened state.

If you can find a good Focus that will work for you, then it'll keep your awareness engaged. The Focus can, literally, be anything you want. It can even be something on or about your physical body. Some people would say that's an issue because it would keep your focus on your physical body. It's not an issue as long as you can use that Focus in an effort to push everything else physical away from your awareness. The goal is to remove your awareness from this physical reality. Or another way to put it is that you're looking to make it so that your five physical reality senses are no longer "processing" input from your environment.

So what should your Focus be? As I said, it can be anything you want as long as it's engaging and it can hold your attention for extended periods of time. We've already discussed how the Rope Method and the Noticing Exercise work and what their Focus is. Try to pick something that's of interest to you. For myself, I (used to) train in Yoshinkan Aikido, so I would visualize myself doing that martial art. I'd visualize myself doing the movements, feeling everything as I would if I was really practicing it. It worked great as it's something I enjoyed doing, so it would hold my attention. What I would find is that as I was doing this visualization, I'd find myself in a dojo actually practicing it, like I was physically there standing on the mats in the middle of whatever technique I was performing at the time. That's Projection.

You could use something Visual. I've seen people use a candle flame. You stare into a real, physically lit candle until the point when you close your eyes you can see an afterimage of the flame. Then you focus on that afterimage. You could also use something making sound. If you have a fan going, you can focus on the sound of the fan makes. You can even do an open eyed Focus where you focus on something across the room, say a teddy bear on a shelf. As you focus on it to the exclusion of all else going on, allow your eyes to fall shut. Eventually, if you're focused enough on it, you'll trigger the Projection-reflex.

You can use full visualizations like I suggest in the Mental Rundown exercises from my book. If you can engage all of your senses within a scene you create, then that too is a great Focus with which to trigger the Projection-reflex. For that, I like to take walks down at the local beach front. Very relaxing to me. Although, you could also do anything you want. Do you enjoy canoe trips? Do a visualization where you ride in a canoe down a river. This kind of visualization works best when you use a memory of something you've already done. This allows your Focus to be created very strongly, because you don't have to guess what something feels like.

A more basic example of this is visualizing yourself in an elevator going up and down. If you use a Mental Rundown like this as your Focus, then try to make sure there's some sort of incorporation of "movement" in it. I find that helps greatly in triggering the Projection-Reflex.

Anyway, that's about it for now! Feel free to PM me on the forums, email me, or drop a comment here if you wish to discuss what Focus works best for you. I'm more than happy to help you come up with something!

Societal Intent

Posted on November 14, 2014 by Xanth

This article was posted today on the Toronto Star, I wanted to comment on it.

http://www.thestar.com/opinion/public_editor/2014/11/14/the_incivility_of_online_comments_public_editor.html

I've mentioned some of this before, but it never hurts to repeat things again and again!

There's a thing called "Intent", I speak about it a lot in terms of spirituality and astral projection. What is the Intent behind the action you're doing... is it positive or negative. This is on a personal level. Each action that each of us does throughout our lives has an Intent behind it.

Likewise, society as a whole also has an Intent... every action that plays out on a larger scale, such as our interactions between each other is the "Societal Intent". Part of living and growing spiritually is purifying your Intent so that the choices you make are based more on a positive Intent than a negative Intent. As each person purifies their own Intent... the Societal Intent also becomes purified just a little bit more. What this really means is that how we treat each other online in an anonymous situation is directly reflective of our Societal Intent.

When I say "purified", I mean that you begin to make choices not for self-serving or greedy reasons... but you make a choice because it's just the right thing to do. For example, the famous "wallet scenario": You see someone in front of you drop their wallet and not notice... you pick it up and you...

1. After noticing that a few other people around you see you pick it up, you figure you might as well give the wallet back or others might think you're stealing.
2. Or... you pick up the wallet and immediately give it back to the owner.

In both scenarios, you end up doing the right thing... you give the wallet back to it's owner. The question is in WHY did you do it. What was your Intent behind the action of giving the wallet back?

In the first one, you gave it back because you were fearful of the reaction of others around you. In other words, you acted out of fear... fear that your reputation would be tarnished or worse.

In the second one, there's not an eyelash batted... you give it back without a second thought, because it's just the right thing to do. You don't even have to think about it.

There's a measuring stick here...

If you have to think about why you're doing an action, then chances are good that it's not coming from a good place.

It's also the difference between ACTING nice and BEING nice. The first you're ACTING nice. The second you're BEING nice.

That's not to say that the first one is such a bad thing... if you want to focus on growing spiritually, then you have to start somewhere. When you do it enough, acting nice eventually (usually) leads to being nice. It's hard to change our thinking and perception of things, but it's entirely possible and is well worth it. J

Kasina / Laxman – Light and Sound Machine Program
Posted on November 11, 2014 by Xanth
Hi everyone!

I wanted to share with you this program for the Kasina and the Laxman light and sound machines.

It's one of the best programs I've used on my Kasina. It provides a very solid non-physical focus in order to project with.

Give it a shot and let me know how you like it!

If you have a Kasina, I like to use the Biomarkers program first... then jump into this one. Leaves me in such a great state!

You can download it from the device appropriate links below.

Post Focus! After 20 years my OBEs have stopped!

Posted on July 18, 2014 by Xanth

I haven't done one of these in a while so I thought I'd start them back up again! Post Focus!

There was a post made on the Astral Pulse today by Alex-Anderson, where he speaks about having many what he labels as "OBEs" during his life, but now recently, within the last couple years, that has apparently stopped. He goes on to say that he does have many, what he labels as "lucid dreams" though. Which is great! And I'll explain!

First, this is his post:

Guys this is driving me crazy, I had probably about at least 3 or more OBEs per week for many years/decades, and my experiences became very mature and controlled in the latter years, but for some reason they stopped suddenly about 2 years ago.

Since then external factors such as a new position at work (higher workload + stress) and the birth of my twins could be contributing factors undecided, but nonetheless I feel somewhat depressed losing what I thought was a unique gift.

Every night at bed I'm thinking about possible OBE experiences but nothing ever avails (mine always happened from sleep). However I still have very detailed lucid dreams (as I did as a child prior to OBEs occurring), but so far it remains as is with nothing more than a lucid dream.

I remember reading a book stating that OBEs can just stop in mid/late adulthood and never return, has anyone ever had this and found some way to re-kickstart the experiences again?

My response:

The ONLY issue you have is that you're stuck on labels.

To me, those two quotes above (bolded sentences) are contradictory.

Here's what you're saying: "I used to have lots of OBE's, but within the last two years they've stopped... except now I have lots of Lucid Dreams."

Here's my perspective: "I used to have lots of projections, but within the last two years they've stopped... except now I have lots of projections."

An OBE IS a projection.

A lucid dream IS a projection.

Your ONLY problem is that you "believe" that they're different things... and, as I said, you're too hung up on labels.

Forget the terms you know. They're meaningless and worthless. If you're consciously aware that you're experiencing a reality which isn't this physical reality, then you're projecting.

What you need to do is learn to control what you're calling a "lucid dream" and dictate where and what you do in those experiences. They're ALL non-physical experiences. If you want to experience something resembling this physical reality while having what you're calling a "lucid dream", then just do it. You're only limiting yourself here. Place the intent. Do what you choose to do. Have control.

You have no problem here beyond what you believe you do. You haven't lost anything except time.

Astral Projection Sensations – Vibrations, Spinning, Etc

Posted on July 9, 2014 by Xanth

I've noticed over the last while that a lot of people try to focus on experiencing what is commonly referred to as the "Vibrations".

Why are they called that? Well, that's exactly what they feel like. It feels as if your entire body (or simply just parts of your body) are actually vibrating. Now, we know that it's not your actual physical body vibrating, because people can touch you and you'll feel normal even though YOU think your body is shaking on a 9.0 on the richter scale.

While it seems to be all and good for some people to experience the vibrations (and many other sensations), you shouldn't make them your goal... and I'll explain why.

It's like in the martial arts, say Karate for example, you're taught to punch THROUGH your target. You pick a point PAST your target and you aim for that. You don't aim for your target, because that's a much weaker strike, so by the time your fist is hitting the target, your punch is pretty much stopped.

What you're doing when you focus on achieving the vibrations (or any other non-direct projection goal) is that you're focusing so hard on experiencing these "sensations" that your aiming for the target (sensations) so when you finally hit that target, you're stopping. Aim beyond the sensations. Aim beyond what you THINK you need to achieve.

It's okay, and even good to have those symptoms/sensations... but they're mostly just a signpost that reads "Keep doing what you're doing, because you're doing it right". Just keep doing whatever it was that got you there. Continue focusing away from the physical. Don't stop to read the signpost.

void goes away
Help

When I was in the void state I noticed and it immediately went away. I went into the void again the same night and once I noticed, it was like fading away. How do I stabilize this to the point where I can shift?

maybe you can focus on other things, like keep affirming and focus on affirmations don't get distracted by the fact that you are reaching the void 💕 hope this helps

How do you enter the void? In the beginning of my journey I had no intention to attempt astral projection but the void being too unstable to do anything with it led me to attempt ap. I will affirm that I can stay in the void for as long as I like before I enter the void from the astral. My experience with the void was exactly like yours.

This literally happened to me last night, I don't know how to avoid ap's because thats not my main goal. I would say just try not to think about anything, because thats what first lead me into the void state.

Do you know anything about frank kepple's phasing technique? I was doing it similarly this way long before I knew anything about the phasing technique and it seems to be the most reliable way to enter the void and moreover staying in the void. For whatever reason focusing on the sensations that you want arise work even better than focusing on counting down or stuff like that. Like I used to imagine being shapeless and formless for the void state and induce vibrations that way. Intention also determines the outcome for sure. Anyway dropping the link for the phasing technique for you.

Also do you just empty your mind, keeping your mind blank and focus on breathing to enter the void? Any particular breathing technique that you do or any exercise at all?

To enter the void I just lay down in a comfortable position with none of my limbs touching(not required I don't think) and focus on my breathing.

Astral projection in my opinion it's just my brain's way of malfunctioning while I'm resting.

Successful AP

I've always been able to leave my body while I'm in sleep paralysis every night I can lay down calm myself breathe In and out and I can leave my body I can go through Windows of colors I can do all these crazy out-of-body experiences. But the funny thing is I know through and through that I'm not leaving my body in actuality this is just my brain's way of malfunctioning, while I'm meditating/sleeping. It's basically sleep paralysis with hypnopomic and hypnagogic hallucinations. And I'm able to actually look at these auto body experiences subjectively as a medical condition and nothing purely real even though it might feel 100% real while I'm doing it it is a figment of my imagination.

For me there are enough reports of veridical OBE's to suggest there is more to AP than simply brain activity, but each to their own as they say.

Believe it or not sleep paralysis hallucinations can almost always be remembered with vivid detail due to the fact that you're half awake half asleep while it's happening to you.

Yeah just last night I woke up from a horrible nightmare. And I sit up my bed and I start to see the clock light dimming and brightening dimming and brightening and I know I'm hallucinating and I'm just thinking to myself I don't want to fall back into a sleep paralysis state. And then all the sudden literally my whole ceiling blew up with fireworks brighter than my eyes could even handle. And I was just enjoying the fireworks at first until I got that feeling on my chest where I couldn't breathe properly. So I force myself to get out of bed to stop it from happening. Also I heard this voice as I was praying for God to protect me and the voice told me something that was a female sounding voice can't recall it right now but it was very random didn't make any sense but at the time I thought it was like words of God. I remember telling myself the words over and over again so that I could try and make sense of the words when I came to I wasn't asleep I was awake in bed hallucinating.

You believe in the physical universe. I get it. My first few times OBE I thought... this is just a dream total nonsense! Humbug.

Then I started meditating. Combining the two. And truly interacting with the astral.

And now I believe in god, the non observable universe, and maybe the moon is hallow. So... you know. Everyone is on a journey.

You're journey is no more wrong then mine, it's just our own. But I think, I have experienced what I have because I truly faced my fears. Like the fear of thinking crazy things. The fear of the unknown. Fear of my own bs. My ego. The ego is attached to so much. Things we can't see.

Anyway... happy journey

I've been wondering myself if AP is simply a more realistic type of lucid dreaming. However, I can't do either. So I have no personal experience to go by. Just a thought I've had.

Another thing is is with sleep paralysis it's not uncommon for people to have vivid hallucinations while they're awake in their bed or wherever you fall asleep and that's exactly what happened to me in those vivid hallucinations you can recall them days and hours and weeks later just like it was at the forefront of your mind because you were actually awake well these hallucinations were happening you. Instead of in a deep dream state.

Everybody in my family is like a metaphysical freak except me. Everybody in my family can astral project and meditate and do all those things and I never could and I always used to think it was just a bunch of nonsense until one day my sleep paralysis was getting to me and I was trying to figure out how to control it and voila Sparks flew literally I watch fireworks in my room while I was in my bed literally blasting off for about a good 45 minutes with my eyes open and then I started to practice it more and more and now I know what they're talking about but I can tell it's my brain malfunctioning it's not like I'm actually watching real fireworks it seems like they're real but they're not.

My point being I never ate was able to do any of this until recently and I'm 39 years old now

Sometimes the hallucinations can be very scary like this might be a little bit graphic but for example when I woke up one day and sat on the couch after I just gotten out of bed I was horny decided to grab my hand on my penis can I dozed back off and started to astral project after I came. This voice from behind me says hey hey you and I turn my head and it's my ex-boyfriend that I haven't been with for years and he jumps over the couch licks my you know what off my body and goes to spit it in my own mouth. And I immediately woke up as he was spiting it in my mouth and it was horrific. And the second I woke up I had forgotten all about the time where you did that to me in real life and it made me so grossed out and so upset that I actually saw my ex as the demon that he really is for the first time. And I can't believe he was actually able to attack me again when I was in such a vulnerable state years later meditating.

The Henry S. Olcott Memorial Library is a unique library bringing together the religious, philosophical, and spiritual traditions of the East and West, emphasizing the Ancient Wisdom tradition—Theosophy.

Founded in 1926 and named after Colonel Henry Steel Olcott, one of the founders of the Theosophical Society, the library is located at the Society's national center in Wheaton, Illinois. The library's collection of about 25,000 books, periodicals, video, and audio recordings is one of the finest in the country. Some of the many subjects included are Theosophy, Eastern philosophy and religions, comparative religion, esoteric Christianity, mysticism, mythology, psychology, parapsychology, meditation, healing, death and dying, astrology, and yoga.

Membership and Borrowing Information

Borrowing

Membership in the Theosophical Society in America includes library borrowing privileges (in person or by mail); however, members must register for this benefit with the library.

Nonmembers may register for library privileges for an annual fee of $100 (local borrower) or $120 (mail borrower).

Borrowing privileges are limited to persons residing in the United States. Please see the drop-down below for the Member Registration.

The Mail-in Registration can be printed out, filled out, signed, and sent to the library by postal mail or fax. Instructions are included on the form.

Borrowing By Mail

- Eligibility: The Henry S. Olcott Memorial Library can lend materials only to persons residing within the United States.
- Request Forms: Requests to borrow materials by mail should be made in writing. A pre-printed order form is available upon request. Registered users of the library may place borrowing requests directly from the Online Library Catalog.
- Due Date: The due date on material borrowed by mail allows two additional weeks for travel time. Materials must be returned to reach the library by the due date specified.
- Shipping: Borrowed materials may be returned in the same packaging in which they were received, by using the return labels provided. All materials may be shipped through some trackable means or insured which includes tracking. Borrowers pay the return postage.

* To ensure the timely availability of material to all our patrons, late fees are assessed on all past-due materials.

 A processing fee of $10 per title will be charged for any materials lost or damaged while in the patron's possession. Additionally, the patron is responsible for the item's replacement cost, plus applicable overdue fines.

My name's Julie and I've been running this site for around thirteen years. I format all the ebooks myself, as well as maintaining the website. This is an ongoing project that was born from a love of reading and a commitment to make ebooks that look good.

Notice

You may notice that some books on the site are no longer free. Over the past few months, donations have fallen sharply, and after much thought I've made the decision to charge a small fee for certain titles. This project has always been a labour of love, but the hours spent sourcing, reformatting, and preparing each ebook are considerable. Without some return, it simply became unrealistic to keep everything free.

I've run this site for 13 years, and I want it to continue - properly, sustainably, and with the same care it has always had. Unfortunately, there has also been a rise in people reselling my ebooks and even entire collections, which makes it even harder on a personal level to keep the project going as it was.

At the moment, only a few books have a modest fee, but over time (most likely months, it's slow going!) most titles will move to that model. I'll keep a selection of shorter works free, and seeing as right now, 98% of books are still free, donations remain very much appreciated (and needed!). I'll also continue adding new material. The recently introduced scanned-PDF section will grow as well; it allows me to share interesting books that would be too complex or time-intensive to transcribe, and these will remain free.

Thank you to everyone who has supported the site over the years. Your encouragement has meant more than you know. I hope you understand the need for this change, and I'm grateful for your continued support as the project moves into its next chapter.

The FAQ has been updated to include the new direction, in case you wanted a bit more info.

Thinking, Fast and Slow

Daniel Kahneman

The Guru To The Gurus At Last Shares His Knowledge With The Rest Of Us. Nobel Laureate Daniel Kahneman's Seminal Studies In Behavioral Psychology, Behavioral Economics, And Happiness Studies Have Influenced Numerous Other Authors, Including Steven Pinker And Malcolm Gladwell. In Thinking, Fast And Slow, Kahneman At Last Offers His Own, First Book For The General Public. It Is A Lucid And Enlightening Summary Of His Life's Work. It Will Change The Way You Think About Thinking. Two Systems Drive The Way We Think And Make Choices, Kahneman Explains: System One Is Fast, Intuitive, And Emotional; System Two Is Slower, More Deliberative, And More Logical. Examining How Both Systems Function Within The Mind, Kahneman Exposes The Extraordinary Capabilities As Well As The Biases Of Fast Thinking And The Pervasive Influence Of Intuitive Impressions On Our Thoughts And Our Choices. Engaging The Reader In A Lively Conversation About How We Think, He Shows Where We Can Trust Our Intuitions And How We Can Tap Into The Benefits Of Slow Thinking, Contrasting The Two-system View Of The Mind With The Standard Model Of The Rational Economic Agent. Kahneman's Singularly Influential Work Has Transformed Cognitive Psychology And Launched The New Fields Of Behavioral Economics And Happiness Studies. In This Path-breaking Book, Kahneman Shows How The Mind Works, And Offers Practical And Enlightening Insights Into How Choices Are Made In Both Our Business And Personal Lives--and How We Can Guard...Read more...

Mindset : The New Psychology of Success

Carol Dweck, Carol S. Dweck

Mindset is one of those rare books that can help you make positive changes in your life and at the same time see the world in a new way. A leading expert in motivation and personality psychology, Carol Dweck has discovered in more than twenty years of research that our mindset is not a minor personality quirk: it creates our whole mental world. It explains how we become optimistic or pessimistic. It shapes our goals, our attitude toward work and relationships, and how we raise our kids, ultimately predicting whether or not we will fulfill our potential. Dweck has found that everyone has one of two basic mindsets. If you have the fixed mindset, you believe that your talents and abilities are set in stone—either you have them or you don't. You must prove yourself over and over, trying to look smart and talented at all costs. This is the path of stagnation. If you have a growth mindset, however, you know that talents can be developed and that great abilities are built over time. This is the path of opportunity—and success. Dweck demonstrates that mindset unfolds in childhood and adulthood and drives every aspect of our lives, from work to sports, from relationships to parenting. She reveals how creative geniuses in all fields—music, literature, science, sports, business—apply the growth mindset to achieve results. Perhaps even more important, she shows us how we can change our mindset at any stage of life to achieve true success and fulfillment. She looks across a broad...Read more...

The Mountain Is You : Transforming Self-Sabotage Into Self-Mastery
Brianna Wiest

"This is a book about self-sabotage. Why we do it, when we do it, and how to stop doing it—for good. Coexisting but conflicting needs create self-sabotaging behaviors. This is why we resist efforts to change, often until they feel completely futile. But by extracting crucial insight from our most damaging habits, building emotional intelligence by better understanding our brains and bodies, releasing past experiences at a cellular level, and learning to act as our highest potential future selves, we can step out of our own way and into our potential. For centuries, the mountain has been used as a metaphor for the big challenges we face, especially ones that seem impossible to overcome. To scale our mountains, we actually have to do the deep internal work of excavating trauma, building resilience, and adjusting how we show up for the climb. In the end, it is not the mountain we master, but ourselves."-- Provided by publisher Read more...

First Time Caller
B. K. Borison

A hopeless romantic meets a jaded radio host in this cozy, Sleepless in Seattle-inspired love story from beloved author B.K. Borison. Aiden Valentine has a secret: he's fallen out of love with love. And as the host of Baltimore's romance hotline, that's a bit of a problem. But when a young girl calls in to the station asking for dating advice for her mom, the interview goes viral, thrusting Aiden and Heartstrings into the limelight. Lucie Stone thought she was doing just fine. She has a good job; an incredible family; and a smart, slightly devious kid. But when all of Baltimore is suddenly scrutinizing her love life—or lack thereof—she begins to question if she's as happy as she believed. Maybe a little more romance wouldn't be such a bad thing. Everyone wants Lucie to find her happy ending...even the handsome, temperamental man calling the shots. But when sparks start to fly behind the scenes, Lucie must make the final decision between the radio-sponsored happily ever after or the man in the headphones next to her. Read more...

I Who Have Never Known Men

Jacqueline Harman, Ros Schwartz (Translation), Sophie Mackintosh (Afterword)

WITH A NEW INTRODUCTION BY SOPHIE MACKINTOSH, MAN BOOKER PRIZE-LONGLISTED AUTHOR OF THE WATER CURE “It is surprising that a book with the psychological detail of a nightmare elicits in the reader feelings of such profound intensity.” — Le Monde “The delirium of I Who Have Never Known Men suggests the work of a feminine Kafka.” — Le Nouvel Observateur “For a very long time, the days went by, each just like the day before, then I began to think, & everything changed.” Deep underground, 39 women live imprisoned in a cage. Watched over by guards, the women have no memory of how they got there, no notion of time, & only vague recollection of their lives before. As the burn of electric light merges day into night & numberless years pass, a young girl - the fortieth prisoner - sits alone & outcast in the corner. Soon she will show herself to be the key to the others' escape & survival in the strange world that awaits them above ground. °°° Jacqueline Harpman was born in Etterbeek, Belgium, in 1929, & fled to Casablanca with her family during WWII. Informed by her background as a psychoanalyst & her youth in exile, I Who Have Never Known Men is a haunting, heartbreaking post-apocalyptic novel of female friendship & intimacy, & the lengths people will go to maintain their humanity in the face of devastation. Back in print for the first time since 1997, Harpman's modern classic is an important addition to the growing canon of feminist speculative literature. Ros Schwartz is an... Read more...

Lights Out: A Dark Stalker Rom-Com

Navessa Allen

“I don't need another kink.” That thought pops into my head whenever I pull up my favorite social media app, but alas, every time I scroll, I learn something new about myself, and another one is born. And yes, I know I'm responsible for what the algorithm shows me, but I'm trying to ignore that fact. Lately, my feed has been dominated by masked men. I've favorited videos with them dressed in full cosplay, decked out in futuristic military apparel, and wrapped up like ghouls. But more than anything else, my FYP is filled with shirtless men wearing ghost masks. Bonus points if they're heavily tattooed, wielding a knife, or covered in fake blood. At night, I dream about being chased by them, of them catching me and doing deliciously dark things to my more than willing body. I never could have guessed that by sending one drunken text, those dreams would become my new reality. Read more...

Boundaries Updated and Expanded Edition: When to Say Yes, How to Say No To Take Control of Your Life

Dr. Henry Cloud, Dr. John Townsend

Boundaries is the book that's helped over 2 million people learn when to say yes and know how to say no in order to take control of their lives. Does your life feel like it's out of control? Perhaps you feel like you have to say yes to everyone's requests. Maybe you find yourself readily taking responsibility for others' feelings and problems. Or perhaps you focus so much on being loving and unselfish that you've forgotten your own limits and limitations. Or maybe it's all of the above. In the New York Times bestseller, Boundaries, Drs. Henry Cloud and John Townsend help you learn when to say yes and know how to say no in order to take control of your life and set healthy, biblical boundaries with your spouse, children, friends, parents, co-workers, and even yourself. Now updated and expanded for the digital age, this book continues to help millions of people around the world answer these tough questions: Can I set limits and still be a loving person? What are legitimate boundaries? How do I effectively manage my digital life so that it doesn't control me? What if someone is upset or hurt by my boundaries? How do I answer someone who wants my time, love, energy, or money? Why do I feel guilty or afraid when I consider setting boundaries? How do boundaries relate to mutual submission within marriage? Aren't boundaries selfish? You don't have to let your life spiral out of control. Discover how boundaries make life better today. Plus, check out Boundaries family collection... Read more...

Man's Search for Meaning

Viktor Emil Frankl

A book for finding purpose and strength in times of great despair, the international best-seller is still just as relevant today as when it was first published. "This is a book I reread a lot . . . it gives me hope . . . it gives me a sense of strength." — Anderson

Cooper, Anderson Cooper 360/CNN This seminal book, which has been called “one of the outstanding contributions to psychological thought” by Carl Rogers and “one of the great books of our time” by Harold Kushner, has been translated into more than fifty languages and sold over sixteen million copies. “An enduring work of survival literature,” according to the New York Times, Viktor Frankl’s riveting account of his time in the Nazi concentration camps, and his insightful exploration of the human will to find meaning in spite of the worst adversity, has offered solace and guidance to generations of readers since it was first published in 1946. At the heart of Frankl’s theory of logotherapy (from the Greek word for “meaning”) is a conviction that the primary human drive is not pleasure, as Freud maintained, but rather the discovery and pursuit of what the individual finds meaningful. Today, as new generations face new challenges and an ever more complex and uncertain world, Frankl’s classic work continues to inspire us all to find significance in the very act of living, in spite of all obstacles.
